

BRITISH MOBILIZE TO CRUSH TURKS

Land, Sea and Air Forces Ready to Strike.

SHIPS, CANNON MASSED

Panderna Is Ablaze With Many Casualties; Greeks Lose 6000 Guns.

(Continued From First Page.) Of the British Atlantic fleet are on their way to join the naval forces in the Dardanelles.

LONDON, Sept. 20.—(By the Associated Press.)—Panderna, on the southern shore of the Sea of Marmora, is burning and there are numerous casualties, the French minister of marine announced in Paris tonight on information from Admiral du Mesnil, commander of the French naval forces in the near east.

The British headquarters at Chanak have advised the Christian, Moslem and Jewish civilians to evacuate, as the town may be shelled by the Turks, says a dispatch from the Times' Dardanelles correspondent under yesterday's date.

The Turks in their recent assault upon the Greeks captured 1000 modern field guns, 5000 machine guns, with enough ammunition for them for a two years' campaign, according to French official advices from Kemalist headquarters received today.

PEACE CONFERENCE CALLED

Eight Powers Will Act to Prevent War in Near East.

PARIS, Sept. 20.—(By the Associated Press.)—Definite assurance that there will be no peace conference for the settlement of the Turkish problem, the chief of the staff of the allied meeting this afternoon, Premier Poincare, Lord Curzon and Count Sforza were the participants in the conference.

The eight interested powers, including the Angora government, will gather around the peace table within three weeks, probably at Rome or Venice, and make a new treaty with Turkey to take the place of the treaty of Sevres.

The eight nations called together are Great Britain, France, Italy, Japan, Turkey, Greece, Roumania and Jugoslavia.

While the United States was not included among the eight countries to participate, it is regarded as certain that a mere intimation from the American government that it desires to attend even as an observer, will be followed by an instant invitation from the allies.

Lord Curzon, M. Poincare and Count Sforza were in complete accord that there should be no war in the near east, but Lord Curzon asserted that Great Britain favors the presence of a strong fleet in the straits was necessary to maintain freedom of passage.

While insisting on what they term their legitimate claims to eastern Thrace, Adrianople and Constantinople, the Turks are understood to have informed M. Poincare that they would consent to remain masters of Asia Minor until the conference had given consideration to these other claims.

BRITISH ARE SURROUNDED

20 Planes Reported Downed in Northern Mesopotamia.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service Copyright, 1922, by the Chicago Tribune.) CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 20.—With England definitely determined to fight in defense of Constantinople and with France as definitely decided not to partake of military or naval operations, the eyes of the allied military leaders are turned toward Russia.

The tone of all the proclamations published in the interior of Anatolia indicates that the nationalists are ready to carry through to a finish. At a banquet at Angora to Yusef Kemal on Sunday night Raouf Bey, president of the national assembly, said:

"Turkey has no desire to become a protectorate of any power. It is claimed that all the other British forces in northern Iraq have been surrounded or cut off from one another and that an airplane bombardment of the British planes having been brought down there lately. It is claimed that the British are preparing to evacuate Mosul. Emir Faisal has warned that if he accepts the British mandate for northern Iraq he will meet a worse fate than he met at Damascus.

