

ALIENS TO BE SENT TO NATIVE LANDS

Motley Group of Seven Is Started From Portland.

OTHERS HELD IN JAIL

Whisky Smuggler, Purse Snatchers, Pauper, Stowaways and Hotel Proprietor to Go.

Seven undesirable aliens—a whisky smuggler, a pair of purse snatchers, a pauper, two stowaways and a Greek hotel man, whose income was the earnings of fallen women, were started back to the lands of their nativity yesterday by S. S. Bonham, inspector in charge of the local United States immigration office.

Three are headed for Japan, one for Ireland, two will be taken to the southernmost port of Mexico and the seventh will go to Hungary. The Japanese deportees were taken to Seattle on a noon train and will be placed aboard a vessel bound for the orient next Monday. The other four joined a carload of other aliens from Seattle and are now en route to San Francisco. At that city more undesirable aliens will be added to the party and sent to New York by special train.

Girls' Earnings Taken. George Takis, former proprietor of the New Royal hotel, 104 1/2 fourth street, who has made a bitter fight against deportation, is the alien who will be dumped on the shores of Greece. Takis was arrested by the police last summer after two young American girls sought in a raid on his resort, admitted that the hotel man had taken the greater part of their pitiful earnings from them.

According to immigration officials, Takis has lost everything that is his in the United States. When he was arrested he owned a hotel valued at $50,000. Unable to meet the demands of a mortgage holder, he lost the furniture, then lost his home. Though Takis has been in America for 15 years, he made no attempt to take out citizenship papers. He is going back to his native land in the same financial condition as when he arrived— penniless.

James J. Crotty, a native of Ireland, will be transported to that nation. He is being deported on the grounds that he is a public charge.

According to Inspector Bonham, Crotty is a typical wanderer. He has spent almost his entire life at sea. His deportation is the second in his case. He was deported once before because he sold liquor to native negroes. Crotty entered the United States by means of a fishing ship at Galveston several years ago. He did not pass the entrance examination at that port, and, despite the fact that he contracted tuberculosis while working in the mines in Colorado, became subject to deportation.

Mexicans to Be Returned. Arthro Amivica and Samuel Lazar, Mexican youths, who have been convicted in police court on charges of purse-snatching and who recently completed terms in the county jail, will go to southern Mexico.

The three Japanese included two stowaways and a sailor who was caught in the attempt to smuggle liquor in America.

Another deportation party will leave Portland soon. At present there are 16 persons held in the county jail awaiting the receipt of removal orders from Washington. The deportation of Tony Kotsakis, partner in shame with George Takis, was temporarily held up in the federal court yesterday morning. Kotsakis was scheduled to be returned to Greece with Takis. He applied for his freedom on a writ of habeas corpus, but Judge Bean yesterday morning refused to issue the writ. Kotsakis' attorney, through filing notice of appeal to the circuit court of appeals, was able to obtain from the federal judge a stay, by which the immigration authorities were forbidden to carry out the deportation order until the appeal has been heard. In the meanwhile Kotsakis will be held without bail in the county jail.

POINDEXTER IS PRAISED

Campaign for Re-election Boosted by Senator Jones.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., Nov. 1.—(Special.)—United States Senator Jones spoke here tonight at a republican rally at the Keylor Grand theater, talking generally of campaign issues by giving considerable attention to the candidacy of Senator Poindexter, up for re-election. Republican county candidates were introduced at the meeting, which was also featured by music.

Senator Poindexter, he declared, will become chairman of the naval committee in the spring through the operation of the seniority rule, and that no new member could hope to rise to a position of influence for years. Influential positions are now held by both Washington senators through long service, he said. The speaker also praised the work of Representative Summers.

SCHOOL FORMS CHAMBER

Junior Organization to Discuss Civic Problems at The Dalles.

THE DALLES, Or., Nov. 1.—(Special.)—With about 350 members of the sophomores, juniors and seniors of The Dalles high school in attendance, it was decided at a meeting held this morning at the school to form a Junior chamber of commerce.

