ALLIES AND TURK SIGN AGREEMENT

Military Pact Made on Board Ship.

CONSTANTINOPLE TO WAIT

Allies to Remain, but Turk to Establish Government.

KEMAL TO GET THRACE

Greeks to Be Driven Out if They Refuse to Agree to Terms of Understanding With Ankara.

BY HENRY WALES.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign Service.
Copyright, 1922, by the Chicago Tribune.) CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 4.—The allied and Turkish nationalist representatives have signed an agreement awarding Thrace to the Turks and placing Constantinople under the dual control of the Turkish nationalists and allies.

A military protocol regulating the near east situation was signed at 6 o'clock last night on board a ship off Mudania. The nationalists agree that the allies shall remain at Constantinople pending definite peace negotiations, but the nationalists will install civil authorities there, which will result in dual administration of the city.

The Turks are to evacuate the neutral zone and will retire from Chama.

Constantinople to Wait.

Ismet Paasha did not insist on pressing the question of Constantinople, reserving discussion as to the status of the capital to the peace conference. He outlined, however, a plan for a nationalist civil administration to be established there the same as in Thrace, resulting in the Turks controlling civil life and leaving the allies to control the city and the port.

The nationalists, however, proposed the complete military and naval control of the Turkish territory, including the capital, eventually be put in the hands of the Turkish state.

The Turks agreed to respect the neutral zone of the Asiatic side of the Dardanelles, the allies guaran-teering the removal of military control and establishing the neutrality of the straits to be discussed at the peace conference.

Six Articles Included.

The protocol includes six articles:

The first is concerned with the evacuation of the Turkish frontiers and the restoration of Turkish territory. The second and third are referred transmission by the censor.
The fourth covers the neutral zone.
The fifth is concerned with the evacuation of Constantinople. The sixth deals with the measures to be taken against the Greeks if they refuse to execute the demand.

The articles, one after the other, were adopted rapidly owing to the effective intermediary efforts of Henri Franklin Bouillon, the French envoy.

The Greeks are ordered to evacuate Thrace up to the Maritza river within 10 days.

Army to Wait for Peace.

French troops are to reinforce the British and Italian contingents until the Turkish gendarmerie, police and civil administrators arrive.

The nationalist army is not to proceed to Thrace, until a definite peace has been signed.
The signatories are reported to have agreed that the British Atlantic fleet, supported by an allied squadron, is to blockade the Greek ports and that Kemal's army will be permitted to invade Thrace and drive out the Greeks forcibly, if Athens fails to comply with immediate evacuation.

Ismet Paasha stipulated, however, that complete military and naval control over Turkish territory must eventually come into the hands of Turkey. The Turks agree to respect the neutral zone on the Asiatic side of the Dardanelles if the allies do likewise. As a result, it was decided that the British would withdraw from Chanak, probably establishing a new base on the other side of the straits pending a definite peace.

The problem of guaranteeing, demilitarizing and establishing the neutrality of the straits is to be held over until the peace conference. The protocol was signed without reserve and will be communicated to the Greeks tomorrow.

AMERICAN SHIP FIRED ON

Garrison Said to Have Opened on Destroyer at Aivali.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—(By the Associated Press.)—Reuters has received the following from a semi-official source in Athens:

"According to the newspapers an American destroyer engaged in embarking refugees at Aivali was bombed by the Turkish garrison."

Aivali is on the Asia-Minor coast north of Smyrna, opposite Mytilene.

RAILROAD TRAFFIC IS ALMOST RECORD

CAR LOADINGS 96 PER CENT OF HIGHEST POINT.

Indication of Shortages Common, but Some Cars Are Idle Despite Great Demand.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—Railroad traffic is now almost equalling the greatest volume records ever made, according to a statement issued today by the Association of Railway Executives. In the week ending September 23, 973,291 cars of freight were loaded, a total not exceeded since October, 1920. The car loadings amounted to 96 per cent of the greatest number ever recorded, which was reached during October, 1920.

Along with the tremendous increase in traffic there were the usual indications of car shortage. On September 23, the statement said, shippers had ordered 197,466 cars which railroads were unable to supply immediately. At the same time, scattered at various points throughout the country there were 11,292 surplus freight cars not in service.
Coal cars and box cars were in most demand.

60 FAIRS ARE ATTENDED

Mrs. George Hoye Present at Every State Show but One.

OREGON CITY, Oct. 4.—(Special.)—Dr. and Mrs. George Hoye, who have been spending the past week in Salem, where they have been occupying their cottage at the state fair grounds, returned to Oregon City on Sunday night.