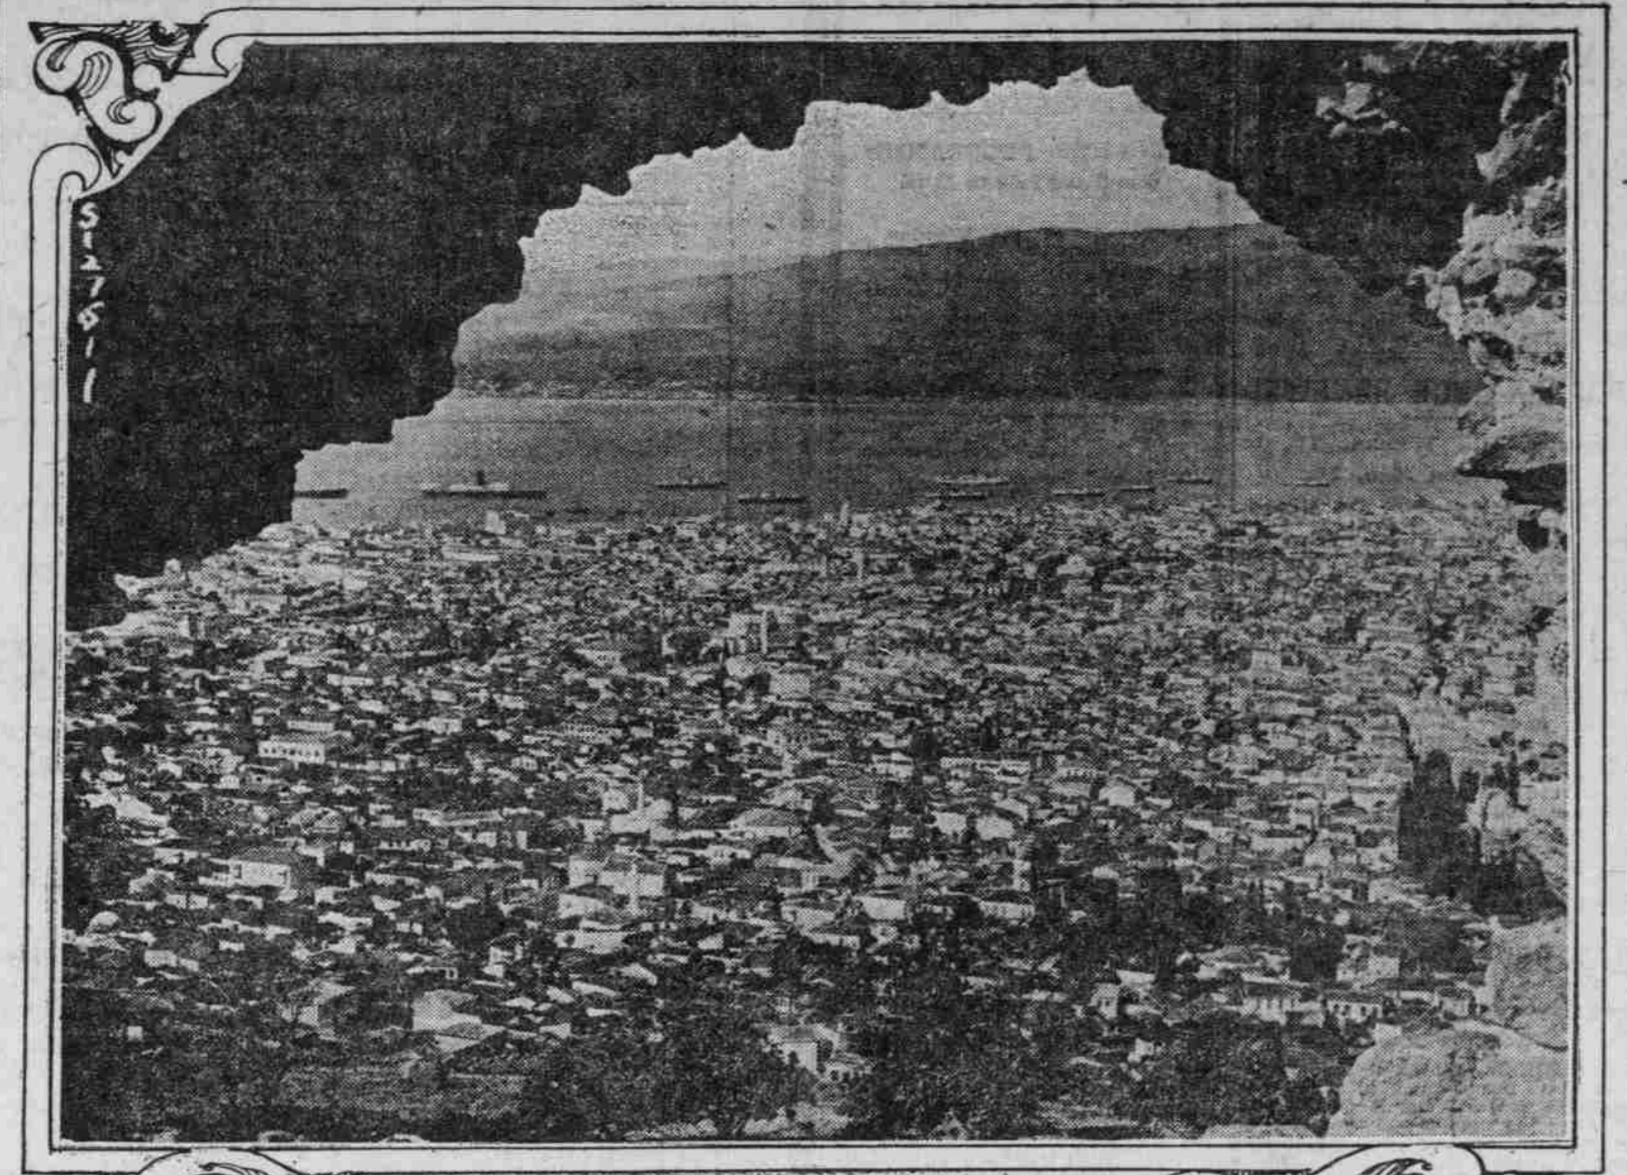

OUTLOOK THOUGHT BETTER

Renewed Alarms Concerning Developments Seem Allayed.

LONDON, Sept. 20.—(By the Associated Press.)—Beyond the fact that the result of Lord Curzon's conference at Paris with Premier Poincare was an agreement among the three allied powers, Great Britain, France and Italy, on the advisability of convening a peace conference, little has become known of today's developments in the near east crisis.

The sudden and unexpected call

GREAT CITY OF ASIATIC TURKEY CAPTURED AND BURNED BY TURKS, AND CONVERTED INTO PLACE OF HORROR WHEN VICTORIOUS MOSLEMS MASSACRED THOUSANDS.

PHOTOGRAPH SHOWS GENERAL VIEW OF SMYRNA.

In the photograph a general view of Smyrna, sometimes known as "The Eye of Asia," is shown. The picture is taken looking east from the mountains over Smyrna. This great city, just captured from the Greeks by the Turks, was put to the torch by the invaders and thousands of persons were butchered by the Turkish nationalist forces. Fire broke out first in the Armenian quarter and later spread, destroying the European quarter. The American consulate is reported to have been burned.

Copyright by Underwood & Underwood.

for a ministerial conference in London this afternoon, which led to a formal council, caused renewed alarms concerning possible critical developments, but these were allayed later, when, although no official communication was issued throwing light on the origin of the sudden conference, it was intimated that the situation instead of having undergone a change for the worse, might be considered much easier.

The assumption is that the council considered the projected peace conference and M. Poincare's explicit statement that under no circumstances would French soldiers be employed against the Kemalists.

