

OLCOTT HAMMERS PIERCE FALSEHOODS

Governor Stoutly Defends Record on Taxes.

MANY BILLS ARE VETOED

"Poor, Struggling" Farmer Is Worth Nearly $500,000, Says T. B. Kay in Address.

CORVALLIS, Or., Oct. 30.—(Special.)—Governor Ben W. Olcott, in an address tonight before a fair-sized crowd here tonight, hammered hard against the false statements made by Walter M. Pierce, democratic nominee, and urged the voters to examine closely the achievements of his administration.

Governor Olcott explained the powers of the chief executive, reviewed his work as a member of the board of control, told of his lack of authority to control tax matters save by the veto, and of his successful efforts to keep down expenses at the penitentiary, which is the only institution under his complete jurisdiction.

The governor declared that without any large appropriations for the purpose, the penitentiary had been changed to a trifling more than an institution that those of many states wherein tens of thousands of dollars have been spent in recent years.

In making this transformation, the governor said every effort had been made to curtail the expense in the interests of the taxpayers.

Annual Cost $2,000,000. Figures were presented, showing that instead of spending $15,000,000 annually to conduct the administrative branch of the state government, as alleged by Mr. Pierce, this cost aggregated only a trifling more than $2,000,000.

In defense of the state highway commission, which was attacked recently by Mr. Pierce in his Ashland speech, Governor Olcott said this department had been given a free hand and had not been embarrassed by political interference.

"I claim this much of the success of the highway program," Governor Olcott said, "is that, after selecting its personnel, I never once interfered in their plans. I vetoed many bills that would have hampered the plans of the department, and rejected many petitions that would have made their work political.

Severance Tax Plan Hit. T. B. Kay, ex-state treasurer and member of the legislature, referred to the severance tax and gross earnings income tax, which Mr. Pierce said would have the taxpayers of Oregon many thousands of dollars annually.

"In the beginning of the campaign," said Mr. Kay, "the democratic nominee for governor advocated a severance on all timber removed from the state, and he said he found that this was unpopular, he said he would confine this tax to government-owned timber taken from the federal lands of the state.

Non-Partisan Filtrations Cited. With relation to the radical tendencies of Mr. Pierce, the speaker charged that he had flirted with a non-partisan league, had introduced in the senate a soviet measure providing that the state should provide employment for all its citizens without regard to efficiency and was the only member in the senate who voted against the so-called Oregon criminal syndicate bill.

Car Shortages and Some Local Conditions Only Unfavorable Aspects Seen on Trip. WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 30.—General business conditions throughout the west are "enormously improved" over a year ago, Eugene Meyer Jr., managing director of the war finance corporation, declared today after a three weeks' tour of six western states.

General business in the west, he said, is on the mend, except where interfered with by car shortages and where local conditions have taken temporary turns for the worse. Mr. Meyer's tour included California, New Mexico, Utah, Minnesota, Wyoming and Montana.

In New Mexico and western Texas, he said, the drought had seriously threatened the cattle industry, but arrangements have been made for what will probably be the largest cattle movement in the history of the country to move the cattle from the drought-stricken areas into old Mexico and neighboring states where there is feed and water.

In the intermountain district the surplus potato crop has adversely affected business, Mr. Meyer noted, while in the northwest the lack of cars has hampered the wheat movement.

ments made by Mr. Pierce that he is a poor struggling farmer. Mr. Kay said he had evidence showing Mr. Pierce is worth nearly $500,000 and has extensive holdings in both Union and Umatilla counties.

NEWPORT HEARS STANFIELD

How Oregon Won Big Appropriations in Congress Told.

NEWPORT, Or., Oct. 30.—(Special.)—Senator Stanfield spoke here tonight to a crowded hall, the audience displaying deep interest in the statements Oregon's junior senator made in reference to the method by which negotiations for rivers and harbors, roads and other improvements are made in congress.

Oregon received more appropriations from this congress, said Senator Stanfield, "than the state has received before in 20 years. The explanation does not lie in the fact that political complexion of the state is considered quite important when appropriations are made.

"We were able to secure recommendations for appropriations of $5,000,000 for rivers and harbors, $7,000,000 for roads and highways, $6,500,000 for agricultural loans and $2,500,000 for the naval base at Tongue Point in addition to this Oregon was the only state in the union able to get recommended appropriations for new reclamation projects.

Pierce Tax Plan Attacked. Representative Hawley declares Governor Will Be Re-elected. TILLAMOOK, Or., Oct. 30.—(Special.)—Representative Hawley arrived here today and addressed a good-sized meeting at the city hall.

Representative Hawley said the democratic party failed in the short congressional session of 1918 when the special session met in 1919 with the republicans in control of the house, it was necessary to pass these bills, which they did after reducing the appropriations $29,000,000 below the amounts in the democratic bills.

"This was the beginning of the enormous reductions in public expenditures we have effected," he said. "What the people of Oregon need to relieve the present burden of taxation is greater markets and better prices for their products, which will be accomplished by the re-election of Governor Olcott, and all others on the republican ticket, because the republicans have reorganized the finances of the government, reduced the debt and taxation, and brought back prosperity."

Business Much Better. An interesting example of spirit never occurred during the last New York lectures. I caught laryngitis in acute form, there being an epidemic of it at the time. The result of it was that I lost my voice entirely—so much so that I could not make my wife understand me across the bedroom.

MORMON APPEAL STIRS Church Head Declares for Independent Candidate for Sheriff. SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 30.—The action of Heber J. Grant, president of the Mormon church, and other church officials yesterday in publicly urging the Mormons of Salt Lake county to vote for an independent candidate for sheriff was the talk of Salt Lake City today.

I am reminded of a talk I had with my younger brother here in Philadelphia nearly 30 years ago. He was then a subaltern of gunners, fresh from Woolwich, and had asked him to be my traveling companion. One day we talked very earnestly of the senseless dimensions which at that time were very apparent. But if not, then are our paths in life so accurately mapped that even 24 years before the outcome can be seen.

Amusing Incident Recited. At one matinee lecture at Philadelphia I had an amusing experience—at least it amused the audience. I spoke with a huge drop curtain of canvas behind me. When I had made my bow I walked off, but found that there was no curtain on the right side. I turned and walked across the proscenium, but again to my surprise was faced with rigid canvas. I then concluded I was mistaken in my first venture, so I again crossed, but found it quite impassable. I then wandered down the face of the curtain amid sympathetic laughter from those who observed my dilemma, until at last I saw a slit and the agitated hand of W. J. Colby. This hole about a third of the way across formed entrance and exit, though I did not observe it in coming on.
