

NEGRO ASSAILANT CONVICTED BY MOB

Lynching by Crowd of 2000 Prevented by Police.

CHASE LEADS TO ROOFS

Man Who Attacked Girl, 8, Is Saved by Officers as Rope Is Being Put on Neck.

(By Chicago Tribune Leased Wire.)
NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Shouting "Lynch him" and "Hang him" a crowd of more than 2000 men and women chased a negro through the streets of "Hell's Kitchen" today, following his attack upon Helen Ryan, 8, in a hallway in West Forty-sixth street. After a thrilling chase the negro was caught on the roof of 406 West Forty-fifth street, where police reserves rescued him at the point of revolvers just as a rope was being placed about his neck.

"We'll shoot the first man who touches him," shouted two policemen as they held the crowd at bay on the roof. Still shouting the negro should be lynched, the crowd refused to leave the roof.

The chase through the streets and the shouts of the men and women had attracted so great a crowd that someone telephoned to the police for help. Reserves arrived in time to surround the negro, who gave his name as Alphonso Mayo of Memphis, Tenn., and bring him safely to the street.

Janitress Is Struck Down.
Following his attack upon the Ryan child, Mrs. Pauline Wenzel, a janitress, said Mayo struck and knocked her down, then turned to the rescue of little Helen, who had been followed from a bakery. She said the negro struck her in the face. Her screams attracted her son, Adolph, 18.

A desperate fight followed when the son of the janitress hit the negro. The negro whipped out a steel wrench, with which he struck young Wenzel on the head. Wenzel succeeded in getting the wrench from the negro, who then turned and ran across the face and on both hands. Wenzel fell to the floor and his mother and the Ryan girl continued to scream for help.

Chase Taken Up by Crowd.
Their screams attracted the neighbors and the sight of young Wenzel, whose face was stained, staggering into the street, aroused many persons coming out of their doors. Led by Mrs. Wenzel the crowd gave chase. The negro disappeared into a hallway in the rear of the building, followed closely by a mob of men and women. They were shouting he ought to be lynched. Over the housetops the chase continued. On top of 406 West Forty-fifth, Mayo, unable to open a skylight, was captured.

"Lynch him!" cried several men, while the woman shouted he should be hanged. A rope was obtained and several youths in the crowd were taking it about the negro's neck when Policemen Dunning and Cohen arrived.

OLCOTT IS SURE TO WIN

scored by either, although both were eager to claim it earlier in the campaign.

Watkins has dropped the school bill from the things he stands for in his advertising and it takes a diplomat to get an expression of any kind from Pierce on his stand in the measure.

Both are afraid of it as affecting their political fortunes is evident, and both are losing votes because of the fact that they declared for it earlier in the campaign.

Pierce's Blunders Recalled.
Of the several noteworthy blunders made by the Pierce campaign management the attack on the highway commission was said to have aroused the greatest ire throughout Oregon. When contrasted with the system of excellent highways and the progressive programs of the commission Pierce's pay-as-we-go substitute proposed for highway building is regarded as exceedingly dangerous and against the development of the state. Particularly in the eastern and coast counties, where the opinion often is expressed that the election of Pierce will mean farewell to realization of the Roosevelt highway. There is a widespread conviction that if given an opportunity to put his highway obstruction plans into practice Mr. Pierce would retard the development of Oregon by many years.

Sninot Sure to Win.
No apprehension is felt at republican headquarters respecting the prospects for the reelection of Representative Sninot, in the eastern Oregon district. It is predicted that he will win by a two-to-one vote.

Representative Hawley, of the first congressional district, has no opposition.

Precinct election officials, mindful of the late afternoon rush of voters at previous elections, are urging that voters cast their ballots as early as possible, inasmuch as this will tend to equalize the work of the boards and to expedite the returns.

PIERCE CROWD TIMOROUS
Offers of Olcott Money Find No Takers at All.

