Of much interest is the announcement of the engagement of two former University of Oregon students now in New York, whose wedding date has been tentatively set for December 23. They are Miss Lucile Frances Saunders, Portland newspaper woman and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Saunders of 901 Hancock street, and Harold D. McDonald, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McDonald of Trail, near Medford, Or. Miss Saunders recently returned from an adventurous tour of South America, where she did newspaper and magazine work the past year and a half. She came north from Buenos Aires for a press association and plans to spend the winter in New York writing. Her articles are well known throughout the state, as she has been connected at various times in reporter and executive capacities with numerous Oregon dailies. Previous to her departure she was with The Oregonian staff. She attended the University of Oregon, where she was actively interested in journalistic enterprises, being a member of Theta Sigma Phi, woman's national journalism fraternity, and city editor of the Oregon Emerald.

Mr. McDonald, who, at various times, has been identified with the work of the state fish and game commission, was at the university in Eugene last year and was a member of the university glee club. He is now continuing his studies in the school of medicine at New York university and is affiliated with the New York chapter of Kappa Sigma fraternity.

The second of a series of the tea which are being given for the benefit of the seven women's colleges of the orient will be a social event of today at the home of Mrs. C. Lewis Mead in Irvington. Mrs. John Pearson, Mrs. Charles Williams, Mrs. Andrew B. Porter and Mrs. Edwin H. Pence will preside at the tea table. The dining room arrangements will be in charge of Mrs. Margaret Porter Sternbergh and a group of maids who will assist in serving includes Miss Hannah Lewis, Miss Mary Titus, Miss Harriet Adams and Miss Hazel Mary Price. The playlet "Lighting the Christmas Candles," which was a feature of the first tea of the series at the home of Mrs. Fletcher Linn, will be repeated today and also the tea given by Mrs. Thomas H. Williams tomorrow afternoon.

ready I would like to know the method as soon as possible. A HEADER. Directions for making walnut pickles were given in The Sunday Oregonian July 2. Probably you can obtain a copy from the business office. If not, write again and I will repeat the full directions.

In the meantime you can prick over the green nuts with a hat pin or darning needle and put them in a crock in brine. This must be done before the shells begin to harden. Following is, I hope, the peach chutney recently asked for by Mrs. C. H. The spices and seasoning can be varied to suit personal taste: Peach chutney—Remove the skin and stones from four pounds of peaches, add two and one-half cups vinegar and stew until soft. Mix and pound together four ounces of mustard seed and one-half pound each finely chopped onions, raisins and sugar. Add two teaspoons salt, one teaspoon cinnamon and four cloves of garlic scraped fine. Add ginger and cayenne to taste. If the peaches are sour a little more sugar will be needed. A HEADER. The best plan is to stretch the material over an embroidery hoop and hold it over a bowl of hot water. Moisten the rust spot and apply the oxalic-acid solution with the aid of a medicine dropper, rinsing thoroughly in the water as soon as the mark disappears.

Will you please publish in The Oregonian a recipe for pickled walnuts. I had some several years ago in England and we have some trees and the nuts are just

AND NOW THE LADIES HAVE APPROPRIATED THE MAN'S WALKING STICK.

THE LATEST IN A THREE-PIECE SUIT, WITH EBONY STICK TO MATCH.

When Dame Fashion decrees a long straight silhouette she invariably goes to her stock of accessories and selects a walking stick to accompany it, thereby adding a smart touch to an already attractive costume. Care must be used, however, in selecting the gown to go with this accessory, for the same stick would render a bouffant skirt ridiculous. Here we have a straight-line, three-piece suit of black malfesse, with cuffs and collar of white caracul, topped by a black velvet hat, with a halo of white ostrich plumes and the whole costume appropriately completed by the slim ebony stick, with silver head.

may be approved. Add another half cup of vinegar, cook slowly 15 minutes and put up in small jars. This may be mild or red hot, according to the amount of cayenne and ginger used. A good plan is to make a little of each, to suit all tastes, adding extra seasoning to the last half of the material before canning. Serve with cold meat or curry.

PORTLAND, Or.—Dear Miss Tingle: Please give a recipe for peach ice cream, not too rich. Thanking you. NEW HOUSEKEEPER.

I hope the following will suit you: Peach ice cream (with junket)—Two cups rich milk, one cup cream, cup sugar, one junket tablet dissolved in one tablespoon cold water, one tablespoon vanilla, three-quarters cup smoothly mashed peaches, one-half teaspoon lemon juice. Dissolve junket in milk, add sugar in the milk, raise to luke warm, add the dissolved junket, pour into the freezer can and let stand until "set." Then place in the freezer, pack and freeze to a mush, then add the peach pulp (which has been mixed with the remaining sugar and lemon juice) and the cream (preferably whipped stiff) and finish freezing. Remove the dasher, pack and cover with newspapers or a bit of carpet and leave to ripen an hour or more.

