

PARADE WILL PASS IN REVIEW THROUGH PRINCIPAL STREETS TONIGHT

Boosters for Exposition and Bridges to March.

MANY ENTRIES ARE MADE

Spectacular Illumination and Pyrotechnical Display Will Feature Pageant.

LINE OF MARCH
Parade Saturday, November 4, at 8 P. M.

Assembly on Fourteenth street, south of Morrison. East on Morrison to Eleventh; north on Eleventh to Alder; east on Alder to Broadway; north on Broadway to Pine; east on Pine to Fourth; south on Fourth to Alder; west on Alder to Fifth; north on Fifth to Oak; west on Oak to Sixth; south on Sixth to Morrison; east on Morrison to Fourth; south on Fourth to Main, where the parade will disband.

The amalgamated parade of the 1927 exposition boosters and the Burnside and Ross Island bridge proponents is scheduled to leave its formation point at Fourteenth and Morrison streets and pass in review along the principal thoroughfares of the west side business section at 8 o'clock tonight.

From the standpoint of the number of automobiles and citizens participating, spectacular illumination and pyrotechnical display, noise-producing devices, the parade should prove to be a pre-selection spectacle unique in the local history of things quasi-political.

Entries Come in Rapidly.
From late reports received by W. J. Hofmann, chairman of the parade committee, the industrial section, under the direction of Harry Beckwith, wherein the autos and floats of industrial enterprises and business houses are to appear, will surpass the most sanguine expectations of the exposition committee. In fact, the entries are coming in so rapidly and in such numbers that it is possible the line of march may have to be lengthened to accommodate the crowd.

Chairman Hofmann announced last night that all prospective participants in the parade who so desire may obtain their banners in advance by calling at the store of Tommy Luke, 141 1/2 Sixth street, at any hour prior to 6 P. M.

Bridge Section Is First.
As now arranged, the new bridge proponents will constitute the first section of the parade with the 1927 exposition forces following a few minutes later. Mayor Baker will officiate as grand marshal of the 1927 section with the exposition directors and the exarvans of the vanguard of the first division.

The general committee in charge of the parade includes W. J. Hofmann, chairman; Harry Beckwith, Joseph A. Davidson, Harvey Walsh and Walter Long; Otto Hartwig and George Olson in charge of the musical features; Tommy Luke in charge of banners; and Edward Grenfell in charge of illumination.

Reservoir Election to Be Held.
BOISE, Idaho, Nov. 3.—(Special.)—The election to create the American Falls reservoir district will be held some time in December. Judge Babcock of Twin Falls having ordered dissolved the temporary injunction directed to the Twin Falls county commissioners restraining them from calling the election. Had the restraining order not been issued the election would have been held this month. It is one of the most important irrigation elections ever held in the state because, if it is successful, the great American Falls irrigation project will go through, resulting in the construction of the American Falls dam.

Map showing line of march of tonight's pageant with numbers illustrating formation point of different sections. The various units of the exposition section will form in the following order:
1—Sollwood club, Kenneth Brown, marshal; Union Pacific, George S. Koch, marshal; Graham club, John Brown, marshal. 2—East Side club, L. M. Lopper, marshal; North Portland division, B. C. Darnall, marshal; Highway Butte division, F. Kruse, marshal. 3—Realty Board, T. O. Bird, marshal; Portland railway division, Fred Brace, marshal; Beaverton division, Labor Council float and cars, B. W. Sleeman, marshal. 4—Exposition directors, Caravan club, W. P. Meyer, marshal; Oregon Motor association, Dave Segar, marshal; Ad club, Ray Albee, marshal; 5—mill tax; Rotary club, George Crain, marshal; Progressive Business Men, Harry Coffin, marshal. 6—Vancouver and Hayden island divisions, Clement Scott, marshal; Peninsula division; industrial trucks, float and cars, Harry Beckwith, marshal. 7—Draymen's association, R. A. Chapin, marshal; auto dealers, A. S. Robinson, marshal; garage owners, Ralph Stebbins, marshal. All divisions not otherwise listed, also individual cars, trucks or floats, form east of Fourteenth street on Yamhill or Taylor streets.

STATUE IS PICTURESQUE

ROUGH RIDER TYPE CHOSEN BY SCULPTOR.

A. Phimister Proctor Arrives for Unveiling of Roosevelt Memorial Armistice Day.

Out of many distinct types of man he might have portrayed when he made the statue of Theodore Roosevelt, to be unveiled in Portland, Saturday, November 11, A. Phimister Proctor, sculptor, chose that of the rough rider because he considered it the most picturesque. Mr. Proctor, who has arrived in Portland and will remain over Armistice day, stated this yesterday.

"The uniform is more picturesque than the riding habit and also I believe it was the war that made Roosevelt president," Mr. Proctor declared. Many who saw the monument in New York criticized it because, they said, it made Roosevelt look too thin. "In 1894 and thereabouts Roosevelt was not the man physically that he was during his presidency when people knew him better," said Mr. Proctor. "And one of my motives in sculpturing the Roosevelt of that period is that it was his most picturesque time."

That the statue met the approval of those who know Roosevelt best, is shown by the fact that Mrs. Roosevelt and other immediate relatives visited Mr. Proctor's studio often, offered suggestions and upon the completion of the statue gave it their unqualified approval.

Two of Roosevelt's uniforms which he wore at San Juan were loaned to Mr. Proctor by Mrs. Roosevelt. Out of hundreds of men Mr. Proctor chose one to fit the uniform and modeled the monument from him with the aid of many photographs which he had at hand.

"My reason for choosing that type of horse for Roosevelt's mount was that I was sure it was the kind he would have liked to ride. I was not wrong, for his son said when he viewed it that it was almost exactly like a horse his father had owned."

Work in making the statue was of more than ordinary interest to him, Mr. Proctor said, because he was known both Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt personally.

LOVE VALUED AT $30,000

HUSBAND SUES FOR ALIENATION OF WIFE.

Rudolph Tarmann Accuses H. L. Christiansen of Enticing Mate Away.

The love, affection and attentions of his wife were worth $30,000 to Rudolph Tarmann. This is the sum, at least, which he seeks to collect from the man whom he says stole her away from him.

Tarmann filed suit yesterday in circuit court seeking judgment for $30,000 against H. L. Christiansen on the ground that Christiansen has stolen the affections of Maude Clark Tarmann, also known as Maude Clark Carman, and enticed her away from him.

The Tarmanns were married September 10, 1913, in Portland. They lived together happily, according to the husband's representations, until the wrongful and malicious acts of the defendant disrupted their home life. It is alleged that Christiansen last May began tactics of winning the affections of Mrs. Tarmann. The husband admits that she responded to Christiansen's advances and says they became quite intimate. By August the wife had become so enamored of her sleek lover that she was persuaded by him to come to Portland, the complaint says. It is alleged that Christiansen has since "harbored and detained" Mrs. Tarmann in this city.

In the legal phraseology of the complaint Tarmann says that because of the theft of his wife he has "suffered great distress of mind and body to his damage in the sum of $30,000."

The papers do not state where the Tarmanns were living at the time Mrs. Tarmann was enticed from their home.

'TRUE BLUE' TICKET IS HELD MISLEADING

Officials at Courthouse Register Protest.

CHARLES LOCKWOOD HIT

'Republican Club of Oregon' Is Declared to Consist of Only One Person, Lockwood.

Republican elective officials of the courthouse held an indignation meeting yesterday noon at which protest was registered against the action of Charles Lockwood's Republican club in Oregon in distributing its "true blue" ticket over a courthouse address. The conferees were almost equally emphatic in denouncing this ticket because it omitted the state ticket entirely.

The "blue" ticket being broadcast by the so-called republican club gives the club address as "545 courthouse." The county officials present in the chambers of Presiding Judge Stapleton said the address on the ticket gave the impression that this is a "courthouse ticket." They wanted it made plain to the public that officials of the courthouse family had nothing whatever to do with picking the ticket or issuing it.

Public Reputation Made.
"I would be in favor," said Sheriff Hurlburt, "of making Charles Lockwood publicly state that this is his ticket and that we here in the courthouse had nothing whatever to do with it."

Others agreed that this was a good suggestion, but thought a statement of the reputation by courthouse officials would save the public right in the matter. Criticism of Lockwood and his club for using the courthouse address was unanimously expressed.

The address given is that of department No. 7 of the circuit court, that of Judge Taxwell. Judge Taxwell was present and explained that he had known nothing whatever about issuance of the ticket and said he was surprised at the fact that it seemed to tie into his office.

Club Is Charlie Lockwood.
Discussion of the matter brought out the explanation that Carl Tregan, assistant court reporter and clerk of the court, had been doing typing and stenographic work for Lockwood's club. He did this work in room 54, and Lockwood explained to those who had interrogated him, that it was considered all right to print this on the ticket as the location of the club.

"The evident fact is," said Judge Stapleton, "that the headquarters of this club is wherever Charles Lockwood is. If he's in room 508 that's his headquarters, or if he's in the basement the headquarters is there. We're all agreed that his organization has no right to use the name of a headquarters in the courthouse. I think we are just as well agreed that we favor no ticket that ignores the state office."

Several of the conferees made similar remarks, some of them even stronger in declaring their support for Governor Egan and disapproval with any republican organization that ignored "the head of the ticket."

MICE OVERRUN ORCHARD
Wenatchee and Okanogan Districts to Have Poison Campaign.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Nov. 3.—(Special.)—Orchard mice are already beginning to overrun the orchards of the Wenatchee valley and are appearing in the orchards of the Okanogan valley where there were none last year. Leo K. Couch, biological assistant in charge of rodent control in the Washington district, was advised yesterday.

In the Okanogan the heaviest damage is reported in the vicinity of Brewster and Okanogan. "Poison campaign" laying down a barrage of grain with strychnine around the fruit trees, will be undertaken at once in the Wenatchee and Okanogan districts and already has been started in the Yakima district, Mr. Couch said.

What is your prize cake?

A famous domestic scientist recently asked a class of housewives, "What is your prize cake—the cake you like best to make and that is best liked by your family?" Two-thirds of the women voted "Chocolate cake!" This is the best way to make it—the famous Ghirardelli's Brown Stone Front Cake recipe that is looked on as an heirloom in many families:

Ghirardelli's Brown Stone Front Cake
First Part: 3/4 cup Ghirardelli's Ground Chocolate; 1/2 cup milk; 1/2 cup brown sugar; 1 beaten egg yolk. Second Part: 1/2 cup butter or substitute; 1 cup brown sugar; 2 eggs; 1/2 cup milk; 2 cups sifted flour; 2 teaspoons baking powder; 1/4 teaspoon soda; 1 teaspoon vanilla.
Cook First Part very slowly until thick, then cool. Sift flour, baking powder and soda. Cream butter, gradually add sugar, beat until creamy; Add the beaten eggs, sifted dry ingredients, and milk alternately; beat well. Add cold chocolate mixture and vanilla. Pour into 3 greased layer cake pans; bake in a moderate oven about 15 minutes. Cool; put together with Ghirardelli's Chocolate boiled icing made of left over egg white.

Prudence Penny, Director, Home Economics Los Angeles Examiner

3-tablespoonful grated Tillamook Cheese
16 sticks macaroni
2 cups minced ham
1-tablespoonful butter
1-tablespoonful flour
1 cup milk
1/2 teaspoonful pepper
1/2 cup stale bread crumbs
1-tablespoonful butter

Break macaroni in short lengths and cook until tender (about 30 minutes). Make white sauce of butter, flour, milk and pepper. Alternate layers in greased baking dish of macaroni, ham, white sauce and Tillamook cheese. Cover with buttered crumbs and bake until brown.
