

ENGLISH SULTANATE REPORTED FALLEN

New Government Replaces Ottoman Empire.

GUNS ROAR DECISION

Soldiers and Civilians Celebrate With Bands and Torches; Holiday Proposed.

LONDON, Nov. 3.—(By the Associated Press.)—A report that the Turkish national assembly at Angora has passed a law suppressing the sultanate of Turkey and the law of succession to the throne is contained in a dispatch to the Associated Press from its Constantinople correspondent, who quotes dispatches from Angora.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 3.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Angora assembly last night decided unanimously that it is invested with sovereign rights and that the Turkish nationalist government is the key to the caliphate, and today the newspaper carried the following headline: "Ottoman Empire Collapsed. In Its Place There Has Arisen New National Turkish State—Sultanate Abolished."

GUNS ANNOUNCE DECISION. The assembly's decision was announced by a salute of 101 guns. Immediately the soldiers and civilians began to celebrate with the blast of military bands and the bright flares of torch-bearers.

Two resolutions were unanimously adopted by the assembly. The first said that, by virtue of organic statute and representation, sovereign rights had been vested in an inalienable and indivisible manner in the Angora assembly, which was the only emanation of the nation. The second resolution declared that the caliphate was vested in the imperial family of the Ottoman dynasty, but that the Turkish government remains the key to the caliphate. The selection of the caliph is to be made by the grand national assembly of Turkey, which will choose that member from the imperial family who is the most instructed, the best educated, the most honest and the wisest.

Holiday Is Proposed. After these resolutions had been unanimously accepted, amid applause, Premier Reuot Ray addressed the tribune and proposed the proclamation of a national holiday on the anniversary of reaching this decision.

The collapse of the Turkish sultanate brings to a termination the peculiar situation which has obtained in Turkey since the world war, with the ruling power of the country in dispute between the sultan, or sultan's government in Constantinople, and the nationalists, with their capital at Angora. Sultan Mohammed VI, the ruler whose power is declared at an end by the nationalists, is the 36th in male descent of the house of Ottoman, founded in 1299, and the 13th since the Moslem conquest of Constantinople. He succeeded to the throne on July 3, 1918, after the death of his brother, Sultan Mohammed V.

CATTLE AND HORSES NEEDED

Greek and Armenian Nationalists Take Animals in Evacuation.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 3.—(Associated Press.)—A large number of Greeks and Armenians have been evacuated from eastern Thrace and who forcibly took with them cattle and transport animals instead of food supplies has created a situation in eastern Thrace that the allied commissioners in Constantinople are attempting to deal with. Rear-Admiral Bristol, American high commissioner, reported today to the state department.

MT. ANGEL-BEND LINE WAITS Decision of Supreme Court on Stock Division Is Issue.

BEND, Or., Nov. 3.—(Special.)—Plans of the Portland & Southeastern railroad for reconstruction from Mount Angel to Bend, now await only the decision of the United States supreme court on the stock division case taken up six months ago, said H. H. Huson, vice-president and chief engineer for the company. Mr. Huson has been in Bend for two days, awaiting an answer from the railroad commissioner of the Bend commercial club to his request that the club favor interstate commerce commission consideration of all possible railroad routes between the Willamette valley and central Oregon. Mr. Huson's request followed the completion of the Bend Commercial Club by H. H. Corey of the state public service commission seeking to force construction of the Natron cutoff. If the litigation now pending its end had not been started, Bend would now have rail connection with Portland over the Cascades via Hog Pass and Mount Angel, said Mr. Huson.

NATRON CUT-OFF URGED

(Continued From First Page.) Before the presidents of both the Southern Pacific and Union Pacific, together with other officials of the two lines contending for the Central Pacific property, it was stated that the National Pacific system was being planned to neither side, since it counseled a separate Central Pacific property, and harsh words were spoken of both the Southern and Union Pacifics.

Action More Diplomatic.

It was patent that the action of the chamber directors yesterday was wiser on the wheel of the Southern Pacific, since the special committee report declared for disinvestment of the Southern Pacific-Central Pacific system, whereas the resolutions of yesterday were not of a like effect. Instead, they were much more diplomatic, and, in leaving the problem up to the interstate commerce commission, they strike a responsive chord at Southern Pacific headquarters, since that company relies upon the interstate commerce commission to bear out its claim to control of the Central Pacific and points to its tentative grouping of the Southern and Central properties into one system last year as a preliminary step in accomplishing the merging of United States railroads into 19 distinct systems in accord with the transportation act.

STOCK SHOW ON TODAY

LEADERS RUSH AID TO FREILINGHUYSEN

Eleventh-Hour Effort Made to Save Senator.

EDGE POPULAR AT HOME

Gentleman's Agreement for Election of Edwards and Runtyon Is Indicated.

BY LLOYD LONERGAN. NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—(Special.)—The outstanding feature in the last week of the political campaign was the gathering of big republicans in New Jersey in an 11th-hour effort to save Joseph S. Freilinghuyesen, United States senator.

It was seen some time ago that Freilinghuyesen would have hard sledding but the senator and his adherents apparently did not realize this until very recently. Now, as a result of the S. O. S. political signals sent out, the following big signs are being prominently displayed:

United States Senator Lenroot of Wisconsin, United States Senator McMillan of Colorado, chairman of the national republican committee, with United States Senator Sterling of South Dakota and Representative Hicks of New York, appealed to New Jersey republicans to support Freilinghuyesen. On October 31 Secretary of State Hughes, Speaker Gillette and Senator Sterling urged Jersey City. Assistant Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt, popular because of his anti-imperialism, also was impressed into service, as were a number of other well-known orators, business men and politicians.

