Pacific Northwest Financial Houses Largely Represented at National Convention.

By F. A. FREEMAN, President of Freeman, Smith & Co. President of Freeman, Smith & Camp Co. DELMONTE, Cal., Oct. 8.—(Spe-cial.)—The leading investment bank-ing houses in America from J. P. Morgan & Co. down took the trouble to charter three special trains and to send their representatives to the annual convention of the Investment Bankers' Association of America which met today in Delimonte. The billionaire special in three sections arrived last night. A whole week has been spent in touring California and the managers of the affair so far have made no mention of the Pacific northwest.

However, it is not California's show. The California group is paying for it and it is not to be wondered at that they would get all the advertising advantage they can. Although the special trains are routed back east over the Central Pacific, a large number of the eastern delegates will drop off at San Francisco. gan & Co. down took the trouble to

The District

The District is located in Central Oregon, the diversified farming section of the state, and is but four miles from Bend, a prosperous and growing city with a population over 6500. It is served by the Union Pacific and Hill systems which provide excellent transportation facilities for all crops produced. Dairying and cattle raising are important and there are several creameries and cheese factories near the district. Three hydro-electric power plants supply this territory with electric current for power and domestic use. Alfalfa, hay, wheat, corn, barley and potatoes are extensively raised. Strawberries raised in the district are in demand in Eastern markets and in many cases have brought over $1000 per acre. Nature has provided a fertile soil, a delightful climate and with the present additional supply of water available, the Deschutes County Municipal Improvement District is one of the most prolific agricultural sections in the country. This improvement is for extensions, betterments and increased productivity.

Bonds The Bonds are secured by the entire property in the district, conservatively appraised, over three times the total bonded debt. The collection of taxes and payment of interest and principal of the Bonds are collected at the same time and in the same manner by county officials—as are school, county and state taxes.

Approved The district has been examined and security approved by State Securities Commission, consisting of State Engineer, the Attorney-General and the Superintendent of Banks of the State of Oregon.

Certified and Legalized under State Law by indorsement of Secretary and the seal of the State of Oregon. These Bonds are legal for all purposes that General Obligation State Bonds are legal for.
