Revival of Lloyd George Sentiment in Parts of Country Is Noted; Irish Treaty Safe.

BY JOHN STEELE.
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service. Copyright 1922, by the Chicago Tribune.)
LONDON, Oct. 24.—(By Tribune Wireless)—Prime Minister Bonar Law officially announced tonight the composition in part of the new British cabinet. The 15 members named follow:
Lord president of the council, marquis of Salisbury.
Lord high chancellor, Viscount Cave.
Chancellor of the exchequer, Stanley Baldwin.
Secretary for home affairs, William C. Bridgeman.
Secretary for foreign affairs, Earl Curzon.
Secretary for the colonies, duke of Devonshire.
Secretary for India, Viscount Peel.
Secretary of war, earl of Derby.
First lord of the admiralty, Lieutenant-Colonel D. C. M. S. Amery.
President of the board of trade, Sir Philip Lloyd Greame.
Minister of health, Sir Arthur Griffith-Boscawen.
Minister of agriculture and fisheries, Sir Robert A. Sanders.
Secretary for Scotland, Viscount Novar.
Attorney-general, Douglas McG. Hogg.
Lord advocate, W. A. Watson.
The president of the board of education, the minister of labor, the first commissioner of works, the minister of transport and the lord of the privy seal will be announced later.
Privy Council Summoned.
King George has summoned the privy council for tomorrow. Then the outgoing ministers will turn over their seals of office. The dissolution of the Lloyd George cabinet will be proclaimed Thursday. It is expected that the new ministers will receive their seals and kiss the king's hand on their appointment at the privy council Friday.
It has been announced that the new election will be held November 15, which is on a Wednesday, in order to assure the earliest possible meeting of parliament to pass the Irish constitution. This date will allow parliament to meet November 20. The Wednesday election, however, has aroused the most bitter resentment on the part of the labor party leaders, who fear that many workmen will not be able to vote. It has been suggested to make the polling day a legal holiday, but this seems difficult as parliament is not sitting. A proclamation by the king in council might be legal and this point is being considered.
Retiring Premier Moves.
Mr. Lloyd George has almost completed packing and will leave 10 Downing street tomorrow, when Mr. Bonar Law will take possession of the office part of the building. It is hardly likely that he will take up residence there until after the election.
Mr. Lloyd George's new house in Vincent square is a modest little place and he has also taken a house in Abington street for his new party headquarters. The latter is a few doors from the residence of former Prime Minister Asquith, leader of the liberals. J. C. Davies, former private secretary to Mr. Lloyd George, will be in charge of the political headquarters.
Two other secretaries, Sir Edward Grigg and G. H. Shakespeare, are candidates for parliament at the coming election. Sir Edward is a Lloyd George liberal and Mr. Shakespeare is a Chamberlain conservative.
Mr. Bonar Law's Glasgow speech has been put forward to Thursday, the Scotch shipbuilding city will give entertainment to two national leaders in one day, but Mr. Lloyd George and Sir Robert Horne are likely to make a damaging attack on the new government in their speeches Saturday.
McKenna for Bonar Law.
Mr. Lloyd George speaks tomorrow at a meeting of the national liberal candidates in London, and on Thursday at Whitfield's tavern in London.
This afternoon Reginald McKenna, chairman of the London City & Midland bank, a former liberal and chancellor of the exchequer in the Asquith government, came out at the city conservative club as a supporter of Mr. Bonar Law, whom he declared stood for "safety and sanity in administration, which is what the country needs now."
