each of us, written in the dark and presumably by the direct hand of Local Organization Will Exploit the entranced medium. Mine was from my son and was in the highest degree evidential. He wrote: "Oscar and Uncle Willy are both and son, both upon the other side, of whose existence or relation to my boy the medium had no possible means of knowing. "Uncle Willy"

A committee in connection with the Psychic college in London reported upon Miss Besinnet's me-diumship and came to the conclu-sion that the faces were always built up upon her own by physic means—that is to say, that her conmyself, as I have said, clearly seen the medium's features. Controls often take short cuts to produce their effects and so expose the innocent and unconscious medium to ers were proportionately low at the time when the London committee reported upon her, and I am convinced that Mr. Hewat McKenzie, who drew up the report, did her a serious injustice.

I have not only my own clear observations to support me and cial.)—Prizes for apple displays those of my friends, but I have had staged here under auspices of the access to a number of detalled reports from close observers in Toledo which show results which could in no way be accounted for by a mere ectoplasmic transfiguration of the medium's face. Thus Mr. Sudborough of Bristol, in a careful and detailed report, says: "The spirit of a powerfully built Indian chief suddenly stood in our midst—on his denly stood in our midst-on his head was a war bonnet made of eagle feathers and round his neck a necklace of grizzly bear claws. This figure came so close to us that

One lady whose husband had become blind before passing over says: The first materialization I had was that of the nerve and of the con-gested eyeball. Then came his eyes, big, blue and beautiful, as they used to be." It will be admitted that this at least must have been an independent materialization. Another, in describing a spirit, says: "The light was so strong as to show the seated form of the medium behind the figure." Another says: "I have distinctly seen the form rise up from the center of the table." Another says: "Dan materialized in uniform and stood at salute."

On several occasions a mother holding a baby had appeared. I have so keen a sense of the good work which Mr. Hewat McKenzie has done for psychic science that it is repugnant to me to disagree with him, but I am convinced that he has argued too much from temporary and personal experiences and not given sufficient weight to general evidence, and that in so doing he has done a serious injustice to one of the greatest mediums that the world has ever known. Toledo seems to be a rich psychic center, for there is a second medium, a Mr. Johnson, who is said to have exceptional powers of materialization; but he was in California at the time of our visit, and so It was impossible It seems that during our Besinnet seance four enterprising old ladies in a Ford car drove up to the house and stationed themselves under the window of the seance room. As it was pouring rain and as the pro-ceedings lasted several hours, they certainly deserved whatever they got—whether information or rheu-

Bogus Medium Seen. I have spoken of the possible short-circuiting of the control dur-ing trance, which lays the unfortenate medium under suspicion of fraud. It may be the control or it may be the half-automatic instinct of the medium herself acting inde pendently of the higher centers which are out of action, being possessed by an outside entity. You will find mediums do silly and obvious things which are quite unnecessary and clearly bogus. Then necessary and clearly bogus. Then the next moment you may gee some really psychic manipulation, quite beyond all possibility of fraud. I fancy that every student of the occult has had such experiences, Paladino, for example, with whom I have never sat, would think nothing of kicking the leg of the table to produce sounds, or putting up her hand to weigh down a pair of scales. Such obvious tricks disconcerted Hodgson and others who pronounced her to be a cheat at Cambridge, and yet the small committee, Feliding, Carrington and Baggaley, which followed her to Naples, found ample Carrington and Baggaley, which followed her to Naples, found ample proofs of her real powers. Yet, even while indorsing her, Feilding says: "She does silly little tricks by sliping one hand or one foot, or kicking you or pulling the curtain—all absolutely unlike the real thing. Even then she is in a real trance, is, I am sure, unaware of having cheated when she wakes up." I have already mentioned Howard Thurston's similar experience with the similar experience with the same medium. It is an important mat-ter, for it illustrates the pitfalls of psychic research and emphasizes the fact that so long as you get posi-tive results which are certain, you can afford to regard the negative ones as of no consequence. The present method is to concentrate upon the negative ones and imagine that they entirely do away with every-thing positive.

OLYMPIA, Wash, Nov. 6.—(Special.)—The state of Washington to-day received from the United States general land office title to 6056 acres of lands, selected by the state land department, in lieu of lands due the common school grant of the state, Clark V. This leaves less than 7000 acres unapproved by the federal govern-ment, out of 125,000 acres that were pending three years ago when Com-missioner Savidge and Attorney-General Thompson obtained a decision in the state supreme court which removed objections to the fur-ther clear listing of lands on the part of the general land office. "Will You Excuse It, Please---There Is No One on the Line Now"

Mistakes are bound to happen. We all make them. When your telephone bell rings and the operator says, "Will you excuse it please, there is no one on the line now," she is not responsible for your annoyance and inconvenience.

The occasion for the use of the phrase most frequently arises when the called party is slow to answer—the calling subscriber does not wait and hangs up his telephone.

Many times daily telephone users call wrong numbers - use incorrect prefixes, such as "Main" for "Market"-transpose figures, such as 5342 for 5432. Suddenly realizing their mistakes, they hang up their telephone.

Without fault or negligence on her part the telephone operator is left to explain, and the sentence first quoted is that adopted as most briefly and concisely covering the situation.
