

$3,879,025 WANTED FOR CITY'S BUDGET

Proposals to Go to Tax Supervising Committee.

PROJECTS ARE OUTLINED

Council in Favor of $3,128,686 to Cover General Expenses for Next Year.

The 1923 budget, which will go to the tax supervision and conservation commission next week, will contain a total of $3,879,025 to be raised by taxation. After concluding the consideration of the budgets of each department late yesterday the council computed the various totals.

Pension Tax Included. The council, in accordance with a charter provision, has provided for $29,500 for the police pension fund and a like sum for the firemen's pension fund. This sum is raised by the levy of one-tenth of one mill on each dollar of assessed valuation of taxable property in the city of Portland.

The council decided to include the four-tenths of one mill levy authorized for the purchase of land and for the improvement of parks and playgrounds. It is the plan of the council to utilize this money, a total of $59,000, for the purchase of the Eastmoreland golf links. The city has a large investment in the links and inasmuch as the links are now on a self-supporting basis, members of the council believe it wise for the city to acquire ownership.

Sinking Fund Provided. Realizing that the general sinking fund must be built up more rapidly in the future than has been the practice heretofore, the council this year has provided seven-tenths of one mill for this purpose. This, if levied, will raise about $208,500.

Last year the city levied six-tenths of one mill for the sinking fund, but up to that time the city had never levied more than four-tenths of one mill, a sum which the city authorities admit was not adequate.

A sum of $366,839 has been placed in the budget for the payment of interest on bonded indebtedness, including bonds that already have been issued and bonds that are planned for issue during 1923.

$50,000 For Bridges. In addition, the council placed an item of $50,000 in the budget to care for the cost of bridges elsewhere than across the Willamette river. Billing of streets across gullies and ravines and rights of way overhead or underground across railway tracks. Provision was made that of this sum not less than $15,000 shall be expended for bridge construction and $20,000 for the overhead or underground crossings.

MURDER FREES SUSPECT

CHARGE AGAINST ALLEGED WET VIOLATOR DISMISSED.

Glenn Price, Slain Dry Agent, Was to Have Been Sole Witness Against Emmett Beco.

Because Glenn Price, federal prohibition agent, was slain in the performance of his duty, the court reluctantly released Emmett Beco, alleged violator, in federal court yesterday afternoon. Price was to have been the sole witness against him.

"Joe's Cider Place," a north-end drinking nook, is operated by Beco, and rumors that he was not indicted turned the attention of the federal agent toward it. He bought two drinks of moonshine from Beco, so he reported, and the second was dashed from his hand by the retailer as he made known his identity.

"Glenn came into the office happy at having the goods on Beco," said Deputy Federal District Attorney Baldwin, who moved dismissal of the indictment. "He was always that way, an enthusiast in his work. And that night he left for Grande Ronde. Well, he never came back, as everyone knows, and though the grand jury indicted Beco the prosecution had only meager evidence against him. We could not hope to convict, for Price was our only witness of moment."

Glenn Price was killed by Phillip Warner, an Indian bootlegger, on a street in Grande Ronde while attempting an arrest. Jap Perry, government informer, who is said to have witnessed the sale by Beco, is now held as a witness in the case against the Indian, charged with the murder of the federal officer.

STRIKERS ARE ENJOINED Picketing by Lumber Plant at Montesano Stopped by Court.

The order restrains the strikers from picketing or otherwise interfering with the workmen of the company to prevent them from discharging their duties.