If whipping cream is not available add thin cream to the milk and add one stiffly beaten egg white (whipped glossy with three table-spoons extra sugar) with the peaches if a fluffy texture is liked. The yolk may be added to the milk or not, as preferred. For a plainer cream omit the egg altogether and use "table cream" with the milk instead of whipping cream.

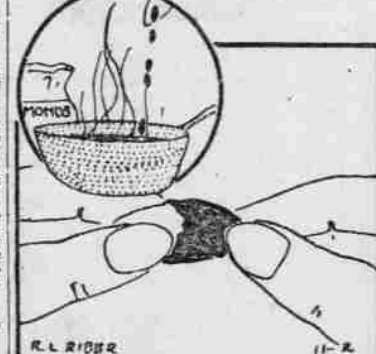

Whats What By Helen Decie

A SOUTHWESTERN correspondent writes to What's What: "Will you kindly tell me just how much I should tip my hairdresser? The same girl waits upon me every week and she is very attentive and efficient. Hitherto I have not given her any money because I did not know how much to offer, so I gave her a box of handkerchiefs, but I noticed that other patrons always tip the girls."

MISSOURI! Men have various scales of tipping, but women seem to have standardized the extra fee to 10 per cent of the total bill. This is the case in restaurants and manicure parlors, as well as in hairdressing shops. So, if the bill is $2 the tip is 20 cents; if $2.50 it is 25 cents, and so on. It is not usual to give less than 10 cents if the bill is under $1. "On principle," some people never give tips.

To Blanch Almonds. ALMONDS that are to be used for cooking and baking should be blanched before using. Immerse the shelled almonds in boiling water. Let them soak five or six minutes. By that time you should be able to remove the skins by pressing the nuts between your thumb and finger. After the skins are removed, rinse them in cold water and stand them away to dry.

New Today in the Markets

DUE to wholesale advances in the cereal market, a rise in the retail price of bulk cereals is expected. This will affect such articles as rolled oats in bulk. Package cereals will probably retain their former prices.

Catfish are in the market, being obtained from hatcheries, and are priced at 40 cents a pound. This is a game fish and for this reason each fish bears a tag, signifying that it was obtained in the proper manner and may be legally sold. The supply appears to be somewhat limited. Crabs are plentiful and very good. They are priced from 30 to 50 cents.

Arizona and Florida grapefruit are offered. The Arizona variety sells at 10 and 15 cents each and the Florida varies in price from 10 to 20 cents according to size.

Women's Activities

The Portland Bay View Study club will meet today with Mrs. Redd. The programme for the day will be on "Canada," and Mrs. Osterlander will be the leader. Members will respond to rollcall with quotations from "Evangeline."

Judge Walter H. Evans, a member of the board of the children's farm home, will address a community gathering at the Arleta Baptist church tomorrow evening. Mrs. Evans will tell of the plans and needs of the home. There will be no political speeches or collections. Mrs. Adah Wallace Unruh, campaign manager for the home, will preside.

The rummage sale being conducted by the Ladies Aid society of the Piedmont Presbyterian church at 226 First street, near Market, will open today. Mrs. Cudworth is in charge, assisted by a group of members.

The East Side Lavender club, branch No. 1, will hold a Halloween party tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at the East Side Business Men's club rooms. Members are asked to wear costumes, mask or cap, and the refreshments will be in keeping with the season.

Among the candidates who are to participate at the luncheon to be given Saturday by the Oregon branch, League of Women Voters, are Walter M. Pierce, Judges W. N. Gatens, George E. Rossman and Walter Evans, Mrs. C. B. Simmons, Mrs. M. L. T. Hidden, G. P. Alexander, S. E. Holcomb, G. P. Hewitt, Elton Watkins, and, if possible, Governor Olcott. The public is invited to attend and reservations should be made by calling Mrs. Dallas Baehs at Main 3206, or Mrs. J. L. Lowrey, Main 4198. Candidates who desire to appear may notify the committee by letter at 318 Platt building, or call Mrs. Platt.

The Woman's Advertising club will meet for luncheon in the Tyrolean room of the Hotel Benson Friday at 12:15. Mrs. W. E. Rambo, who has spent many years in the orient, will speak on "The Business Girl of Turkey: Her Problems and Aspirations." A variety of Turkish costume will add a touch of color to the programme. The much discussed compulsory school bill will be debated. Mrs. V. D. Walker speaking in favor of the measure and Richard W. Montague against it. Miss Dorothy Wickham will be the soloist of the day, and her accompanist will be Mrs. A. E. Demore.

The general subject of children's reading will be discussed at the next regular session of the Arleta Parent-Teacher association to be held in the Arleta branch library next Wednesday night. The library staff has made arrangements for a display of the best reading material for the children at the time of the meeting and several interesting addresses on the subject will be made.