Evidence that the British government has apprehensions that Kemal Pasha may attempt to invade the neutral zone is found in the anxiety the government displays to make clear that the Greeks at no time have been within the Chanak neutral zone.

This statement reveals the desire to prove that Kemal has no valid excuse to violate the neutral zone. That this anxiety is not misplaced is indicated in news dispatches from the Associated Press correspondent today that the Angora assembly has confirmed Kemal Pasha's dictatorship and accorded him a forehand in the present crisis and the report current in Constantinople that the Kemalists are preparing for an attempt on the straits before the end of the present week and before Great Britain is able to get up reinforcements.

AMERICANS ON DESTROYERS

Message Reports Fire at Smyrna Still Burning.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 20.—All Americans known to be in or about Smyrna, except Consul Harbes and two women named Blackler, have been taken aboard American destroyers in the harbor, according to a message from the destroyer Edsall dated September 17 and received at the state department today through Rear-Admiral Bristol at Constantinople.

ALLIES WATCHING RUSSIA

Danger of Bolshevik Attack Through Rumania Looms.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service Copyright, 1922, by the Chicago Tribune.) CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 20.—With England definitely determined to fight in defense of Constantinople and with France as definitely decided not to partake of military or naval operations, the eyes of the allied military leaders are turned toward Russia.

