

PIONEER OF 1854, VINCENT COOK, DIES

Large Part Played in State Business History.

ACTIVITIES ARE VARIED

Salmon Packing, Mining, Dry Goods and Canvas Products Claim Attention at Times.

Vincent Cook, Portland pioneer, died yesterday afternoon at his home, 425 Fifth street, at the age of 82 years.

He is survived by his widow, Martha Matilda Cook, two sons, Floyd J. Cook of Portland and Ray A. Cook, whose home is in southern Oregon, and a daughter, Lella A. now Mrs. George Maxwell of Astoria, Klamath county, Oregon.

Many branches of industry from the early years of Oregon down to the present have known the name of Cook—salmon packing, dry goods, canvas products and others.

He is survived by his widow, Martha Matilda Cook, two sons, Floyd J. Cook of Portland and Ray A. Cook, whose home is in southern Oregon, and a daughter, Lella A. now Mrs. George Maxwell of Astoria, Klamath county, Oregon.

Full-hearted and unbogged cooperation of every sect in the country, from Jew to Catholic, from Baptist to Christian Scientist, is necessary for this reaching of the people.

Service Given The Oregonians. Mr. Cook came of English stock, although he himself was born in Chicago, February 14, 1851, where his father, an expert cabinet maker, had been successful.

The father in his years in Oregon established the Cook & Sons furniture factory, one of the first in Portland.

Mr. Cook's first marriage was to Miss Oronoco L. Ankeny, daughter of Captain Ankeny, his mining partner. She died in 1897. His second marriage was in 1907.

WINBURN FOUND GUILTY Fine Imposed for Picnic on Watershed Near Ashland.

ASHLAND, Or., Oct. 11.—(Special.)—Jesse Winburn was found guilty in a jury trial here this afternoon and fined $200 in Justice Gowdy's court for the charge of holding a picnic on the watershed above Ashland.

The case will later go to the circuit court and ultimately to the supreme court to settle the question of jurisdiction over the watershed, which is in a government reserve and over which the city has an ordinance relative to picnicking.

BURDEN TAKEN OFF CITY Petitioners Hereafter Must Pay to Relocate Utility Facilities.

Hereafter when the city council vacated any streets, the petitioners for such vacations must stand the expense incident to re-locating public utility facilities. An ordinance making this requirement, introduced by City Commissioner Mann, in charge of the department of public utilities, was passed by the council yesterday.

FATE OF WARREN NOW UP TO JURY

Indian Slayer Denies Ever Seeing Grover Todd.

STATE GETS SURPRISE

Defendant Testifies He Killed Glen H. Price, Dry Agent, in Self-Defense.

DALLAS, Or., Oct. 11.—(Special.)—The case of Philip Warren, Indian, charged with the murder of Glen H. Price and Grover Todd, prohibition agents, went to the jury at 4:30 P. M. today. The jury had not reached a verdict at a late hour tonight.

The trial took on intense interest when the defendant took the stand this morning, declaring that he had shot Price in self-defense, and denying that he had ever seen Todd. The Indian swore that Price had shot at him when he resisted arrest, and that he fired back to prevent being killed. The state has admitted that Price struck Warren on the head with his pistol, and that he fired one shot at him, but the point of the shot first is in dispute.

The defense contended that Warren was not drunk when he shot Price, and that Warren was not drunk when he shot Price, and that Warren was not drunk when he shot Price.

Most boots don't wear out—they "crack out"

When you discard a pair of leather shoes the soles are gone, or they're worn out in some other way.

Ordinary rubber boots are different. You wear them only a short time when little cracks appear in the rubber where the boot is bent in walking, or in rolling up and turning down. Perhaps you can't even see these little cracks unless you look closely -- but they're there!

Water seeps in through cracks

A few more weeks and the whole surface of the boot is honey-combed. The small cracks have become big cracks. Through them the water seeps in—then there's nothing to do but to get another pair. Most boots don't wear out—they "crack out"

We make Gold Seal boots from new, lively, elastic pure virgin rubber. We vulcanize the layers of fabric and rubber by a special vacuum pressure process.

Between the layers of the heavier styles we put ribs of flexible rubber. These reinforce the vamp and aid in keeping the boot in shape.

