

ROOSEVELT LAUDED AS GREAT CHRISTIAN

Dr. Villers Has High Praise for Late ex-President.

WIDE KNOWLEDGE CITED

Tribute Also Paid Leader as Temperance Man; Regular Church Attendance Is Recalled.

Representatives of various patriotic orders were present last night at the First Baptist church (White Temple) when Rev. Thomas J. Villers preached on the subject "Roosevelt, the Christian."

Seven vital qualities of Christianity were attributed to the statesman. "He was an intelligent Christian, a fair-minded Christian, a strenuous Christian, a temperance Christian, a patriotic Christian, a home-loving Christian and a church-going Christian," Dr. Villers said.

"Not a man of his day was so filled with useful knowledge concerning Christianity from every source. When asked one time to name his favorite character of fiction he designated Greatheart of Bunyan's 'Pilgrim's Progress'."

"It was one of the greatest disappointments that ever came to Roosevelt when he was not allowed to go across the world war," the speaker said. "He was a man who made patriotism a part of his religion. Some were afraid if he went across he would enhance his own glory, but he declared if he had ever reached the battlefield he would not have returned. Meaning that he would have died as did his son Quentin."

High Praise Received. As a home-loving and church-going Christian, Roosevelt received high praise. Dr. Villers read some of Roosevelt's letters to his children. "He could bend down and become a child again with any boy or girl," he declared.

Roosevelt's biographers relate that he was one of the most regular attendants at the church service. He believed it better to support the church than to kick it. If he found he could not be present for a service, he always sent a message to his pastor stating that he could not be present and giving the reason. As often as communion was taken, Theodore and the present president, taking the bread and wine."

GROWTH OF CITY AMAZES

Louis Knapp Returns to Portland After 57 Years' Absence.

Portland has changed during the last half century, thinks Louis Knapp, hotel man at Port Orford. The last time he saw this city was in 1865. He returned a few days ago to visit the stock show and was amazed by the present size of the city.

"I have spent hours wondering at the growth and size of Portland," he said. "There is so much noise, so much confusion. It was not like this in the '60s. The streets are filled with people. So are the theaters, the office buildings, the hotels. How do they work? How do they make a living?"

In early days here everyone worked at some trade. Everybody was busy and saw the result of their labor. Times have changed now, though."

Mr. Knapp, who is now 86 years of age, left Portland in 1865 and went to Port Orford, where he has conducted a hotel for more than half a century. He has made no trips out of the district that surrounds his home, and came to Portland only for the purpose of seeing the livestock exposition. His hotel at Port Orford is a hunting place for hunters and fishermen who try their luck in that section of the state. Mr. Knapp, who has been staying at the Mainland with his family, has been shown about the city by Police Inspector Tichenor, a native of Port Orford.

CABLE SERVICE IS RESTORED

London Foreign Office Reports no Change in Situation.

BY JOHN STEELE. (Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service. Copyright, 1922, by the Chicago Tribune.) LONDON, Nov. 12.—Cables from Constantinople were restored today, both official messages and news reports coming after three days' delay. The foreign office reported there was no change in the situation in Constantinople. A state of siege had not yet been declared. The Turks were reported still to be recalcitrant regarding joint control of Constantinople and it was feared that they were playing for time and smuggling in armed men for the purpose of an uprising.

PEACE IS HARD TO MAINTAIN

Constantinople Is Compared to Huge Powder Magazine.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 12.—(By the Associated Press.)—Constantinople may be likened to a vast powder magazine which the British are striving, in the face of growing difficulties, to keep from igniting. Harington is urging the home government to hasten the peace conference as the best means of avoiding an open rupture. He believes that if the Turks can be held in leash until the Lausanne meeting begins, the danger of hostilities will be averted.

NEW PHOTOGRAPH OF WIFE OF BRITISH COALITION CONSERVATIVE LEADER

MRS. AUSTEN CHAMBERLAIN. This is a new and unpublished photograph of Mrs. Austen Chamberlain, wife of the Rt. Hon. (Joseph) Austen Chamberlain, whose recent defeat as leader of the coalition conservatives in the British parliament caused David Lloyd George to resign as premier.

Before her marriage she was Mrs. Murray Dundas, daughter of the late Colonel Henry Dundas. She is a descendant of the Anglo government, has excited the admiration of Americans and other observers. In their earnest desire for peace the British are conceding every possible demand to the Turks. The latest concession is abolition of allied censorship of Turkish newspapers and withdrawal of supervision over Constantinople - Ankara telegraph lines and other internal and civil administrative machinery.

Rafet Pasha, the nationalist governor, now has an equal voice in all matters relating to security and order in the city. He has been invited to draw up police plans which would be acceptable to Ankara, but the allies will insist upon retention of the control of pass-ports, until after the peace conference.

In spite of repeated and persistent reports circulated in Europe and America that the sultan has abdicated, the head of the Moslem world remains at the Yildiz palace, he receives visitors and discharges his usual duties.

ITALY'S POSITION IS VAGUE

When Mussolini Will Be Ready for Parley Is Not Indicated.

PARIS, Nov. 12.—(By the Associated Press.)—Italy's position on the Lausanne Peace conference is rather vague. Rome dispatches have said that Premier Mussolini was not ready for the conference at Lausanne tomorrow. They did not indicate, however, when he would be prepared to be represented at Lausanne, or what would be his attitude to conversations between the principal allies.

Most of the French delegation to the conference, headed by M. Bonnard intended to leave for Lausanne tonight, but their trip was delayed when M. Poincare decided that he would await the arrival here of Lord Curzon.

Premier Poincare will be busy with a speech in the chamber of deputies next Friday so that it is expected whatever inter-allied conference or conversation is finally agreed upon will take place Saturday or Sunday.

REFUGEES ALARM GREEKS

Help Declared Needed if Nation Is to Survive.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 12.—Alarm over the influx of refugees into Greece was expressed yesterday in advice from Athens to American Red Cross headquarters, which quoted Dr. Dondales, Greek minister of relief, as declaring that inability of Greece to support the increased population placed the nation's fate in the balance.

"Whether we survive or perish as a nation," said Dr. Dondales, "depends on the help we get from the outside."

The Red Cross was informed that 250,000 refugees were on their way to Greece from Constantinople, while a like number was reported moving to Greece from northeastern Asia Minor. Such an influx, on top of those who already have taken refuge within Greek borders, would bring the total number of refugees to nearly 1,500,000.

GUARD OUT RUMOR DENIED BY WEEKS

Call for Revision of Allotments Explained.

REGULATIONS TO STAND

Any Intention to Make Changes of Disconcerting Nature to Organization Scouted.

Shake-up Is Not Planned.

Denial of reports that there is any inclination on the part of the war department to reduce present national guard allotments to the state is the effect of the national guard as the mainstay of the first line for national land defense, has been made in a letter from Secretary of War Weeks to Brigadier-General George A. White, head of the Oregon national guard. The widespread reports that sweeping changes were under consideration effecting the national guard of the United States were caused by the action of the war secretary in calling for a board of officers to sit in Washington this month to revise allotments.

The letter said that the real mission of this board with which General White has been invited to sit, is merely to arrange allotments, if necessary, where states are not able to meet their obligations under the national defense act.

Shake-up Is Not Planned.

It was explained that "an impression seems to prevail in some quarters that the contemplated study of national guard strength, together with related questions of allotment of units to the national guard component of the army of the United States, implies an intention on the part of the war department to make general changes of a disconcerting nature in the structure of the present national guard organizations which have been allotted to and built up by the states. This is not the case, and in order to allay any uneasiness in this connection, it is desirable that you be so informed."

That the revision of allotments of companies will benefit Oregon was the opinion expressed by General White.

Oregon has raised its entire quota of national guard troops to date," he said, "and is able to establish as many additional units as may be assigned by the war department. The failure of other western states to maintain units at the required state of efficiency. We have been allotted some additional units by reason of such failures of other states and can complete any entire additional regiment as well as additional coast and field artillery."

Present Force Distributed.

"The present force is distributed in 20 Oregon cities and 12 counties during the last two years. These men, soldiers have brought more than $12,000 in federal and state funds into the state. This, in addition to being a good builder of sound citizenship, the national guard is a payroll industry in one sense.

"If some of the states fail to keep pace with the requirements of the national defense act, the federal government ought to take up their shortcomings and profit thereby. We have already obtained the allotment of three additional units to Oregon."

General George A. White, in company with Major James Dusenbury of the United States army, left tonight for Astoria where they will inquire into conditions in the Ashland coast artillery battery and attend the meeting at the Ashland chamber of commerce for the purpose of increasing the drilling attendance and efficiency of the company. Ashland business men have announced their decision to get behind the organization and make it one of the best in the state. It was said the company began taking a slump about a year ago and for many months has stood at the foot of the list of national guard companies in point of attendance at drill.

MRS. GATT LOSES FAITH WOMAN'S CONFIDENCE IN MAN LOST, SAYS SUFFRAGIST.

Men Declared to Have Made Mess of Things—German Women Are Congratulated.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service. Copyright, 1922, by the Chicago Tribune.) BERLIN, Nov. 12.—One consequence of the war upon the social laws of the world is that woman no longer can have the same romantic confidence in man that she had in 1914. Mrs. Chapman Catt, American suffragist, told the leaders of the German feminist movement in a long speech in the Reichstag today.

"Men had made such a mess of things," Mrs. Catt said, "that women need not lack courage in attacking problems of the world, although modesty in asserting their demands, saying that the principal demand in central European homes is coal, and the women should demand coal as a right."

"Don't be too modest. See that you get warm homes," she advised. Mrs. Catt cautioned the German women from expecting America to cancel its debts, pointing out the responsibility the leaders of democracy were taking with such action without consulting the public. She explained that America even refused to discuss cancellation until armies were reduced.

Pyorrhea Quickly Banished

"Pyro-form" Effects Marvelous Results in Many Cases Considered Hopeless

CONCERT DIRECTOR ARRESTED. BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Nov. 12.—Harold F. Albert, recreational director of the Endicott-Johnson company, was arrested this afternoon on complaint of the Binghamton Ministerial association for staging a concert by John Phillip Sousa's band at which an admission was charged. It was alleged the concert violated ordinances governing the observance of Sunday.

The results that have attended the introduction of "Pyro-form"—the scientific pyorrhea remedy—have been little short of marvelous. People who had been suffering for years with pyorrhea, bleeding gums, loose teeth and the other consequences of this disease, have had their gums and teeth restored to a healthy normal condition. It has achieved success in the most advanced cases—cases that were considered hopeless. As an illustration, one woman was about to have her teeth extracted when her attention was called to "Pyro-form." She used this preparation and today her gums and teeth are sound and healthy and no trace of pyorrhea remains.

The best oral physicians agree that the way to combat pyorrhea is to follow the "Clean Out," "Clean Up" and "Keep Clean" advice. Pyro-form accomplishes this by penetrating to the very roots of the teeth and killing all the pyorrhea germs as well as removing the pus formations. As a gum and tissue vitalizer, it strengthens the tissue, thus assisting nature in setting up her resisting barrier. "Pyro-form" is, above all, a powerful antiseptic and therefore especially desirable for the most advanced cases—cases that were considered hopeless.

"Pyro-form" is different from other so-called pyorrhea remedies in that it is guaranteed to permanently banish pyorrhea, and is sold on a strict money-back basis. Every drugist is authorized to return the full purchase price in case the preparation fails to give complete satisfaction. For liberal sample, send to follow the "Clean Out," "Clean Up" and "Keep Clean" advice. Pyro-form, Bernardino, Cal.—Adv.