The tone of all the proclamations published in the interior of Anatolia indicates that the nationalists are ready to carry through to a finish. At a banquet at Angora to Yusef Kemal on Sunday night Raouf Bey, president of the national assembly, said:

"Turkey has no desire to become a protectorate of any power. It is claimed that all the other British forces in northern Iraq have been surrounded or cut off from one another and that an airplane bombardment of the British planes having been brought down there lately. It is claimed that the British are preparing to evacuate Mosul. Emir Faisal has warned that if he accepts the British mandate for northern Iraq he will meet a worse fate than he met at Damascus.

OUTLOOK THOUGHT BETTER

Renewed Alarms Concerning Developments Seem Allayed.

LONDON, Sept. 20.—(By the Associated Press.)—Beyond the fact that the result of Lord Curzon's conference at Paris with Premier Poincare was an agreement among the three allied powers, Great Britain, France and Italy, on the advisability of convening a peace conference, little has become known of today's developments in the near east crisis.

The sudden and unexpected call

arm. Tenino citizens took up his trail and police of Contraila and Chehalis were notified.

St. Johns Community Club Asks Better Traction Outlet.

Report of the investigation committee on street-car service for St. Johns and the immediate districts occupied the greater part of the session of the St. John's Community club held Tuesday night.

Members of the committee, which included J. O. Bailey, A. E. Jones, J. N. Edler and W. T. Fletcher, were unanimous in their censure of the service which the company provides for the residents of the district.

A social hour and short programme, which included several selections by the Whittney chorus, were held after the business meeting adjourned.

Kelso to Have New Hotel.

(Special.)—C. L. Smith, who has the contract for the construction of H. E. McKenney's hotel building, at the corner of Second and Church streets, has the excavation well under way for the structure which will be 50 by 100 and two stories in height. Work will begin as soon as possible.

Peacock Rock Springs coal. Diamond Coal Co. Bdwy 2037—Adv.

ONLY THREE DAYS MORE

William Fox's Big Screen Triumph

"A FOOL THERE WAS"

ESTELLE TAYLOR the 1922 Vampire

LEWIS STONE the 1922 Fool

—a dynamic drama of temptation — guilty love — and destroyed faith!

Matinees 25c; Nights 50c

COMING SATURDAY

One of the Really Big Screen Productions of the Silent Drama.

"IT'S A WHALE"

CHARLES RAY in His First Big United Artists' Production of Luxe.

"A TAILOR-MADE MAN"

THEY DON'T MAKE 'EM ANY BIGGER OR FINER.

100% John Hamrick

WASH. AT 11TH

100% John Hamrick

WASH. AT 11TH

100% John Hamrick

WASH. AT 11TH

100% John Hamrick

WASH. AT 11TH

100% John Hamrick

WASH. AT 11TH

WOMAN, 25, IS ATTACKED

OLYMPIA ASSAILANT FLEES INTO WOODS.

Lives of Housewife and Two Children Threatened; Citizens Begin Search.

(Special.)—An unmasked man entered the home of Mrs. M. O. Weldner, aged 25, of Olympia a few minutes before noon today, forced Mrs. Weldner into the bedroom, silenced her screams with a threat to kill her and her two small children and when she fought him he forced the contents of a small bottle of iodine down her throat.

When Mr. Weldner reached home he found his wife too ill to give alarm, lying in a stupor on her bed. Her condition aside from the nervous shock is not serious.

Police were notified immediately and citizen posse began scouring the woods east of the city. At 2 o'clock police headquarters received a telephone call from Mrs. W. W. Bostian, residing on a ranch on Pleasant Glade road, about two miles from the Weldner residence, stating that a man had threatened her with a club a few moments before, but had not advanced inside the fence. He disappeared into the woods back of the house, she said.

Police were notified immediately and citizen posse began scouring the woods east of the city. At 2 o'clock police headquarters received a telephone call from Mrs. W. W. Bostian, residing on a ranch on Pleasant Glade road, about two miles from the Weldner residence, stating that a man had threatened her with a club a few moments before, but had not advanced inside the fence. He disappeared into the woods back of the house, she said.

Police were notified immediately and citizen posse began scouring the woods east of the city. At 2 o'clock police headquarters received a telephone call from Mrs. W. W. Bostian, residing on a ranch on Pleasant Glade road, about two miles from the Weldner residence, stating that a man had threatened her with a club a few moments before, but had not advanced inside the fence. He disappeared into the woods back of the house, she said.

