

TOPNOTCH ELEVENTHS OPPONENTS TODAY

Nebraska Meets Syracuse;
Florida Faces Harvard.

LAFAYETTE TO GET TEST

Washington and Jefferson to Be Played; Game Billed as Clash of All-Americans.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Intersectional games and gridiron tussels between teams of extraordinary playing caliber and records feature the football card in the east tomorrow.

The University of Florida faces Harvard; Nebraska meets Syracuse, while Princeton and Cornell will meet in the intersectional portion of the schedule. In this city Lafayette will clash with Washington and Jefferson, and what has been termed the nearest approach to a game between two all-American elevens is expected.

Brown Plays Yale.

In the second flight of the afternoon Brown, from a surprising Columbia will try to check Cornell's powerful scoring machine; Princeton will entertain Swarthmore; Holy Cross and Georgetown will clash; Dartmouth lines up against Boston university and Amherst will grapple with Wesleyan.

Little reliable information is available in the east regarding the actual playing strength of the three teams which invade the section for tomorrow's contests. While all have good records in their own territory, the schema of attack and the caliber of opponents to date is more or less vague.

By a strange coincidence Florida, Nebraska and Alabama are all heavy, powerful combinations and their weight appears to be formidable. The Princeton party is understood to boast a line which averages 200 pounds to the man.

Crimson to Start Sulls.

Harvard will start a team composed in the main of substitutes against Florida, but the coaches will have their best players available in case they are needed. With the Princeton contest, but a week away, and another in which Harvard desires to save the first-string men, there is no time to be had.

Nebraska made an excellent showing during its eastern invasion a few seasons ago. At that time the western eleven included many of the leading schools who did not appear to reach the full limit of their football possibilities. Under the coaching of Dawson this defect is said to have been remedied. Syracuse also has a squad of unusually husky players who add great explosive power to the game against Penn State and Brown.

Offensively, the Syracuse eleven is not impressive, but the possibilities are that this team may find itself in the Nebraska struggle.

Penn Has Powerful Team.

Pennsylvania's remarkable comeback and overthrow of the navy may be the combination of one of real gridiron worth. While Alabama may prove a force of unexpected strength, the Quakers should be able to hold the southeners in check unless there is a let-down following the victory over the middles.

Brown undoubtedly will give Yale a hard contest. With the Princeton and Harvard games rapidly approaching the Ell coaches doubtless will endeavor to save their best players as far as possible from the Princeton injury. It would not put the burden of battle on Brown and the resultant scoring is likely to be both close and low.

A similar situation will prevail at Princeton. The Tigers, fresh from their victory at Chicago, and facing a grueling struggle with Harvard next Saturday, are not likely to throw the last ounce of power into the Swarthmore game.

Lafayette Slight Favorite.

In the meeting of Lafayette and Washington and Jefferson, two teams with unblemished records, will clash. Both have swept through two seasons without a defeat. The players of the two schools are close to the last word in football. Lafayette is a slight favorite, but the margin of advantage is so narrow that the elevens may be said to be evenly matched.

Princeton's team should defeat Columbia. Dartmouth is not expected to have any difficulty in winning from Boston university and Pittsburg should defeat Geneva. The Lehigh-Colgate, Georgetown-Holy Cross and Amherst-Wesleyan games are likely to be close.

GOPHERS, BADGERS TO PLAY

Undefeated Big Ten Elevens Face Crucial Game.

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—Minnesota and Wisconsin, two powerful and undefeated western conference elevens, will clash in Minneapolis tomorrow in the most important contest of the day on mid-western grids. While Illinois meets Northwestern at Urbana, No other contests bearing on Indiana's "big ten" title are scheduled. Indiana, however, will engage in its annual game with Notre Dame at South Bend while Michigan will take the field against Washburn at Lafayette. Chicago, Ohio State and Iowa will rest for important games a week later.

Northwestern has a fighting chance to defeat Illinois, which has been twice beaten in two conference starts. Northwestern has not played since its game with Minnesota two weeks ago, and the team in perfect condition is expected to give Illinois one of the hardest-fought games of the season.

The Notre Dame and the Indiana contest will be the first contest between these universities since the agreement to play home-and-home games. Notre Dame's previous years' game was usually played in Indianapolis. Considering the performances of both elevens this season, Notre Dame is expected to be remained. Indiana has been beaten by Wisconsin and Minnesota, and was held to a tie early in the season by Depauw.

Indications are that Coach Yost, mentor at Michigan, will keep most of his stars on the side lines, and substitute into the game against the Michigan Aggies.