Mrs. Hoye has missed but one state fair since the fair started 61 years ago, and illness prevented her from attending that time. Mrs.
Hoye celebrated her birthday anniversary during her stay there.

Dr. Hoye, who is president of the Campers' association on the fair grounds, has attended the state fair for the past 39 years.

COMEDY FOLLOWS DEATH

Florence Shirley Sees Mother Die, Then Takes Role in Play.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Miss Florence Shirley watched at the bedside of her mother until she died yesterday morning, then arranged for burial services, and less than an hour afterward walked onto the stage of the Morosco theater and delighted a matinee audience by her lighthearted interpretation of the role of the frivolous, profligate wife in the comedy, "Why Men Leave Home."

It was learned today that Miss Shirley refused to allow an understudy to take her role and played through both matinee and evening performances.

FILM EXCHANGES ABLAZE

Several Lives Believed Lost in San Francisco Fire.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 4.—Fire, originating in an explosion in the basement of a garage, within half an hour tonight had swept through three film exchanges in adjoining buildings and was burning fiercely in a hotel next to them.

The police said there were three persons in one of the burned exchanges, the American Photoplays company, and presumably several also in the garage when the exploded occurred, and that none had been seen to leave either place afterward.

LAUNCH REPORTED SUNK

Divers Hunt for Craft in Puget Sound Waters.

BREMERTON, Wash., Oct. 4.— Divers from the Puget sound navy yard here and deputy sheriffs today were searching the waters of Port Washington narrows, near here, in an effort to find a 60-foot launch, which beach residents declared was sunk in the narrows last night. It was not known whether any lives were lost.

No trace of the craft had been seen up to this afternoon.

The number of men aboard and the name of the launch were not known.

STUDENTS USE TOBACCO

Six Pine Grove Youngsters Are Expelled From School.

HOOD RIVER, Or., Oct. 4.—(Special.)—The Pine Grove school board suspended for day ten grade students and expelled six for use of tobacco. The children drawing the more lenient punishment, it was said, merely had tobacco in their possession, while the six were declared to be spreading the habit.

Use of tobacco by the youngsters, it was said, has been worrying the board and teachers for some weeks.

STAR GETS $25,000 JOLT

Pearl White, Movie Actress, Dis- covers Jewels Gone.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—When Pearl White, motion picture actress, finished her afternoon's cinema thrill making Tuesday, she returned to her Forty-ninth-street apartment to find a genuine shock awaiting her.

Burglars, she told the police tonight, had entered the place during the afternoon and made away with gems and jewels valued at $25,000.

State Hydraulic Supervisor Fa- vors Impartial Control of Storage Power.

THE OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU,
Washington, D. C., Oct. 4.—Sharp differences of opinion between Marvin Chase, supervisor of hydraulics of the state of Washington, and the other members of the Columbia river board in a report on the uses of the waters of the upper Columbia river are voiced in a report made by the board to the federal power commission as given out today.

The report was formulated at Portland, Or., and bears date of June 30. Of 12 conclusions contained in the majority report, 10 are devoted to the Columbia basin irrigation project, which causes Engineer Chase in his minority report to say that "in thus concentrating on irrigation the board has gone beyond the scope of its authority."

Board Majority Criticized.

He points out that the investigation was for the federal power commission, which has jurisdiction over the waters of the Columbia river only in so far as power development is concerned and yet the report, he shows, is in large part devoted to irrigation possibilities.

The Chase report criticizes the majority of the board for reviewing consideration of the pumping scheme for irrigation of the Columbia basin and for thus ignoring the report of the Columbia basin commission set up by the state of Washington and also the report of General George W. Goethals. The Columbia river board, Mr. Chase declares, should have accepted the conclusions of the Columbia basin commission set up by the state of Washington as final, and the state's advisors having banned the pumping plant scheme for a gravity pressure plan. He further intimates the majority of the board was presuming in renewing old and settled controversies. The majority also is accused of making statements "not in accord with the facts."

Board Personnel Given.

The majority of the board which was appointed to carry on the investigation of the use of the waters of the upper Columbia river, for the power commission, and whose report draws the fire of Engineer Chase, was composed of C. E. Heide, state engineer of Montana; W. G.

BOLT OF LIGHTNING SETS HOME AFIRE

GIRL, THREE, GIVES ALARM AND SAVES HOUSE.

Crossed Wires of Radio Outfit and Electric Lights Cause Ignition of Building.