Police were notified immediately and citizen posse began scouring the woods east of the city. At 2 o'clock police headquarters received a telephone call from Mrs. W. W. Bostian, residing on a ranch on Pleasant Glade road, about two miles from the Weldner residence, stating that a man had threatened her with a club a few moments before, but had not advanced inside the fence. He disappeared into the woods back of the house, she said.

Police were notified immediately and citizen posse began scouring the woods east of the city. At 2 o'clock police headquarters received a telephone call from Mrs. W. W. Bostian, residing on a ranch on Pleasant Glade road, about two miles from the Weldner residence, stating that a man had threatened her with a club a few moments before, but had not advanced inside the fence. He disappeared into the woods back of the house, she said.

Police were notified immediately and citizen posse began scouring the woods east of the city. At 2 o'clock police headquarters received a telephone call from Mrs. W. W. Bostian, residing on a ranch on Pleasant Glade road, about two miles from the Weldner residence, stating that a man had threatened her with a club a few moments before, but had not advanced inside the fence. He disappeared into the woods back of the house, she said.

Police were notified immediately and citizen posse began scouring the woods east of the city. At 2 o'clock police headquarters received a telephone call from Mrs. W. W. Bostian, residing on a ranch on Pleasant Glade road, about two miles from the Weldner residence, stating that a man had threatened her with a club a few moments before, but had not advanced inside the fence. He disappeared into the woods back of the house, she said.

Police were notified immediately and citizen posse began scouring the woods east of the city. At 2 o'clock police headquarters received a telephone call from Mrs. W. W. Bostian, residing on a ranch on Pleasant Glade road, about two miles from the Weldner residence, stating that a man had threatened her with a club a few moments before, but had not advanced inside the fence. He disappeared into the woods back of the house, she said.

Police were notified immediately and citizen posse began scouring the woods east of the city. At 2 o'clock police headquarters received a telephone call from Mrs. W. W. Bostian, residing on a ranch on Pleasant Glade road, about two miles from the Weldner residence, stating that a man had threatened her with a club a few moments before, but had not advanced inside the fence. He disappeared into the woods back of the house, she said.

Police were notified immediately and citizen posse began scouring the woods east of the city. At 2 o'clock police headquarters received a telephone call from Mrs. W. W. Bostian, residing on a ranch on Pleasant Glade road, about two miles from the Weldner residence, stating that a man had threatened her with a club a few moments before, but had not advanced inside the fence. He disappeared into the woods back of the house, she said.

Police were notified immediately and citizen posse began scouring the woods east of the city. At 2 o'clock police headquarters received a telephone call from Mrs. W. W. Bostian, residing on a ranch on Pleasant Glade road, about two miles from the Weldner residence, stating that a man had threatened her with a club a few moments before, but had not advanced inside the fence. He disappeared into the woods back of the house, she said.

Police were notified immediately and citizen posse began scouring the woods east of the city. At 2 o'clock police headquarters received a telephone call from Mrs. W. W. Bostian, residing on a ranch on Pleasant Glade road, about two miles from the Weldner residence, stating that a man had threatened her with a club a few moments before, but had not advanced inside the fence. He disappeared into the woods back of the house, she said.

Police were notified immediately and citizen posse began scouring the woods east of the city. At 2 o'clock police headquarters received a telephone call from Mrs. W. W. Bostian, residing on a ranch on Pleasant Glade road, about two miles from the Weldner residence, stating that a man had threatened her with a club a few moments before, but had not advanced inside the fence. He disappeared into the woods back of the house, she said.

Police were notified immediately and citizen posse began scouring the woods east of the city. At 2 o'clock police headquarters received a telephone call from Mrs. W. W. Bostian, residing on a ranch on Pleasant Glade road, about two miles from the Weldner residence, stating that a man had threatened her with a club a few moments before, but had not advanced inside the fence. He disappeared into the woods back of the house, she said.

Police were notified immediately and citizen posse began scouring the woods east of the city. At 2 o'clock police headquarters received a telephone call from Mrs. W. W. Bostian, residing on a ranch on Pleasant Glade road, about two miles from the Weldner residence, stating that a man had threatened her with a club a few moments before, but had not advanced inside the fence. He disappeared into the woods back of the house, she said.