NAVY 14, PENN STATE 0

LIONS MEET FIRST DEFEAT
IN THREE YEARS.

Midshipmen Stage Great Comeback After Beating by Pennsylvania Week Ago.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 3.—Pennsylvania State suffered its first football defeat today in three years, going down before the powerful Navy eleven. In marking up a 14-to-0 score, the midshipmen staged a comeback after their beating by the University of Pennsylvania last week and evened up the count following their defeat by the Nittany Lions just a year ago.

In the hot and sultry weather both teams got away to a ragged start, but after that each side displayed a remarkable balance of play that furnished plenty of excitement for the largest and most distinguished crowd that ever attended a football game in Washington. Governor Sproul and his official staff came from Harrisburg to see the Lions while officials of Washington were largely represented. Members of the cabinet, as well as foreign diplomats, navy and army officers and others in official life were on hand.

Penn State twice carried a threat to the Navy in the first period, once with long charges and again by recovering a fumble, but it lacked the punch to carry the ball over and on each occasion Palmer tried to a field goal failed. Then the forward and double pass game of the Lions came into play, a little of punting for the midshipmen, until the closing minutes of play. Then it was too late.

TILDEN WILL NOT RETIRE

Game to Be Maintained Despite Injury to Finger.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 3.—William T. Tilden, II, national tennis champion, declared today that whatever the result of the injury to his finger, which may stiffen and handicap his play, he will not retire.

"Tell the tennis players I'll be on the courts next year," he said. "I suppose I'll play tennis again, but I can't take what's coming to me. I have beaten others, there's no reason why I shouldn't take alicking when my time comes. One thing you can bank on—I won't retire. Whoever wins the championship will have to dispose of me first, of course, if I am able to walk on the court."

Asked who would win if he lost, he replied:

"William M. Johnston. He played a wonderful game last season and seems to be getting better."

Challis to Play Grays Harbor.

CHEHALIS, Wash., Nov. 3.—(Special)—The Chehalis high school football team has gotten off to a poor start, its members will fight hard at Hoquiam tomorrow at 2:30 P. M., when the Grays Harbor team will be played.

Others in the Chehalis, Bellingham, Saha, Scherer and Teesear, making it impossible for them to keep up practice work, possibly some of these men may not engage in Saturday's game. Coach Keats Hunter is putting his substitutes through the usual drill, these exercises and an effective lineup will be put into the game. Owing to the question of ineligibility of Frank Mitchell and Perry Mitchell the locals are shoo very strong men, the former a star back and the latter a star halfback. The local boys will take the field against Keweenaw and Rotarians, members will take the Chehalis team to Hoquiam for Saturday's game and Olympia lose to Hoquiam for the locals to lose the league title.

Schneider to Play Grays Harbor.

CHEHALIS, Wash., Nov. 3.—(Special)—Harry Schneider, the Seattle "Fighting Irishman," has issued a challenge to Ted Krache, Grays Harbor lightweight pride, who last Monday stopped Morgan Jones. Indications are, however, that Krache will be matched with one or two other boys before taking on Schneider, his manager, said.

At the top, left, is Bob Peleour, former Stanford university end, whose end play for Multnomah has been a feature of club football games for two years. Peleour is one of the best ends on the Pacific coast. At the right is Frank Busch, tackle, a husky young giant who used to play for Whitman college and later at Stevens Tech in the east. Below is Frank Stewart, star center, one of the best pivot men ever developed at Oregon Agricultural college.

OREGON IN BETTER SHAPE

CRIPPLES ARE RECOVERING FROM INJURIES.

Scrimmage to Be Held Several Times Before Cougars Are Played Next Week.

ABERDEEN PLAYS OLYMPIA

400 Rooters to Accompany Eleven for Game Today.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Nov. 3.—(Special)—With 400 rooters as company the Aberdeen high school football team will invade Olympia tomorrow for the game that will virtually decide the championship of southwest Washington high schools.

Olympia has one more league game to play after tomorrow, that with Hoquiam two weeks later. Should Olympia win this game it would be necessary for Aberdeen to win its several remaining games and Olympia lose to Hoquiam for the locals to lose the league title.

Casey Challenges Krache.

ABERDEEN, Wash., Nov. 3.—(Special)—Harry Casey, the Seattle "Fighting Irishman," has issued a challenge to Ted Krache, Grays Harbor lightweight pride, who last Monday stopped Morgan Jones. Indications are, however, that Krache will be matched with one or two other boys before taking on Casey, Dick Large, his manager, said.