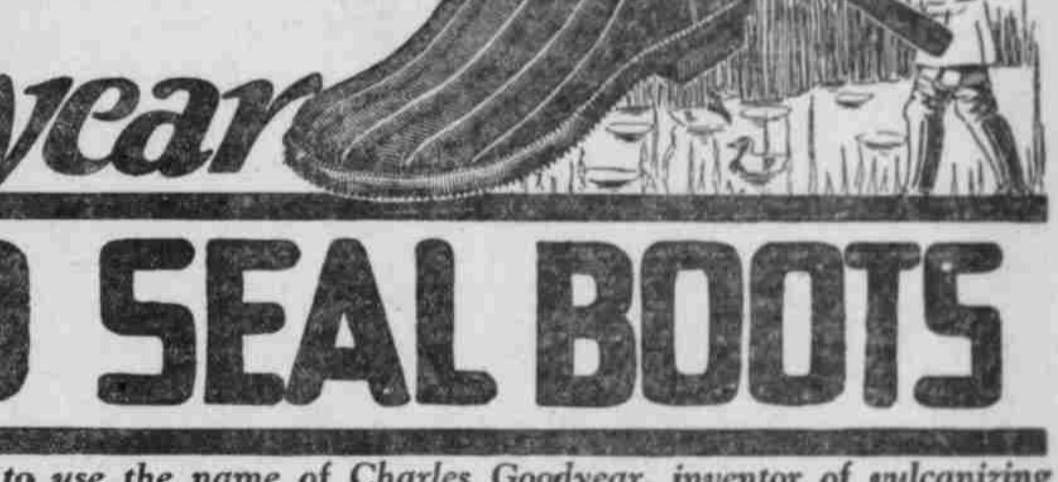

The first Goodyear Gold Seal boots were made and patented back in the seventies. They were designed to withstand the grueling wear of miners and fishermen. They have stood the test; they are crack proof!

Only pure virgin rubber in Gold Seal Crack Proof Boots

It's as easy to see that there's no shoddy, reclaimed material or substitutes in Gold Seal boots as it is to tell the difference between a cheap scratch pad and smoothly finished book paper. You can just feel the quality, the liveliness of the rubber!

Goodyear Gold Seal boots will outwear ordinary boots. They are crack proof. You will find them in good stores all up and down the Pacific Coast. Those who work out o'doors wear Goodyear Gold Seal oilskins, too.

We are the original and only GOODYEAR RUBBER COMPANY Portland and San Francisco No connection with other firms using the name "Goodyear"

Authorized since the 70's to use the name of Charles Goodyear, inventor of vulcanizing

SLAYER PRISON SUICIDE

Jewel Frang Cuts Throat in Barber Shop of Penitentiary.

BOISE, Ida., Oct. 11.—(Special.)—Jewel Frang, life term at the Idaho state penitentiary, committed suicide today while in the barber shop at the prison by slashing his throat with a razor.

According to a story told by prison authorities Frang went to the prison barber shop as though to get a shave. Frang made as though he went into the barber shop before anyone could stop him he had pulled a razor out from its wrapping and cut his throat. He was sentenced to the penitentiary for a life term for the murder of Lester Gifford, proprietor of a Lewiston drug store.

AX WOUND IS SOON HEALED BY MEDICLA

Warning Worked for Discoverer of Medicated Earth. Used for First Aid It Proves Effective.

"I have used Medicla for a number of cuts and bruises," states E. E. Waringa of Kamiah, Idaho. "I was working for Parker Pierce, the discoverer of Medicla, cutting and trimming up trees. We ate our dinner and went to work. In a short time the ax went down through the brush. It cut a large gash on my leg about two inches long and to the bone. It was only a short distance to the house. He arrived with it. We stopped the blood by applying Medicla. I bandaged it with my pocket handkerchief. It healed readily and never pained me."

MENTALITY IS COMPARED

JAPANESE PUPILS DECLARED EQUALS OF AMERICANS.

Results of State-Wide Study of Intelligence in California Are Announced.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 11.—The Japanese boys and girls between the ages of 10 and 15 years in the schools of Los Angeles and San Francisco are the mental equals of the average American pupils in the same schools, but they lag behind the Americans in the smaller cities of the state, as Sacramento, Fresno, Stockton, Alameda and several in Santa Clara county.

The Japanese are better spellers. The Japanese are superior in deportment, in effort and perseverance, and their capacity to learn rapidly is greater. The American pupils are slightly in the lead in mathematics, English and history.