Police were notified immediately and citizen posse began scouring the woods east of the city. At 2 o'clock police headquarters received a telephone call from Mrs. W. W. Bostian, residing on a ranch on Pleasant Glade road, about two miles from the Weldner residence, stating that a man had threatened her with a club a few moments before, but had not advanced inside the fence. He disappeared into the woods back of the house, she said.

Police were notified immediately and citizen posse began scouring the woods east of the city. At 2 o'clock police headquarters received a telephone call from Mrs. W. W. Bostian, residing on a ranch on Pleasant Glade road, about two miles from the Weldner residence, stating that a man had threatened her with a club a few moments before, but had not advanced inside the fence. He disappeared into the woods back of the house, she said.

Police were notified immediately and citizen posse began scouring the woods east of the city. At 2 o'clock police headquarters received a telephone call from Mrs. W. W. Bostian, residing on a ranch on Pleasant Glade road, about two miles from the Weldner residence, stating that a man had threatened her with a club a few moments before, but had not advanced inside the fence. He disappeared into the woods back of the house, she said.

Police were notified immediately and citizen posse began scouring the woods east of the city. At 2 o'clock police headquarters received a telephone call from Mrs. W. W. Bostian, residing on a ranch on Pleasant Glade road, about two miles from the Weldner residence, stating that a man had threatened her with a club a few moments before, but had not advanced inside the fence. He disappeared into the woods back of the house, she said.

Police were notified immediately and citizen posse began scouring the woods east of the city. At 2 o'clock police headquarters received a telephone call from Mrs. W. W. Bostian, residing on a ranch on Pleasant Glade road, about two miles from the Weldner residence, stating that a man had threatened her with a club a few moments before, but had not advanced inside the fence. He disappeared into the woods back of the house, she said.

Police were notified immediately and citizen posse began scouring the woods east of the city. At 2 o'clock police headquarters received a telephone call from Mrs. W. W. Bostian, residing on a ranch on Pleasant Glade road, about two miles from the Weldner residence, stating that a man had threatened her with a club a few moments before, but had not advanced inside the fence. He disappeared into the woods back of the house, she said.

Police were notified immediately and citizen posse began scouring the woods east of the city. At 2 o'clock police headquarters received a telephone call from Mrs. W. W. Bostian, residing on a ranch on Pleasant Glade road, about two miles from the Weldner residence, stating that a man had threatened her with a club a few moments before, but had not advanced inside the fence. He disappeared into the woods back of the house, she said.

Police were notified immediately and citizen posse began scouring the woods east of the city. At 2 o'clock police headquarters received a telephone call from Mrs. W. W. Bostian, residing on a ranch on Pleasant Glade road, about two miles from the Weldner residence, stating that a man had threatened her with a club a few moments before, but had not advanced inside the fence. He disappeared into the woods back of the house, she said.

Police were notified immediately and citizen posse began scouring the woods east of the city. At 2 o'clock police headquarters received a telephone call from Mrs. W. W. Bostian, residing on a ranch on Pleasant Glade road, about two miles from the Weldner residence, stating that a man had threatened her with a club a few moments before, but had not advanced inside the fence. He disappeared into the woods back of the house, she said.

Police were notified immediately and citizen posse began scouring the woods east of the city. At 2 o'clock police headquarters received a telephone call from Mrs. W. W. Bostian, residing on a ranch on Pleasant Glade road, about two miles from the Weldner residence, stating that a man had threatened her with a club a few moments before, but had not advanced inside the fence. He disappeared into the woods back of the house, she said.

Police were notified immediately and citizen posse began scouring the woods east of the city. At 2 o'clock police headquarters received a telephone call from Mrs. W. W. Bostian, residing on a ranch on Pleasant Glade road, about two miles from the Weldner residence, stating that a man had threatened her with a club a few moments before, but had not advanced inside the fence. He disappeared into the woods back of the house, she said.

Police were notified immediately and citizen posse began scouring the woods east of the city. At 2 o'clock police headquarters received a telephone call from Mrs. W. W. Bostian, residing on a ranch on Pleasant Glade road, about two miles from the Weldner residence, stating that a man had threatened her with a club a few moments before, but had not advanced inside the fence. He disappeared into the woods back of the house, she said.