That supporters of Pierce are not unmindful of the marked change of public opinion, and now regard the position of the democratic candidate for governor as precarious, is attested by the fact that bets on Olcott to win are without takers. Though no odds are asked, it is known that considerable sums await the moment that each precinct in Lincoln county has placed its money on either candidate. Though the money was posted two days ago and though it is well known that wagers are to be sought there, the once voracious backers of Walter M. Pierce were said to have evinced no desire to cover it.

LINCOLN DECLARED OLCOTT'S
County Chairman Predicts Governor Will Beat Pierce.

NEWPORT, Or., Nov. 5.—(Special.)—G. A. Schumacher, chairman Lincoln county central committee, said today that each precinct in Lincoln county would go Olcott-for-governor by a healthy majority. He based his statement on reports reaching him from the precinct committee.

The compulsory educational bill is being widely discussed in this county at this time and indications point to the measure's defeat. Schumacher said. The county republican committee predicts that Olcott will carry Lincoln county by 700 to 1000 majority.
Lester Martin, ex-chairman of the republican central committee, predicts a full republican ticket being elected in Lincoln county with the exception of Judge James, for county judge, who has no opposition.
The Yaguna Bay News, local newspaper, issued a special edition here today, the first Sunday paper ever issued in Lincoln county. The

EX-TRACK CAPTAIN DIRECTS UNIVERSITY HOMECOMING.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON,
 Eugene, Nov. 5.—Leith Abbott, former captain of the University of Oregon track team, is in charge of the home-coming to be held on the campus November 10 and 11. Mr. Abbott inaugurated the plan of exchanging ambassadors with the University of Washington, who holds its home-coming on the same dates as the Oregon celebration. He has made arrangements, as one of the features of the annual gathering of alumni for a reunion of the Order of the "O." Winners at the Oregon-Washington State college game November 11.

A special edition was issued in the interests of the citizens' ticket, who have sponsored the new charter of the commissioner-manager form of government to be voted on for adoption or rejection at the election Tuesday. It is predicted that the new charter will carry by a good majority.

130,000 VOTES TO ELECT
75 Per Cent of Registration Expected to Cast Ballots.

SALEM, Or., Nov. 5.—(Special.)—Based upon 75 per cent of the total registration for next Tuesday's election it will require approximately 130,000 to elect a governor.
Although the actual vote cast in previous elections in this state has ranged as low as 50 per cent, there is every reason to believe that 75 per cent of the registered voters will go to the polls next Tuesday. In some parts of the state where local issues are at stake, the vote may exceed 90 per cent of the registration, according to reports received at the offices of the secretary of state.

Two years ago, which was presidential year, a total of 238,234 votes were cast for the candidates for United States senator. At that time the election only 60 per cent of the registered vote was cast.

The total registration for next Tuesday's election is 348,391, or a gain of 14,019 over the registration two years ago. This is an increase of approximately 4 per cent.
Of the total registration for this year's election 238,444 are republicans, 83,477 are democrats, 3755 are socialists and 11,169 are classified as miscellaneous.

OLCOTT VICTORY CLAIMED
Governor Stated to Carry Columbia County by 275 to 400 Votes.

ST. HELENS, Or., Nov. 5.—(Special.)—Republicans of Columbia county are confident that Olcott will carry the county by a substantial majority. The republican registration is 19,442 and the democrats number 1661. It is thought that a 45 to 70 per cent vote will be cast, and that event Pierce would have to get 1000 republican votes in addition to the solid democratic vote to carry the county.

Olcott is expected to run strong in the south end of the county and in the Nehalem valley and break even in those parts of the county where the religious and school campaign has waxed exceedingly warm. Political observers believe the governor will carry the county by 275 to 400 votes. The school bill contest seems likely to be a close race and both sides are claiming a small majority.

MAYFIELD'S NAME TO STAY
District Court's Order for One County Not Overruled.

AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 5.—Application to file mandamus proceedings to set aside the mandate of District Judge Roy of Fort Worth, directing that the name of Earle B. Mayfield be placed on the ballot in the election to be held in this county, was overruled by the state supreme court an hour after it was filed.