The organization would work with The Dalles-Wasco county chamber and would have as its object the furtherance of community interest in boys and girls of high school age. It was suggested that the Junior chamber as its first work take up the proposition of obtaining suitable legible street signs for the city. Another meeting will be called soon. It was decided, at which time a constitution and by-laws will be discussed and officers elected.

Corvallis is said to be the only other city in the state with an organization of this kind.

LIQUOR CAUSES DIVORCE

Banker's Son Loses Wife He Is Said to Have Beaten.

In an oral finding in which Circuit Judge Gatens said the testimony had shown that Walter L. McDougal, reported to be the son of a millionaire banker of Buffalo, N. Y., was a gross and habitual drunkard, a decree of divorce was given Isabel McDougal, the wife. The decree was granted on cross-complaint of Mrs. McDougal, the husband having filed the original suit last April. "Any man who will strike his wife gives ample grounds for divorce," said Judge Gatens in granting the decree. The evidence had disclosed that McDougal had assaulted his wife and that he spent as much as $400 a month for liquor, the judge pointed out.

Mrs. McDougal got custody of Walter Jr., aged 5 years; $150 a month alimony and $750 suit money. McDougal was formerly conserved with the firm of Charles C. Fagan & Co., automobile dealers. He is not now engaged in business, but receives $200 a month from his father and has other income of $200 a month, according to the testimony. The father is said to be Elliott C. McDougal, prominent in the banking business at Buffalo.

SHOW OFFICIALS MOVE

EXPOSITION STAFF GOES TO PAVILION TODAY.

Livestock Champions From All Parts of Country Continue to Arrive for Exhibit.

Early this morning General Manager Plummer of the Pacific International Livestock exposition and his staff of aides, clerks and stenographers, together with office equipment will be moved out to the ten-acre stock show pavilion at North Portland.

Purebred livestock champions are now pouring in hourly from all over the western country, and the dairy, beef, sheep and swine barns are filling up rapidly. The section reserved for show and draft horses is nearly filled.

Among the notable arrivals expected tomorrow will be Oregon's world record Jersey cow, Lad's Iota, owned by S. J. McKee of Independence. Iota's stable mate and inseparable chum, Rhonda, Lad's lady, will accompany the dairy queen, and the two will be installed in a fancifully decorated booth which will be an exact reproduction of the typical cottage barn utilized on the isle of Jersey for the housing of cows.

COURT COMPLETES WORK

Eighteen Cases Argued or Submitted at Pendleton Session.

PENDLETON, Or., Nov. 1.—(Special.)—The Oregon supreme court closed its session at 5 o'clock this afternoon with the last case argued and submitted. A total of 18 cases have either been argued or submitted.

The case of the Northern Pacific Railroad company et al., appellants, vs. the John Day Irrigation company et al., respondents, occupied the entire morning session. The last appeal heard was that of George Carmichael, appellant, vs. Mabel E. Carmichael, respondent, in which the original plaintiff obtained a divorce from the defendant and remarried. The divorce later was set aside. The plaintiff then sued again for divorce from his first wife, but this was not granted, and finding himself with two legal wives, he was forced to carry the question to the supreme court.

NEW FACTORY ASSURED

Sec-der Company to Use Oregon Woods in Its Products.

The Sec-der Manufacturing company, incorporated yesterday for $25,000, will establish immediately a manufacturing plant to utilize Oregon woods, it was announced yesterday by officials of the new concern. The new plant will be at the southeast corner of Larrabee and Delay streets.

The site selected for the plant provides for both rail and water shipping facilities. The incorporators are E. J. English of Harlowton, Mont.; J. P. English and S. A. Marrette of Portland. About 10 men will be employed when the plant starts active operation within 30 days.

MORE BUSINESS SIGHTED

Northern Pacific Plans to Increase Its Rolling Stock.

ABERDEEN, Wash., Nov. 1.—(Special.)—Fifty locomotives and 3000 freight cars are to be added to the rolling stock of the Northern Pacific railroad within the next six months, according to Vice-President Rapelle, who was in Aberdeen today.

Improved business conditions, which he said would reach "an era of great prosperity in 1923," led to the decision to increase the rolling stock. The cars are to be added immediately and the engine early next year, he said.

