

ROSENBLUTH PROBE IS TO START TODAY

Federal Grand Jury at New York to Act.

EX-CAPTAIN IS CALLED

Not Only Daugherty and Secret Service Charges, but Murder to Be Investigated.

(By Chicago Tribune Leased Wire.) NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—A federal grand jury here will start an inquiry tomorrow into the charges made by ex-Captain Robert Rosenbluth, the so-called "American Dreyfus" against the department of justice in connection with its handling of the case growing out of the murder of Major Alexander Cronkite at Camp Lewis, Wash.

Summons served today on Captain Rosenbluth and his attorney, Joseph J. Goldstein, require their appearance before the grand jury tomorrow afternoon were issued by United States District Attorney Colonel Hayward under section 10 of the United States criminal code, which is the section covering murder and manslaughter.

The summons state Rosenbluth and Goldstein are to be questioned under that section, indicating for the first time that the New York inquiry will cover the whole case, including not merely the charges of Rosenbluth against Attorney-General Daugherty and secret service operatives.

CAPTAIN EXPLAINS FIGHT

Rosenbluth Declares He Is Eager to Have Jurisdiction Settled.

The third of the Rosenbluth articles, in which is explained the jurisdiction issue and Captain Rosenbluth's reasons for fighting extradition to Tacoma to face the first-degree murder charge follow.

(By Chicago Tribune Leased Wire.) BY CAPTAIN ROBERT ROSENBLUTH. Some may wonder why I am raising the question of jurisdiction in my fight against Attorney-General Daugherty and the department of justice in the Cronkite case.

I have been told by all lawyers that I have consulted that lack of jurisdiction cannot be waived or conferred by consent or any other way. There is no sense to travel 3000 miles, summon hundreds of witnesses and spend large sums of money to hear an argument on jurisdiction which is bound to be the first matter brought up by the court.

I want this matter of jurisdiction settled and am ready to settle it at once. If it could be settled by radio I would be for it. I have had some experience with jurisdiction before in this case. It was last year when I refused to raise the question of jurisdiction in spite of strong intimations by agents of the department of justice that I could do so in order to get rid of the case—of being held under arrest for five months on a charge of murder, part of the time in the Tombs and the rest under $25,000 bail, furnished by Felix Warburg, Colonel Herbert Lehman and Walter Frank. That instead of an open trial and a chance to expose the whole matter in open court, the department of justice went into a conspiracy with Attorney-General Daugherty, and asked that the case against me be dismissed on the ground of lack of jurisdiction, then they robbed me five months of my life with absolutely no redress.

What reason is there to believe that if I did not raise this question now that after spending another five months in the Tombs or under bond, I would not find, when the impeachment proceedings against Attorney-General Daugherty are concluded, that the department of justice would again run true to past performances in my case and go into court again and dismiss a great part of the case for lack of jurisdiction. This question of jurisdiction is so simple that it does not seem that there could be any argument about it. It is not as if new witnesses had been found. It is purely a question of whether and did or did not belong to the United States government on October 25, 1918, when Major Cronkite died. The most humble citizen, unversed in law, knows that life is robbed and recorded as public documents, open to all to consult at will.

The attorney-general is not the law far above it. It is not his thing for him to toy with, as a diffident lover will pull petals from a daisy. It is a sorry sight to see him picking petals from the flower of the law.

Temporary Extension of Stay Is Granted to Permit Plaintiffs to Carry Case Higher.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—(By the Associated Press.)—Federal Judge Hand today granted a temporary extension of stay to plaintiffs in a decision dismissing the motion of foreign and American ship companies for a permanent injunction restraining foreign and American agents from putting into effect the bone dry ruling of Attorney-General Daugherty. He extended the stay temporarily, however, providing that the steamship companies file an immediate appeal to the United States supreme court.

Judge Hand decided in favor of the government on all points. The decision was rendered on the specific matter of the application of foreign lines for an injunction restraining from seizure ships carrying liquor under seal on the eastbound voyage from the United States.