OREGON CITY, Or., Oct. 4.—(Special.)—During a terrific electrical storm Tuesday at 4 P. M., a bolt of lightning struck the top of a house where a radio antenna had been arranged at the home of Mrs. O. D.
Mrs. Harry Bond of Meldrum, a short circuit caused the antenna and the electric wires crossing near the top of the house. Mrs. Bond, who was in a rear room, was summoned to her living room by her 3-year-old daughter Rosetta. She found the shades and curtains ablaze.
She managed to extinguish the flames, but not until the walls were badly damaged.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Mort Parks, close by, also had a narrow escape, and crossed wires played havoc in their house.

The first man to appear in the neighborhood after the lightning was Louis Doolittle, who repaired the lighting system.

This is the first time that lightning has struck in Meldrum, but a heavy bolt struck Gladstone park a number of years ago, shattering several large trees near the big auditorium.

PRIMARY FRAUD CHARGED

Defeated Washington Candidates File Injunction Suit.

REPUBLIC, Wash., Oct. 4.—With a charge of misconduct by election officials, W. T. O'Connell, defeated for the democratic nomination for sheriff of Perry county by four votes, and John F. May, who lost the democratic nomination for county treasurer by eight votes, have brought action in superior court here asking that the county auditor be enjoined from placing the names of Sheriff Barker and John W. Mc-Cool, the successful candidates, on the ballot for the November election.
Barker is under federal indictment charged with conspiracy to violate the liquor laws.

BORAH IS IN POCATELLO

U. S. Benefits in Recognizing Reds Pointed Out.

POCATELLO, Idaho, Oct. 4.—Recognition of the soviet government of Russia by the United States would result in great benefit to this country, "as we have everything to gain and nothing to lose," Senator Borah, republican of Idaho, declared today.

He was in Pocatello for a short time on his way to his home in Boise.

WOMEN DEMOLISH STILL

Hatchets, Guns and Axes Used by Irate Tennesseans.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Oct. 4.— Eight women of the little town of Mobery, Cumberland county, smashed a wildcat still into smithereens today.

Armed with hatchets, guns and axes, they demolished the still, which had been supplying their men folk with liquor.

NEW RADIO OUTFIT HAS FANS ALL AGOG

THE OREGONIAN TO SERVE WHOLE NORTHWEST.

Plant Will Be Largest West of Kansas City and Equipped With Latest Devices.

Since the first experimental radio in Portland has interested such a keen note, or has a whole host of radio fans been roused to such a pitch of enthusiasm as yesterday with the announcement that The Oregonian had closed a contract with the Western Electric company for the installation of a 500-watt broadcasting station, with a nominal broadcasting radius of 1,500 miles and equipped with all the latest devices to make radio entertainment as perfect as possible.

Radio fans by the hundreds voiced their approval and delight as soon as they heard the news, and radio dealers in the downtown district declared that every customer they had during the day was either talking about or asking questions about the new super-broadcasting station. The radio-dealers interviewed said that The Oregonian's decision would make possible the greatest thing in public entertainment that Portland had ever had, and that it would make of radio a permanent institution, not only in the city but in the whole Pacific Northwest.

The installation and use of such a set really means that for approximately 100,000 persons in more than a dozen states radio will pass out of the experimental stage and become a reliable means of entertainment and a source of information.
According to the guarantee which comes with the set, it means that everyone with a dependable receiving set, excepting only the smaller crystal detectors, within 100 miles of The Oregonian, regardless of direction, will be able to hear every word and every note of music broadcast from The Oregonian tower, and with average favorable conditions all larger stations within 1,500 miles will also be able to receive the Oregonian broadcasts.
There will be no dead spots within the 100-mile radius, such as there have been in the past, due to such natural difficulties as mineral lodges and static. The high power of the station will be sufficient to overcome all of these.

The last technicalities standing in the way of the installation were cleared away yesterday by E. H.
Evans, installation engineer of the Western Electric company; A. M.
McMillan, northwest radio specialist of the same company, and Al Cochran, building superintendent of The Oregonian, who went over the tower carefully and arranged for the erection of the antenna and the placing of the equipment with all connections.

Only eight other newspapers in the United States are now operating similar broadcasting sets. The type is one of the largest in use and these stations are giving service of the most satisfactory and dependable sort. The newspapers are the Detroit News, the Detroit Free Press, the Kansas City Star, the Atlantic Journal, the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, the Rochester Democrat and Chronicle, the Louisville Courier-Journal and the Dallas News.

The significance of this list is that not one of the powerful stations is nearer to Portland than this one is.

Woman Suing Young Whitney Held to Have Lived With Hus- band Despite Story Later.

BY CONGER REYNOLDS.

(Copyright, 1922, by the New York Daily News. Published by Arrangement.)
(By Chicago Tribune Licensed Wire.)