F. W. Leadbetter Files Suit.

Suit of a friendly nature seeking an order of the court for partition of some ten parcels of real property owned jointly by F. W. Leadbetter and H. L. Pittock at the time of the latter's death in 1917 was filed in circuit court yesterday by Mr. Leadbetter. O. L. Price and C. A. Morden, trustees under the will of Mr. Pittock, and the individual beneficiaries under the will are named as defendants. It is asked that a referee be appointed and that upon acceptance and confirmation of the referee's report partition of the properties be decreed.

MEDFORD HAS BIG FIRE

LOSS OF WAREHOUSE AND GROCERIES $200,000.

Branch House of Mason Ehrman Company Is Destroyed; Origin of Blaze Is Mystery.

MEDFORD, Or., Nov. 1.—(Special.)—The Medford branch house of the Mason Ehrman Wholesale Grocery company of Portland, whose big building and stock were burned by fire starting inside from an unknown cause at midnight last night, resumed business in the Bardwell Fruit warehouse this morning, and will be domiciled there until arrangements are made for permanent quarters. Both the stock and the building are practically covered by insurance. The brick structure was owned by the Medford Warehouse company, whose loss is estimated at about $20,000. It is thought that the structure will be rebuilt, as its walls do not seem seriously damaged.

The grocery stock is a total loss and its value was between $150,000 and $200,000, according to George T. Collins, district manager of the Mason Ehrman company. It was the largest fire in point of financial loss that Medford has ever had and was witnessed by many citizens. Mr. Collins says the cause of the fire is a mystery. He said every precaution, with the exception of a sprinkler system, had been taken and that fire inspectors had recently gone over the building and had returned a favorable report.

The basement of the building today contained water seven or eight feet deep and boxes of merchandise were seen floating on the surface while many other boxes such as syrup, molasses and about $25,000 worth of canned goods recently purchased from the Bullis cannery here, as well as a carload of salt, were submerged.

Several carloads of grocery stock were in the local railroad yards and eight or 10 carloads were on route nearby at the time of the fire.

TREE CRUSHES LOGGER

August Ulrich, 19, Killed When Log Catches Hemlock.

ASTORIA, Or., Nov. 1.—(Special.)—August Ulrich, a logger employed at the Chester Pine Logging company's camp in the upper Lewis and Clark river district, was injured last night while at work in the camp and died a few hours later. The young man was working as a chaser. As a large log was being hauled out it struck a hemlock tree, the top of which broke off and struck Mr. Ulrich, crushing his chest. The logger was a native of Germany, 19 years of age, but came to this country when an infant and had resided near Olney practically all his life. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ulrich, three brothers and two sisters, Adolph, May, Harold, Hilda and John Ulrich.

Explosion Hurts Druggist.

CENTRALIA, Wash., Nov. 1.—(Special.)—Charles A. Young, prominent Centralia druggist, was seriously injured yesterday afternoon when a bottle containing drugs exploded, his face being badly cut and some of the glass penetrating his eye. Mr. Young had just filled a prescription and was shaking the bottle when the accident occurred. It will be a week before it can be determined whether or not the sight of his eye is impaired.

TACOMA GETS CONVENTION.

TACOMA, Wash., Nov. 1.—(Special.)—Announcement that the annual convention of the Washington state chamber of commerce will be held in Tacoma December 5 and 6 was made today by E. P. Kemmer, managing secretary of the Tacoma Chamber of Commerce. The decision to hold the convention in Tacoma was made known in a letter from N. B. Coffman of Chehalis, president of the organization. More than 100 delegates from the commercial organizations of the state are expected to attend the sessions here. The state chamber of commerce was organized three years ago.

VOTE FOR Thos. K. Campbell

Republican Candidate for Public Service Commissioner

Thos. K. Campbell was appointed a member of the Commission when it was first organized. He filled the position for ten years and at a time when it commanded the respect and confidence of the people. That confidence was merited because Campbell and his associates were continuously bringing about improvements in service and reductions in rates.

The time has come when the Commission should be brought back to its old moorings and again made a servant of the people. Campbell will perform that service if elected Commissioner.