All Lines Affected. The decision applies to both foreign and American lines because of the statement made by Judge Hand during the injunction proceedings last week that a defeat of the motion of the foreign lines would naturally bring about defeat of the American lines' motion for an injunction.

The temporary extension of the stay granted by Judge Hand applied only to liquor to be used as supplies for members of ships' crews on the eastbound voyage to Europe. This extension was granted on the furnishing of a bond of $25,000 by the steamship companies to guarantee that the liquor would not be used for any other purpose than the one stipulated.

Appeal to Be Made. Everett Masten of counsel for the White Star line announced that his firm and representatives of the 12 other foreign and domestic lines represented in the proceeding would bring an appeal as soon as possible.

The original action against the Daugherty ruling was brought by the Cunard and Anchor lines, which were later joined by ten other companies, including most of the important foreign and American lines in the trans-Atlantic trade. All brought bills in equity, mentioning Secretary Mellon, H. D. Stuart, collector of this port, and federal prohibition enforcement agents.

DECEASED IS AS EXPECTED

Strict Enforcement Promised by Prohibition Commissioner.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 23.—The higher status of the broadened scope outlined by Attorney-General Daugherty are now in effect and will be rigidly enforced, Prohibition Commissioner Tamm asserted today when he informed of the decision of Judge Hand in New York refusing to issue a government injunction to complaining ship companies.

Activities of enforcement agents, Mr. Tamm said, naturally would be made to conform to any legal limitation imposed by the prohibition stay from the New York court, but the commissioner said emphatically that no general extension of time would be made in enforcement of the legal requirements of prohibition on American vessels everywhere at sea and on foreign ships within American waters.

Mr. Tamm said the decision in New York was exactly what he and his legal staff had expected and he predicted a similar result when the case is carried to the supreme court. Officials here expect the case to come up to the highest court as rapidly as the various steps are completed.

The expected report from New York giving details of the seizure of the Canadian schooner Emerald today, but he declared that seizure of the Emerald had not indicated the government would find itself in a position necessitating release of the Emerald or an apology to Great Britain for her detention.

The personnel of the dry navy, Mr. Tamm said, was entirely competent with the scope of the three-mile limit and had in several cases applied that authority. He was certain that seizure of the Emerald would be completely upheld when the facts were in the hands of the state department.

COUNTY AGENTS CONFER

PROJECTS ARE REFERRED TO SPECIAL COMMITTEES.

Representatives From Most of Counties of State Attend Meeting at Corvallis.

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Oct. 23.—(Special.)—The county agent conference opened this morning at the college with 40 agricultural and home economy specialists of the extension service present to consider and adopt a programme of agricultural development in the leading farm districts of Oregon.

Various projects, such as farm crops and livestock production, handling soils for fertility and moisture control, farm and household management, and marketing and using surplus produce, were outlined by Paul V. Marie, director of extension. Each project was referred to a special committee to be reported later in the week and made the subject of action in co-relating the county and state extension activities for the entire year. The following state and county specialists were present at the first roll call:

Paul V. Marie, director extension service; E. C. Rudolph and his son, Delbert, who were found guilty of arson by a jury in circuit court here recently today were sentenced to serve a year each in the state penitentiary. They were convicted of setting fire to a house and barn at Elmira, in order to obtain $5000 insurance.

PIERCE UPBRADED FOR USING FUNDS

Making Profit With State Money is Deplored.

ST. HELENS IS VISITED

Big Crowd Hears Senator Vinton and Governor; Mr. Olcott's Support Gaining.

ST. HELENS, Or., Oct. 23.—(Special.)—Walter M. Pierce, through his school-fund operations, deprived the small farm owner of this state of the benefits of the school fund, a time feathered his own nest to the extent of many thousands of dollars. This was the charge preferred against the demagogue by the governor at the November election by W. T. Vinton of McMinnville, ex-president of the state senate, who divided speaking time with Governor Olcott at a political meeting here tonight.