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Oct. 4.— Supreme Court Justice Borst today reserved decision after listening to lengthy arguments on the petition of Charles Firestone, counsel for Evan Burrows Fontaine, for an order compelling Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney, son of Harry Payne Whitney, and his counsel to accept service of the summons and complaint in Miss Fontaine's suit for $1,000,000 for alleged breach of promise of marriage, and the support of her child, who, she declares, is a son of young Whitney.

The stately old courthouse of Schenectady has never before been the scene of such a struggle between love, romance and millions.
The long legal debate was enlivened and embittered by the reading of letters alleged written by the oriental dancer to Sterling Adair, the young sailor to whom she was married at 16, before she met "Sonny" Vanderbilt Whitney, by Lawyer Firestone's sharp objections to the interjection of such matter at this time. James A. Leary, acted as counsel for the Whitney's, assisted by Cornelius J. Sullivan and other members of the firm of Nicoll, Anable, Fuller & Sullivan of New York city.

Relations Not Denied.

Against Evan's pleading, the Whitney's defense was attack. There came from them no denial of Sonny's relations with her or of the fact that her claims had been so seriously regarded that the Whitney's were at one time willing to give her a settlement.

Instead, they set out to show that Evan was married to Sterling Adair, that she had lived with him as a wife, that she had secured annulment of her marriage to him by perjury and fraud, and that she had no right to contract marriage with young Whitney and consequently has no right to claim breach of promise.

"We intend to show," said Mr.
Leary, "that Adair picked this woman up on a train, she thought him a bright prospect and tried to anchor him. We will show that they were married and that she and her husband co-habited. Later she tried to enter into a fraudulent scheme with him in order to get the marriage annulled."

Story Declared False.

"In a letter to him she said she would have to swear they never cohabited and she told him the story she would tell to the effect that at dinner after they were married, Adair first told her of a previous marriage and her mother then refused to have anything to do with her. In her suit in Rockland county she swore she never co-habited with him. This was a pure fabrication, I read you here a letter in her own handwriting."

Mr. Leary then introduced the following letter which he claimed Evan wrote to Adair on March 27, 1915: "Dearest sweetheart: As you will see by the top of this page I am in my little dressing room as I write. It is intermission, and one when I used to go out with my Ditt to a picture show or to the Claridge.
Oh, those sweet, happy days when I slept in your arms at night and thought of my little husband working only down as far as Wall street and, oh, how happy I was when 5:30 would come and you would come home, home to me, your little wife.
God! I loved you, and, darling, I loved you just twice as much for every mile you are away now."

Plea Made for Love.

"In my dreams and thoughts I am thousands of miles off down in Houston, Texas, with my love, my great love, and I am driving or sating with you, or swimming or a number of other sweet things or perhaps I am just lying beside you talking and looking up into your face and telling as I have told you many times that I love you and trust you and believe in all I know you can do if you try."

"Now, honey, I am glad you are taking your time about getting settled for you know you want to make a future for me. Oh, honey love me; you don't love me as much as I love you. Good night, sweetheart. I just love you, love you, love you with all my heart, mind; soul; body. Oh, I'm crazy, yes, about my sweet husband, and love you. Love your 'Sadie' and know she loves

"MAN-EATING LIONS" PROVE TO BE DOGS

SEARCHERS IN OHIO FIND TWO AIREDALES.

Natives of Mount Victory Said to Have Been Terrorized by Barking of Animals.

TOLEDO, Ohio, Oct. 4.—The "ferocious man-eating lions" that have been terrorizing the natives in the vicinity of Mount Victory are two Airedale dogs, according to Louis Scherer, keeper of the Toledo zoo, who returned here today, after spending a day in the woods of Hardin county.

Scherer, who went to Mount Victory to satisfy his own curiosity regarding the "wild stories" coming from the down-state wilderness, said on his return that he and his party were greeted by curious barks when they came upon the "sprey" this morning, after an all-night beating of the Hardin county brambles.

He declared that the trail of the "beast" ended when two Airedale dogs were found concealed in a thicket.

SILVERTON, Or., Oct. 4.—(Spe-ratify student activities and because of a change the board made

Men Charged With Annoying Girls Told to Leave Town.

OMAHA, Oct. 4.—Two men were taken from jail and tarred and feathered at Bartley, Neb., today, according to a special dispatch to the Omaha World-Herald. The two men—Leonard Neel, an itinerant sign painter, and Al Jan-nings, a Bartley man—had been arrested on complaint of school authorities that they had been annoying school girls. Neel had previously been arrested and released following an elopement to North Platte with Velma Slips, a 16-year-old school girl. After tarring and feathering the two men, the mob ordered them to leave town under threat of hanging, reports said.