Police were notified immediately and citizen posse began scouring the woods east of the city. At 2 o'clock police headquarters received a telephone call from Mrs. W. W. Bostian, residing on a ranch on Pleasant Glade road, about two miles from the Weldner residence, stating that a man had threatened her with a club a few moments before, but had not advanced inside the fence. He disappeared into the woods back of the house, she said.

ONE WEEK Demonstration and Sale OF THE NEW A-B COMBINATION Buffet Range

$1.00 Sends It Home THEN $2.50 A WEEK ON THE BALANCE

Here is a wonderful new combination range—a new model produced by the A-B factory that is offered this week on very special terms of credit. It is an up-to-the-minute range in every way. It is beautifully finished in black enamel and white porcelain, and will instantly appeal to the woman who is particular about her kitchen.

It is a range for gas, wood or coal, with smooth black enamel body. The splashback, oven door, feed door, and front legs are of white porcelain. It is fitted with an extra wide fire box complete with coil and automatic gas kindler. It is equipped with four plates over the wood and coal section, and four gas burners on the right. The oven measures 19x22x12 and is equipped with porcelain broiler. It is the most complete range at its price we know of.

TRADE IN YOUR OLD RANGE

If you have an old range that has outlived its usefulness, or one that is too expensive to operate, trade it in on one of these wonderful A-B combinations. We will allow you all it is worth and provide you with the best range you have ever used.

"WE CHARGE NO INTEREST"

GREAT DEMAND FOR TANLAC DUE TO MERIT ALONE

They don't make 'em any better than this one.

COMING SATURDAY

It's What the People Say About It That Causes Orders for Nearly a Million Bottles in One Month—Big Seattle Druggists Elated.

The greatest test any medicine can undergo is the "repeat" sale it enjoys. Tanlac's phenomenal record has been possible because of the fact that men and women who buy one bottle invariably return for the second and recommend it to others because it has helped them.

To say that Tanlac has the largest sale of any medicine of its kind does not begin to tell the story. No other preparation has ever approached the marvelous success of Tanlac, and in the eight years it has been on the market 30,000,000 bottles have been sold. Between June 15 and July 15 of this year orders were received for nearly one million bottles, and it is evident that dealers are still enthusiastic over the ever-increasing demand, who buy by the tone of letters with orders.

Stewart and Holmes Drug Co., large wholesale druggists of Seattle, Wash., writes as follows: "Tanlac is one of our most profitable proprietary items. We expect the record now due will be disposed of by us rapidly. We are highly satisfied with our connection with your firm."

W. A. Hoyer & Co., large wholesale druggists of Denver, Colo., writing under date of July 17, state: "We are submitting today our order for the fourth cartload of your goods since April 1. Taking into consideration local conditions, this demand is not only exceptional, but alone in the record of sales for proprietary articles in this section."

The tremendous popularity of Tanlac is the unquestioned and outstanding proof of its merit. No medicine of less superlative quality and effectiveness could possibly attain such a huge sales record now, as Tanlac has, the unequalled endorsements of thousands of well-known men and women in all parts of the continent who stand for the best in their communities.

Like all great successes, Tanlac has its imitators and, although there are over a hundred preparations on the market claiming similar therapeutic value, many copying the original Tanlac advertising, the popularity of this preparation continues to grow, and it is unquestionably the most talked of medicine in the world today.

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.—Adv.

Phone Your Want Ads to The Oregonian Telephone Main 7070

Advertisement for Chamberlain's Tablets, featuring the product name, benefits for constipation, biliousness, headache, indigestion, and stomach trouble, and the name of the manufacturer, Cecil B. DeMille's Manslaughter.

Advertisement for Hufeland Tonic, featuring a large bottle illustration, the slogan 'since 1860', and the text 'THE TONIC THAT BUILDS YOU UP at your Druggist'.

Advertisement for Blue Mouse Theatre, featuring a portrait of Charles Ray and the text 'COMING SATURDAY' and 'A TAILOR-MADE MAN'.

Advertisement for Blue Mouse Theatre, featuring the text 'COMING SATURDAY' and 'A TAILOR-MADE MAN'.