"In the year 1903 or thereabouts," said Senator Vinton, "Walter Pierce, by the aid of his relatives and friends borrowed from the state land board $30,000 of school funds. Mr. Pierce borrowed this money at 6 per cent interest and later loaned it at 8 per cent. Was that good business? Is it always good business to pay as you go or is it good business to sometimes borrow when you can realize more than interest on the money? Evidently Mr. Pierce thought he could make a nice profit out of the $30,000 by loaning it at 8 per cent. From this money Mr. Pierce received an annual profit of $500 covering a period of 12 years. Does so the transaction indicate that Mr. Pierce has any particular love for the taxpayers or that he will relieve them of their present tax burden?"

Voters Told to Analyze. "In this campaign Walter Pierce has gone about the country melodramatically tearing tax bills in two by way of illustrating what he will do to taxes if elected. As a result of this Oregonians are informed as to just what part the governor plays in imposing or reducing taxes."

Senator Vinton then showed that the total amount levied on Columbia county property this year aggregated $766,733. Of this $1 per cent was levied by county and school authorities for school roads, city and town purposes, including a drainage tax of $54,257.

"How could any governor cut the local part of this tax in two?" asked Senator Vinton. He showed that only 19 per cent of all of Columbia county's tax bill this year is state taxes. This state tax includes the soldiers' bonus at 2 per cent, market roads 2 per cent, state aid to elementary schools 4 per cent and for the state higher educational institutions 1 per cent.

The remainder of the Columbia county state tax approximating 5 per cent goes chiefly to support institutions caring for the insane and paying the current expenses of the state, Senator Vinton said.

Pierce's Extravagance Cited. He reviewed the legislative record of Mr. Pierce at length and concluded by stating that his extravagance did not warrant the voters in rallying to his support on the grounds of economy and tax reduction.

Governor Olcott, who tonight started the second week of his speaking campaign, referred to the accomplishments of his administration and declared that the state institutions were never in better condition than at the present time. If elected on November 7, Governor Olcott promised the voters a continuance of a sane, honest and efficient administration. He showed that of the $3,376,283 of state taxes for 1932, including the millage taxes, Mr. Pierce specifically approved $3,564,039 or 92 per cent. He had no change at most of the other 8 per cent, the Governor said. As a consistent tax booster Mr. Pierce had no peer in the legislature, it was charged by the speaker.

The addresses were given in the city hall, which was crowded to capacity. Preceding the meeting Governor Olcott and Senator Vinton were honor guests at a banquet. More than 50 persons attended this function.

Local political leaders declared tonight that Governor Olcott has gained in popularity here during the last ten days and that if the election were held tomorrow he would receive a substantial majority in Columbia county. "Two weeks ago,"

Woman Seeks to Recover Prunes Seized Under Judgment.

VANCOUVER, Wash., Oct. 23.—(Special.)—Mrs. Lucy Burns has started suit to recover 55 boxes of prunes seized under execution by William A. Thompson, sheriff of the Lowell Mortgage & Adjustment company. The company won execution and judgment from the superior court and the sheriff seized the prunes in transit. Mrs. Lucy Burns contends that the prunes belong to the estate of Benjamin F. Burns, of which she is executor, and that she as executor is entitled to the immediate possession of the prunes, valued at about $150.

The company won a judgment of $339, $35 attorney's fees and interest. John Nyman was arrested in her home last week on a charge of manufacturing moonshine. She was not present at the time, but was arrested later and is at liberty on bail.

IF KIDNEYS ACHE FLUSH WITH SALTS

Harmless Way to Clean Your Kidneys and Help Bladder.

Kidney and bladder irritations often result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it to the bladder, where it may remain to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread; the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness most folks call it because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is often one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will help neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs, which then act normal again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia water drink, which often quickly relieves bladder irritation.—Adv.
