Ortega-Richards Bout Coming In for Attention; Both Known as Knockout Battlers.

Tonight's Boxing Card at Milwaukie.

Jummy Darcy versus Tom King, middleweights, ten rounds.
Battling Ortega versus Eddle Richards, middleweights, six rounds.
Johnoy Trambitas versus Jack Dalton, featherweight, six rounds.
Jack Dillou versus Bud Fisher, middleweights, four rounds.
Jack Griffiths versus Young Britton, featherweights, four rounds.

Among those who think Tom King has a chance with Jimmy Darcy in their fight at Milwaukie tonight is Tom King, himself. The Australian middleweight champion never has seen Darcy fight, newer heard of this feet hears coming to this him, in fact, before coming to this country; but this doesn't prevent Thomas from figuring that he has t least an even chance with the big

When King was bushwhacking such fighters as Jimmy Clabby for a row of boomerangs over in kangaroo land Darcy was fighting around Portland under the name of Valley Trambitas, and at that time neither knew the other existed. Fred Winsor, King's manager, agrees with his fighter that he has more than an even chance to take Darcy, but the rank and file of fandom look for Darcy to be returned afternoon between the sophomores King has not had a chance to un cork his kangaroo punch in a Portland ring before. He has had three fights since coming to this country. He beat Gordon McKay for the Pacific coast middleweight title, went a 19-round draw with Joe Egan and lost a four-round decision to Frank Farmer, the Tacoma heavyweight. Farmer is about twice his size.

According to reports of these three fights, the Australian always showed an inclination to club down his opponents by wading right in, while he usually took pienty to give one in return. King has been training more than two weeks for this fight and should be in shape.

The Butler-Amort match will be a best two out of three-fall struggle or a decision at the end of two hours. Both are legitimate middle-weights and will go on the mat weighing less than 160 pounds.

Amort gained his wrestling kowledge while attending Oregon Agricultural college, where he was Pacific coast champion for four years, at present he is an instructor at Banson tech and coaches the Benson wrestling squad.

Butler learned to wrestle by hard knocks. He worked at the blacksmith trade and developed a fine set of muscles. Then came the actual wrestling experience, which he gained through matches. In 53 matches Butler has lost but one, and that to Ted Thye.

Washington high school, 1921 Portland high school champion and at present the only undefeated eleven in the Portland high school league, plays Benson Tech at 3:30 o'clock on Multnomah field today. Although the Washington students, since their high school was de-stroyed by fire last week, are attending Lincoln high in the afternoons from 1 to 4:45 o'clock, Principal Boyd announced yesterday that they will be excused at 3 o'clock today so they can attend the game. He promised also to make some arrangement whereby the students may take in all the Washington games and yet not miss classes. At present Lincoln uses its own school in the morning and

Washington in the afternoon Today's game will be beef against beef, as the two elevens are the heaviest in the league. Coach Craig of Benson made several changes in his lineup after it lost to Jefferson but Benson lost by a larger score the week following to Franklin

Faulk certainly makes it sound to onvincing enough that Multnomah is outclassed and licked before it starts, but knowing the Dobie bear stuff of old, we can't quite get worked up yet to the point of buying flowers for the poor old Winged "M."

John Friday, Jefferson lost to James John, 6 to 3, while Commerce defeated the Saints, 18 to 7. At that, Jefferson appears about two touchdowns stronger than Commerce. In defense, Commerce has been weak on passes. Washington, in beating Commerce 27 to 6 last week, made most of its yardage through the air.

Foor Pat Kilhulen is dead. Word was received here yesterday of, his death last week in Oakland of smallpox. He finished the baseball season with Denver in the Western league, returned to his home in Oakland and almost immediately took down with smallpox, which he evidently had contracted in Denver.

Kilhulen was one of the Portiand catchers early in the year. The poor fellow was an unlucky player.