The overruled petition also was directed against the attorneys and agents of Mr. Mayfield, asking the court to enjoin them from bringing further action looking toward placing Mayfield's name on the ballot.

CITY GETS RECOGNITION
Portland Is Becoming Known in East, Says General Martin.

That Portland is becoming more and more favorably known as a shipping center throughout the east is the declaration of General Charles H. Martin of Washington, D. C., the owner of what is known as the Hughes estate lots in Irvington, who is visiting in this city.

General Martin, who has been absent from the city for some time, expressed delight at the manner in which Portland is forging to the front industrially. He expressed the belief that this city's future as one of the big industrial and shipping centers of the west was secure.

The Hughes estate originally owned about 400 lots in Irvington, but as a result of the recent selling campaign conducted by Ritter-Lov & Co. all but 168 have been disposed of.

DESERTED ARMOY HOUSES VICE RING

Youthful Petting Parties Are Held at Lafayette, Ind.

LOVE CIRCLE IS FORMED

Disinclination of Authorities to Prosecute Partially Blamed for Moral Breakdown.

BY GENEVIEVE FORBES.
(By Chicago Tribune Leased Wire.)
LAFAYETTE, Ind., Nov. 5.—Petting parties in a deserted armory; a crowd of youths from company E, 123d Indiana national guard, whose jobs as bellhops gave them much information regarding the unsavory side of local life; a disinclination on the part of some of the authorities to prosecute vice; the independence of the high school girls, and parents' lack of control over their children, are most responsible for the general breakdown of the moral code among a group of Lafayette young people, according to town officials, and to some of the boys involved.

This general tendency toward unrestrained pleasure and uncontrolled emotion resulted in the formation of a love circle for the purposes, not of romance, but of sabbies into experience and unknown emotions. This circle, investigation reveals, has a larger cast than the original six, whose preparatory elopement Tuesday night resulted in their return, under police orders.

Ex-Bellboy Gives Account.
Dave Buck, 17, formerly a bellboy at the Fowler hotel and a near-participant in the love escapade, gives the following account of the contract marriage couples:

Mary Alice Morehouse, 18, and Levan Cunningham, 18, appended at Bloomington; Mary Alice returned home and Levan went to Kansas City to get a job.

Mary Frances Small, 15, and Albert Cunningham, 15, caught at St. Louis and returned home.

Mabel Cartwright, 14, and Ray Lawson, 18, Mabel went, but Ray remained in jail at the time and could not elope.

Leonard Johnson, 16, and his "steady girl," Martha Busch, adopted daughter of Dr. E. B. Rusch, who backed out at the last minute, leaving Leonard free to substitute for Lawson.

All-Night Parties Held.
Miss Fouts, 19, and Blair Cartwright, 22, Mabel's sister, both decided not to go.

Dave Buck, 17, and "some girl," Dave had no money to buy gas for the motor trip and did not show up to meet the "girl."

The story, as told yesterday by Dave, sitting in the back room of the armory, traced the adventure in "im" thrills more to liquor, than to the knowledge the boys had of hotels, than to rouge, jazz, short skirts, movies or sex literature.

The armory at the corner of Third and North, is Dave explained, "a tough part of town. Nobody ever pays any attention to what goes on there. And when the fellows brought girls there they were extra-take in the back room so the caretaker wouldn't get wise."

Liquor Reported Plentiful.
"Sure, there was lots of liquor," he continued, as he recalled the drinking capacity of company E, which recently consumed 50 gallons of "mule" on a week trip to Tippecanoe.

The room showed evidence of gay parties. Up two flights of stairs, around a corner, it is secluded. The floor is strewn with cigarette stubs, whisky bottles, beer bottles, corks and soiled clothing. Three cot beds piled with shoes, bottles and bed clothing were in corners of the room.

ALBANY, Or., Nov. 5.—(Special.)—Quality of instruction and conditions in 17 rural schools visited during the past week by Mrs. Edna Geer, county school superintendent, was uniformly high, according to her report.