Edge strong at home. Freilinghuyesen, it must be admitted, is much more popular in Washington than he is in New Jersey. Walter Edge, his republican colleague, has more strength in the state than he possesses in the national capital. And Edge, while publically supporting his colleague, is not working overtime to help him. During his six years of public office-holding Freilinghuyesen has spent most of his time in Washington. He always had the car of the president when any patronage was handed out, while it was seldom that Edge was consulted.

Resolved, that the Portland Chamber of Commerce, having implicit confidence in the judgment of the interstate commerce commission, respectfully requests and urges the interstate commerce commission in its consideration of the railroad groupings in the Pacific states that only such groupings will be made as will insure the fullest development of the resources of the Pacific coast.

Resolved, that we respectfully urge the interstate commerce commission to complete the following: 1. Completion of the Natron cutoff connecting Eugene, with connecting line to the Klamath Falls, with an extension to Westwood Junction, thus bisecting the present branch of the Central Pacific, joining the main line of the latter at Westwood, thus giving the Willamette valley from Eugene to Portland two lines of railroad to California.

Resolved, that because of the uncertainty of development or otherwise of further facts or other matters which may affect the judgment of the Portland Chamber of Commerce, it is recommended that the interstate commerce commission be requested to supplement these resolutions as future conditions may make it seem proper to do so.

SFORZA DUE IN ROME

Paris Envoy Responds to Summons of Premier After Being Told to Retain Post.

ROME, Nov. 3.—(By the Associated Press.)—Premier Mussolini has appointed Baron Avezzano to the post of Italian ambassador at Washington, vacated by the recent resignation of Vittorio Rolandi Ricci.

Baron Avezzano was first appointed ambassador to the United States in October, 1919, to succeed V. Macchi di Cellere, who died in Washington. Before his appointment Baron Avezzano was Italian minister to Greece. He was in Washington for about a year and was succeeded by Signor Rolandi Ricci.

Baron Avezzano, since his departure from the United States has undertaken several special missions for his government. Premier Mussolini has accepted the resignation of Signor Frazzati, the ambassador to Germany.

Count Sforza, the ambassador at Paris, is expected here tomorrow. Premier Mussolini has ordered Sforza to remain at his post after a telegram from Premier Mussolini, who told him to resign only because he wished to facilitate the task of the new government.

Premier Mussolini, accompanied by Baron Russo, visited today the various ambassadors now in Rome and announced his intention of calling on the subject of his resignation. The visits paid today were to the British, American, Japanese, Brazilian and German ambassadors.

ISSUES TOLD AT GASTON

Large Crowd Heeds Republican Address of Mr. Tongue.

GASTON, Or., Nov. 3.—(Special.)—Thomas Tongue of Hillsboro, republican party leader, addressed a meeting here last night at the Knights of Pythias hall. The meeting was called by Glenn T. Stinson, chairman of the republican committee at the Gaston district, who presided. There was a large crowd.

Gaston is a farming community and when the farmer attends a political meeting in town after a hard day's work it means that he is very much interested. The farmers were not disappointed last night when Mr. Tongue thoroughly went over some of the issues that confront the farmer. F. W. Livermore, candidate for county commissioner for Washington county, also spoke.

FLIERS SPEED ON WAY

Day was just breaking when Major H. H. Arnold, commandant at Rockwell field, with Captain Robert Ervin, his assistant, and Lieutenant John McCallum, adjutant, arrived at the field. Macready and Kelly soon joined them and after a few seconds of consultation the machine started at the rapidly in which the heavily laden plane attained altitude gave way to relief among the flyers at Rockwell field, as all fears that the light air engine could be wrenched out of its bearings would result in the plane dropping to a dangerously low altitude were dispelled. The light air of Arizona had wrecked on the transitional plane but the mighty T-2 went through it with exceptional speed. Macready and Kelly averaged close to 85 miles an hour for the first 200 miles and 63 miles an hour in Tucson to the Texas border, considered fast time in view of the tremendous weight carried. The flyers expected to maintain a speed of 95 miles an hour during the flight from Tucuman to St. Louis, which was expected to be completed in 24 hours.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 3.—Two large bombing army airplanes en route from Langley field, Virginia, to Kelly field, Texas, were severely damaged when forced by engine trouble to land in Missouri today, according to a report brought by passengers in a third plane which landed here safely today at Richards field.

The occupants of the two planes were slightly bruised and scratched, but otherwise were not injured, it was said.

One of the bombers landed at Napoleon, Mo., 30 miles from Kansas City. The other went around at Troy, Mo., 180 miles away. The planes were on the way to Kelly field for use in the advance bombing school conducted by the army.

EUGENIGS PLEDGE ASKED

CHICAGO GIRL GRADUATES PROTECTED AS BRIDES.

Movement Begun to Safeguard All Future Wives Against Men With Social Diseases.

(By Chicago Tribune Leased Wire.) CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—Superintendent Mortenson of Chicago public schools, backed by various medical bodies, judges and social workers, has inaugurated a movement whereby every high school girl reaching the point of graduation will be urged to take a pledge to demand from the man she contemplates marrying a certificate of clean health.

Approximately 4500 girls are graduated from the Chicago city schools every year and physicians and others argue that if these prospective brides demand health certificates before marrying they will have taken a tremendous stride toward wiping out insanity, blindness, miserable homes and other tragedies traceable to the transmission of social disease.

The new ruling in the high schools calls for added instruction on eugenics by the deans during the last year in school. The evil traits of misery that certainly follows the marriage of persons who are unfit will be made so clear and vivid that it is expected every girl will sign the pledge. These instructions will be given by physical instructors to segregated classes.
