PLOT TO GET DRUGS LAID TO LIGHTNER

Policeman Takes Stand as Trial Opens.

REAL ARREST IS MADE

Persinger Asserts He Called Other Officers Instead of Taking Supply Himself.

That Dave Lightner, alleged narcotic peddler, attempted to enter into a conspiracy with him to obtain possession of and sell cocaine and opium valued at $4500 was the declaration of N. E. Persinger, policeman, testifying at the opening of the trial of Lightner in Federal Judge Bean's court yesterday.

According to the policeman, Lightner called him on the telephone on November 12 of last year and told him that he was going to drive out Willamette boulevard with the narcotics in an automobile driven by a Japanese.

The plan as suggested by Lightner, the policeman said, was to have the latter stop the machine in which the two were driving with the narcotics, make a show of arresting Lightner, take the name of the Japanese ostensibly for using him as a witness, obtain the cocaine and opium and then let the Japanese drive away. Lightner's plan, according to the policeman, was then for the two to sell the narcotics and divide the proceeds.

Real Arrest Is Made.

The policeman made a show of falling in with the plan, he testified, and suggested a certain place on Willamette boulevard where the "arrest" was to be made. Instead of appearing at the place alone, however, he said that he called up the police station and a party of officers made a real arrest of Lightner and the Japanse, T. Oda, a salesman.

Oda, on the stand, told of taking the cocaine and opium from the Japanese steamer Surapshinao Maru under an agreement with Lightner by which, according to his story, he was to receive $300. He told of driving with Lightner with the narcotics in his automobile out Willamette boulevard and of the arrest. He has just completed a sentence at McNeil's island for his part in the affair.

Oda identified a letter, produced in court by United States Attorney Humphreys, as one which he found under his door after he said he had taken the drugs from the steamer. The letter, which was signed by Lightner, told of the desire of the signer to "get this deal fixed up so that we both can get our money," and suggested a meeting at a time later in the day.

Drugs Obtained From Crew.

Oda said that the "dope" was obtained from two members of the crew of the Japanese ship and that the agreement provided for paying them $400 a pound for the cocaine and $15 a can for the opium.

A trip to Astoria at the time of the arrival of the Japanese steamer from which the narcotics were said to have been taken was related by W. E. Crewdson, inspector of customs. He said that Lightner offered to go with the officers on the trip with the idea that he was to go aboard and learn if there was anything aboard. Lightner was said to have gone on the ship and to have made a report to the officers.

An effort will be made to show that Lightner was working with the federal officers in the capacity of an informer and was double-crossed by them, it was brought out in the opening statement to the jury made by Benjamin B. Goodman, one of the attorneys for the defense.

Official Is Accused.

Mr. Goodman also declared that testimony would be introduced to show that at the time Lightner fled from justice he was advised to do so by a "high government official."

"There seems to have been a reason why Lightner was wanted out of the way," declared Mr. Goodman.

Most of the morning was consumed in the selection of the jury.

The jury as finally selected consists of William J. Pritchard, Portland; Fred Aldrich, Albany; Ernest M. Oatfield, Portland; John Hunzicker, Eugene; Peter Kurre, Independence; J. Emerson Shears, Portland; D. R. Fowler, Trenholm; Lloyd J. Bolton, Boyd; Samuel Phelps and S. C. Pier Jr., Portland; P. W. Knowles, Dufur, and Willard H. Rees, Portland.

The trial will resume this morning at 10 o'clock with cross-examination of Patrolman Persinger. Interest in the case kept the courtroom packed all yesterday. This is the first of two trials that Lightner faces, the second being a conspiracy charge set for December 18.

LOCAL ENGINEERS URGED

East Side Business Men's Club Adopts Bridge Resolutions.

Recommendation that local engineers be employed in the designing and construction of the new Ross island and Burnside bridges has been made to the county commissioners by the East Side Business Men's club. A resolution to that effect was forwarded to the commissioners yesterday.

A committee from the Oregon Technical council appeared before the commissioners with the request that an advisory board of four engineers and one architect be appointed to assist in consideration of the appointment of the bridge engineers and water front requirements, as well as types of bridges, tentative plans and estimates.

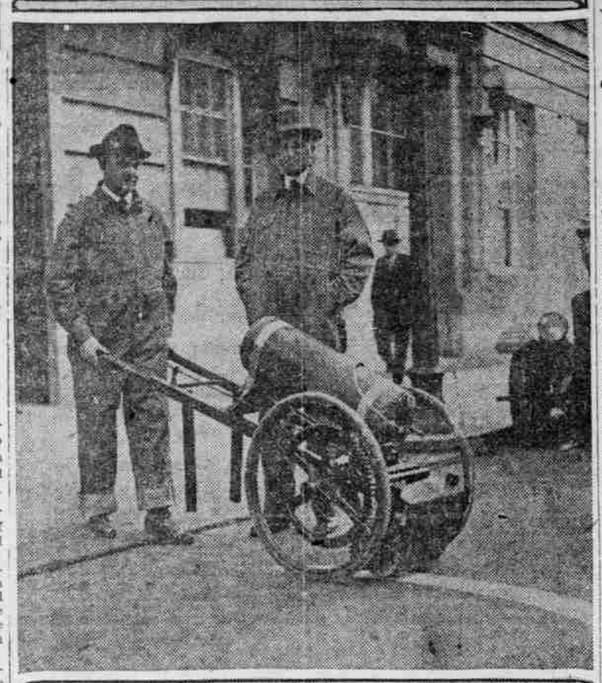
Pruning School Popular.

PENDLETON, Or., Nov. 23.—(Special.)—More than 80 fruit growers attended the pruning school conducted by the county farm bureau at Milton and Freewater early this week. County Agent Bennion is demonstrating tree development for the third year in some orchards and the enthusiasm of the fruit growers toward the work has resulted in big changes in the methods employed in east county orchards. The farm bureau committee on this work was re-elected for 1923.

Stage to Travel Oregon Trail.

PENDLETON, Or., Nov. 23.—(Special.)—With the old Oregon trail between Pendleton and La Grande complete, with the exception of seven miles, which will be finished next spring, G. W. Baars of La Grande has announced an auto stage route between the two points. The schedule calls for departure from La Grande at 8 A. M. and Pendleton at 1 P. M.

INGENIOUS STREET MARKER DEVISED BY TRAFFIC BUREAU FROM CONFISCATED STILL AND WASTE MATERIALS.



White traffic lines totaling 2500 feet for the guidance of east side pedestrians at intersections were laid yesterday by the marker, which was constructed in odd hours by Captain H. A. Lewis of the traffic bureau (right) and C. E. Shaffer, building superintendent at police headquarters, at a cost of $30, an estimated saving to the city of $370 in the total cost of marking streets. The bill went to $980 last year. This time it will be but $161 in all. Traffic Sergeant Jack Keegan is on the left at the helm of the device, which is nothing other than an evolution from a junk pile. The tank was once part of a still, the wheels are from a stolen bicycle. The gears were purchased.

DR. JONES LOSES SUIT

DIVORCE AND RECOVERY OF PROPERTY SOUGHT.

Dentist Is Defeated When Judge Rules Decree From First Wife Cannot Be Set Aside.

Dr. Martin A. Jones, Portland dentist, lost a suit of a double-barreled nature in circuit court yesterday when Judge Tucker found for the defendant in the doctor's action to obtain a divorce from Frances Jones and have set aside deeds he had given her for a farm in Polk county and a residence in Portland.

Dr. Jones sought annulment of his marriage on the ground that it was illegal since, according to law, he had not been entitled to the divorce decree he obtained from his ex-wife. The first wife was in the asylum when he obtained a divorce from her. Judge Tucker ruled that since Dr. Jones was the plaintiff in the action which won him a divorce he is now estopped from pleading that the decree was illegally granted.

The judge also found for Mrs. Jones in the husband's attempt to set aside deeds to real estate he had transferred to her. The testimony showed that the transfers had been made at the time a reconciliation was effected between the pair, who were for a few months estranged. Dr. Jones alleged that he had merely given the property to his wife to be sold by her. Before their marriage Mrs. Jones was an assistant in the doctor's office. The first wife is not now living.

ALIENS TO BE DEPORTED

Orders for Ouster of Five Offenders Expected Soon.

Deportation orders for five aliens will be issued soon, according to R. P. Bonham, local immigration commissioner.

Among those to be deported are Jose Romero and Martinez Silbiano, Mexicans. The former is now serving a 60-day sentence in the county jail for purse-snatching. The latter is in the penitentiary for 3½ years for larceny.

A German, Johann Stramann, will be deported after his release from the penitentiary, where he is under sentence for 20 years for assault with intent to rob.

The others are Canadians, Ed Aúodet, serving a 60-day sentence in the county jail for carrying concealed weapons, and William Beckett, now in the state hospital.

MR. FINLEY WILL TOUR

Naturalist and Lecturer to Visit Eastern Cities.

William E. Finley, naturalist and lecturer for the National Association of Audubon societies of New York city, will leave December 1 for a four months' lecture tour through eastern cities to show a new series of motion pictures of outdoor subjects. While in New York during the winter he will complete arrangements for the release of another series of motion picture reels for a theatrical circuit.

Mr. Finley opens his series of lectures on December 6 and 7 at Minneapolis for the University of Minnesota and at the annual Sportsmen's show there. In and around Chicago he will give a series of six lectures under the auspices of the public schools and other organizations.

STUDENT TRANSFERS 59

State Institutions Send Persons to Corvallis College.

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Nov. 23.—(Special.)—Nearly as many transfers this fall from the University of Oregon as from all other higher institutions in the state are recorded by E. B. Lemon, registrar.

The 24 from there and 13 from the state normal school at Monmouth, six from Reed college, five from both Willamette university and Pacific university, three from Albany college and one each from Pacific college, Linfield college and Columbia university make a total of 59 transfers within the state.

CHORUS GIRL BOUND OVER

Eva Noonan-Merola Faces Grand Jury for Alleged Polygamy.

Eva Noonan-Merola, member of the Rosebud chorus of the Lyric Musical company, who was arrested a week ago on a charge of polygamy, appeared yesterday before District Judge Deich and was bound over to the county grand jury. She was released on her own recognizance, with no bail requirement.

The young woman, who goes by the stage name of Eva Davis, was legally the wife of Sylvester Noonan. She had filed a divorce suit against him, but aside from an entry of default of the husband, nothing had ever been done in the courts regarding the suit. Early in November Eva and Tony Marola, member of the Pacific quartet at the Lyric, were married at Camas, Wash. It is understood that Eva did not comprehend the fact that the divorce procedure had not been carried to its necessary conclusion.

JURY IS FAMILY AFFAIR

Relatives Predominate at Trial of Fossil Man for Burglary.

FOSSIL, Or., Nov. 23.—(Special.)—The jury which tried William Hodgins for burglary, included four women and otherwise was quite a family affair. The women were Mrs. Esma Chapman, Mrs. Ella Angell, Mrs. Alice Quinn and Mrs. Dorothy Mainard. Two brothers were on the jury, each a married man. The daughter of one was a juror and the mother-n-law of the other was a juror.

The mother-in-law, who is a landlady, sat next to her tenant, also a juror. From another family two brothers sat side by side as jurors. From still another family were a father-in-law and a son-in-law.

On the first ballot two women were for conviction and one man voted with them. On the second ballot one woman held out for conviction, but on the third ballot the accused was acquitted.

Judge Fred H. Wilson of The Dalles presided.

CHECK WORKER INSANE

Veteran and Reputed Bigamist to Be Returned to Asylum.

TACOMA, Wash., Nov. 23.—(Special.)—According to word received from St. Paul, William F. Berry, war veteran, whose honeymoon was interrupted in that city last week when he was arrested on a forgery charge, will be returned to veterans' ward of the western Washington state hospital for the insane, from where he escaped last August. Criminal proceedings against Berry were dropped after he was found to be mentally irresponsible.

Berry is said to have marked his trail in St. Paul with the bogus checks amounting to nearly $8000. He married Constance Naken of Stillwater, Minn., a few days prior to his arrest, and some of the checks were in payment of his honeymoon expenses.

He is said to have a wife and child living near Seattle, and also to have married a girl in New York city.

FLAX CONTRACT UPHELD

Growers' Association Wins Case Against Farmer.

SALEM, Or., Nov. 23.—(Special.)—Members of the Willamette Valley Flax and Hemp Growers' Co-operative association must comply with their contracts, according to a decree handed down by Judge Bingham in the circuit court yesterday.

The case originated when the flax association brought action to compel A. E. Bradley to deliver to the association all the flax and hemp produced on his ranch for a period of four years. It was alleged that Mr. Bradley threatened to violate his contract and sell his crop to other parties. Mr. Bradley, under the decree, must pay $100 costs incurred in trying the case.

STUDENTS TO AID NEEDY

University Juniors to Take Over Shoe-Shining Stands Today.

EUGENE, Or., Nov. 23.—Today the juniors of the University of Oregon took charge of all shoe-shining stands in Eugene and the students wielded the brush from 8 A. M. to 10 P. M. The proceeds, over a certain percentage that goes to the owners of the stands, will go toward a charity fund to relieve suffering among the needy of Eugene.

While the men of the class did the actual work of shining shoes, the women members solicited "shines."

Aberdeen Buildings Started.

ABERDEEN, Wash., Nov. 23.—(Special.)—Preliminary work for the construction of terminal warehouses and a dock for the Pacific Grocery company on the old West & Slade site at Wishkah and Kansas streets has been started. The buildings to be erected are a two-story concrete store and a dock with a frame warehouse on it.

MISSION IS FORGOTTEN

WAR MOTHER SATISFIED BY MAYOR'S STATEMENT.

Catholic Women Gather to Protest Use of Auditorium by Ku Klux Klan.

Although ostensibly gathered for the purpose of requesting that Mayor Baker refuse the use of the public auditorium to the Ku Klux Klan and to the Ladies of the Invisible Empire, a committee of 14 women representing the Catholic parishes of the city yesterday morning at the city hall contented themselves with a statement from Mayor Baker that "every boy who went to the front to fight was a 100-per cent American, regardless of whether he was Catholic, Jew or Protestant." This statement was the result of a request of a war mother, Mrs. M. J. Fennell of 5103½ East Nineteenth street.

"They say that I am un-American because I believe in the Catholic faith," she exclaimed almost on the verge of tears as she got to her feet, "but my husband's blood went to the defense of this country and my two boys were among the contingent that you, Mayor Baker, said, were the highest example of manhood as they marched out of Portland to fight for their country in the world war."

Their emotions led members of the committee to forget their mission to request barring the use of the auditorium to Dr. R. H. Sawyer and klan leaders, when they appeared before Mayor Baker in the council chambers. They dendunced the charges made by Sister Lucretia, an ex-nun who has spoken in several Portland school buildings until Mayor Baker reminded them that he could take no part in a religious controversy, and referred them to the school board.

NURSES TO HAVE SCHOOL

Training Course Will Be Feature of Corvallis Hospital.

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Nov. 23.—(Special.)—A nurses' training school in the Corvallis general hospital, backed by the city of Corvallis and sponsored by faculty members of the Oregon Agricultural college, became an assured institution yesterday when the plans of the advisory committee—consisting of Adolph Zeifle, J. A. Bexell and Dr. H. M. Francis—were accepted by the Oregon state board of examiners for nurses.

Working as citizens of Corvallis on the plan, Dean Zeifle and Dean Bexell began in June formulating the programme of instruction, and the use of the college conveniences in giving courses. Special courses in college work will be used, under the guidance of Miss Delia Lofgren, superintendent of the hospital, who has been designated as director of the new school. Any expense for registration or laboratory fees incurred by the student nurses will be paid by the city of Corvallis.

MOUSE INVASION FOUGHT

Rodents in Washington Orchards Held Serious Menace.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Nov. 23.—(Special.)—The orchard mouse invasion of the Yakima fruit district is much more serious than replies of farmers to questionnaires sent out by the bureau of biological survey indicated, Leo K. Couch, in charge of recent control work in the Washington district, announced upon his return from Yakima today.

Mr. Couch and John Finley of the biological survey organized an orchard mouse campaign during the past ten days, enlisted 350 farmers in the work and distributing 18,500 pounds of poisoned grain. The campaign will be carried out in cooperation with the Washington State college extension division.

POLICEMAN LOSES CASE

DISCHARGE OF M. N. JOHNSON UPHELD BY BOARD.

Attorney Threatens to Bring Libel Action Against Chief Because Proof Was Lacking.

The discharge of Melvin N. Johnson, from the police bureau last September by Chief of Police Jenkins was ratified yesterday by the civil service board. Johnson was charged with having accepted money from law violators and while the board explained that the evidence did not conclusively show this to be true, nevertheless the charges had not been disproved.

Frank Lonegran, who appeared as attorney, informed the board that he would institute lible proceedings against Chief Jenkins at once, holding that his client was not guilty of the charges and that his reputation has been defamed as a result of his discharge from the police department.

The board removed W. T. Dyer, a hoseman in the fire bureau under temporary appointment from the eligible list because of charges of insubordination.

Dyer, who appeared before the board, admitted that he had knocked down a superior officer because he did not like the manner in which the officer had addressed him.

The board refused to accede to a request of Thomas L. Inskeep for a transfer in classification from chauffeur in the police bureau to patrolman. Mr. Inskeep sought the transfer in order to become eligible for the benefits of the police pension act.

MR. KIGGINS NOT IN RACE

Vancouver Mayor Denies Rumor of Independent Candidacy.

VANCOUVER, