MR. ARTHUR IS BACKED

FIGHT ON REPRESENTATIVE DECLARED AMAZING.

E. W. Barnes Has High Praise for Results Obtained by Oregon Delegation in Congress.

Oregon's congressional delegation has done wonders in Washington with regard to the development of the central and southern Oregon country, said E. W. Barnes, a local man who has been acting as emissary of Barnes and Grant counties in obtaining recognition of their needs.

"Since coming back to Portland where I usually make my home, I find a terrific fight is being waged against Representative McArthur," said Mr. Barnes. "Viewing this issue in Portland from the standpoint of the people and the light of my experience the past 12 months, I am frank to say I am amazed that the people of Portland should jeopardize their effective service at Washington at present by such a campaign as is taking place. Surely the development of Oregon and the bigger development of this city that must follow is of more importance than any of the issues that are being presented in connection with the fight on Mr. McArthur."

"On the whole I am constrained to say that the state's interests are being protected, now in an exceptional manner and out of this team work that I observed in Washington are coming greater returns for Oregon and Portland."

"The number was the most brilliant of the programme and brought prolonged applause. Mrs. Feldman's solo numbers were also lovely and were highly favored with applause. Lucien E. Becker, organist, played several numbers. His "Carmen Fantasy" (Bizet) was excellent and demonstrated the vast resources of the large pipe organ. Fred L. Brainerd, pianist, and Mrs. Becker gave the final number, the grand march from "Aida."

Mrs. Katherine Corruccini, dramatic contralto, appeared in two solos and again in duet with Miss Genevieve Gilbert, lyric soprano. Her solo, "Ah, Thine Own Silver Moon Were Mine" (Lohr) was especially notable. Miss Gilbert was at her best in "Quando Meno vo" from "La Boheme."

Edward Moschorsky, bass, appeared in two solo groups. "I'm a Pilgrim" (Johnson) and "Gypsy Love Song" (Herbert) won favor with the audience, and were beautifully sung.

BENEFACTOR IS ROBBED

Man Who Befriended Stranger Is Beaten Over Head.

Larceny and a flagrant violation of one of the oldest and most thoroughly revered canons in the code of every man is charged to a stranger by George Slaughter, 31 1/2 West Twenty-fourth street.

Slaughter told police yesterday that he took a desolate stranger to his room Saturday night only to wake up during the night to find a heavy shoe poised over his head and the hands of the man whom he had allowed to share his bed. A fight resulted, he said, in which the intruder broke a chair over his benefactor's back. There followed a period of insensibility from which Slaughter awoke, he said, to find cash amounting to $178 and two checks totalling $300 missing and the stranger departed.

Police are looking for the man described as about 35 years of age and five feet nine inches tall.

"I was stopped about a year ago by a policeman and was told that no one was arrested who drove 30 miles," Mr. Hurley told Judge Hackett. "Thirty-five isn't much more than that, is it?"

"Only five miles," said Judge Hackett. "Twenty-five dollars and costs."

To My Friends:

I ask your first choice vote for City Commissioner. Why? Because you know my qualifications.

To Friends of Other Candidates:

I ask your second choice vote. Why? Because I am trained in accounting, engineering, law and business; I am a registered engineer; I have visited and studied in thirty-one of America's largest cities, such problems as the efficiency of railroad terminals; co-ordination of rail and water transportation; street car, electric, gas and water service and other civic matters. For ten years I have been the technical expert on public utility matters for the Railroad and Public Service Commission of Oregon. I have one of the largest private libraries in the west on these subjects. So, with your friend and myself as city commissioners, you will be well served. I say this sincerely for I am allied with no faction.

Do People Like to Be Fooled? P. T. Barnum said so, but Lincoln said: "You can fool some of the people all the time and all the people some of the time, but you can't fool all the people all the time."
