

DEVELOP OREGON

On November 7th you are asked to vote on a constitutional amendment authorizing the city of Portland to levy within the city a tax of one million dollars a year for three years to finance the proposed 1927 EXPOSITION

The One Purpose of the Exposition Is the Development of Oregon and Oregon Resources

OREGON— twice the size of the state of New York and one of the richest sections of the country in the world in natural resources, has actually fewer people than the city of Los Angeles.
OREGON— has stood idly by while her neighbors to the north and south have developed their resources and increased their population.
OREGON— has only 8 people to the square mile while Washington has 20 and California 22.

Read What Secretaries Hoover and Wallace Have to Say About the 1927 Exposition

I have a high appreciation of the value of specialized expositions, not only for the spread of knowledge but for the advancement of the arts themselves and I believe that the forthcoming exposition at Portland will be a distinct contribution to the entire country.
HERBERT HOOVER, Sec. of Com.

There is no territory in which the department comes in intimate contact with the development of the country in more ways than on the Pacific coast. There is a tremendous field for development and for the establishment of thousands of new homes. There is an advantage to be gained from publicity attendant upon such an exposition and an opportunity for personal investigation and knowledge that would come to the visitors.
HENRY C. WALLACE, Sec. of Agriculture

It's Time to Tell the World About Oregon

The result of the 1927 Exposition will be to bring to Oregon energetic new citizens to make their homes, till the soil and found new industries

PRIMARY GROWTH SEEN

DIRECT VOTE FOR PRESIDENT EXPECTED BY BORAH

National Conventions Will Be Done Away With, Declares Senator From Idaho.

COEUR D'ALENE, Idaho, Nov. 5.—Prediction that the direct primary idea would progress in this country until the people of the United States vote directly for their president without the intervention of national conventions, was made here last night by United States Senator Borah in an address defending his stand on the direct primary.

Senator Borah is at odds with the state republican organization on the subject of the primary, the Idaho republican platform declaring for the old convention system. He pleaded with his audience to elect men to the state legislature who would put a direct primary law on the books, to safeguard their own interests.

"I want no quarrel with my friends of the republican party," declared Mr. Borah, "but I say unto them that this law is going to be written on the statute books, and this fight will not end until it is."

"The great world war was brought upon the nations of this earth, the people have learned, by irresponsible leaders. Then came the profiteers to pile up their millions. And when it was over, the people of the nations of the earth decided it was time for them to take a hand, and the result was revolution in Europe and the execution of princes.

"Do not overlook the fact also that the people of this country are awake, and that this fight will not end until the people vote directly to nominate the president of the United States."

GARAGE MAN IS BURNED

Ray Anderson of Hoquiam Meets With Serious Mishap.

HOQUIAM, Wash., Nov. 5.—(Special.)—Ray Anderson, of the Enderson garage, was seriously but not fatally burned yesterday when a fire at the garage. Having had some gasoline spilled on the back of his grass-covered working clothes, he was standing near a hot stove when his clothing suddenly caught fire.

His brother Ralph and others near by rushed to his aid, with a fire extinguisher and a blanket, and finally extinguished the flames after almost every shred of Ray's jumpers had been burned off.

SCHOOL TO FETE EDITORS

Sixty or Seventy Expected at Corvallis Home-Coming Programme.

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Nov. 5.—(Special.)—Letters are pouring in from Oregon editors accepting the invitation of the student body of the college to the Sigma Delta Chi "high jinks" and luncheon preceding the University of Oregon-Oregon Agricultural college football game homecoming week end. Seats at the game have been reserved for the 60 or 70 editors expected.

Students in the Oregon state chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, national journalistic fraternity, will be acting hosts to the editors, and girls in Scribner women's journalistic organization, will give a luncheon in honor of the editors' wives in the college tea room, while the editors are at Poling hall dining room.

Among the editors coming are Frank Jenkins, Eugene Register; Carl Abrams, the Pacific Homestead; Salem; M. L. Boyd, Polk County Itemizer; Dallas; R. B. Swenson, Monmouth Herald; W. R. Taylor, Molalla Pioneer; Bert Bates, Roseburg News-Review; E. M. Reagan, Albany Herald; P. R. MacMillan, Express, Lebanon; and Hal E. Hoss, Oregon City Enterprise.

THREE CONTESTS LOOM

Only Three Democrats Are in Race in Pacific County.

SOUTH BEND, Wash., Nov. 5.—(Special.)—With November 7 only two days off, only three political contests loom up in Pacific county, as there are three democratic candidates. The republicans have endorsed the following candidates for county offices: J. T. Stratton for state representative, T. J. Stephens for sheriff, J. L. O'Phelan for prosecuting attorney, Elbert Pedersen for treasurer, Walter Lovinger for clerk, M. H. Leach for assessor, J. Frank Miller for auditor, C. S. B. Henry for engineer, Mrs. Aretta Murdock for school superintendent, Ernest Leber for county commissioner first district, L. D. Williams for county commissioner second district, A. Dickinson, coroner. PROFESSOR IS HONORED

Students Set Aside Funds for James T. Matthews Chair.

WILLAMETTE UNIVERSITY, Salem, Or., Nov. 5.—(Special.)—The Willamette student body has set aside for the endowment of the "James T. Matthews chair of mathematics" the student pledges toward the forward movement.

Professor Matthews, himself a graduate of Willamette, has served as head of the mathematics continuously for the past 30 years. In gratitude for this service the students have chosen to direct their pledges toward the endowment of his chair of mathematics. Over $18,000 has been received in pledges, and at least $7000 more is expected. The communication, which is ad-

ALUMNI SPREAD AFAR

Agricultural Graduates Reported in All Parts of World.

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Nov. 5.—(Special.)—The sun never sets on Oregon Agricultural college graduates," is a statement of Miss Zelta Felke, alumni secretary, after completing the report for her alumni directory. Representatives in 44 states and 14 foreign countries are listed in the directory. Maine, Vermont, Mississippi and Tennessee are the only states lacking a graduate from the college.

Sixteen graduates are in Canada, 14 in the Hawaiian islands, 7 in India, 6 in the Philippine islands and 5 in China. Mexico and the continent of South America are the homes of four each. Two graduates live in Africa and two in Russia.

"Mindful of the place Professor James T. Matthews has won in our affection and esteem and having due regard for his long, beautiful and efficient service to Willamette university, we hereby request that the funds we shall pay toward the forward movement be set aside for the endowment of the James T. Matthews chair of mathematics by the classes of 1923-24-25-26."

HOQUIAM VOTERS COMPLAIN

HOQUIAM, Wash., Nov. 5.—(Special.)—Complaints are being voiced here over the lack of official information expected from the office of the secretary of state on the referendum and initiative measures to be voted on at the election tomorrow. On the nine measures, three amendments to the constitution, four referendums and two initiatives, pamphlets containing authentic information for voters were expected, but many registered residents of the city declare they have received no pamphlets if any such have been issued.

Spawning Conditions Good

HOQUIAM, Wash., Nov. 5.—(Special.)—Spawning conditions for salmon in the Upper Quinault river were found to be excellent by Ernest A. Senberg, state director of fisheries, and M. H. Russell, federal fisheries commissioner of the district, who returned from a visit of inspection of the territory. The beds are in good condition and the number of fish is satisfactory, they reported.

Baker Nuts Exhibited

BAKER, Or., Nov. 5.—(Special.)—Secretary Meacham of the chamber of commerce yesterday received a supply of filberts grown by Barney Eldson, on his farm in Eagle Valley. It is believed that these are the first nuts of the variety grown in that valley. The trees, according to Mr. Eldson, are eight years of age and have stood the cold weather when other trees have frozen. He also stated that the trees seem to be free from all pests. The nuts are of good size, very edible and compare favorably with nuts of the same variety grown elsewhere.

I am a Candidate for CITY COMMISSIONER

On a Platform of Straight Business Strict Economy

(No other promises)

"A Business Man for a Business Job"

My campaign is based solely on my record as a business man. For more than 20 years I have successfully managed my own business. That should be sufficient evidence of my ability. The city of Portland should do as any big corporation would do and hire a business man for a business job.

DR. J. D. DUBACK

There is no real reason why the residents of Portland should pay about four times as much for the collection and disposal of garbage as residents of other cities of similar size have to pay. I know from careful investigation that it is possible to have

Free Garbage Collection, or the Same Handled by Contract at a Much Less Cost Than Under the Present System

My investigation covers thirteen cities from one coast to the other and discloses the fact that it is actually costing us about four times as much as it should to perform this necessary public service. A real business man would not handle his business in this way and why should the city tolerate this great loss in a public way?

PUBLIC MARKET

Why allow the fruit vendor that rents from private parties to use the sidewalk for fruit and sales space? Why allow the Japs and Chinese the best public stalls to the exclusion of American citizens?

LET'S CLEAN UP THE PUBLIC MARKET

The man that is elected as city commissioner should be able to handle each situation in a strictly business way and at a great saving to the public.

If you want the city run on a business basis
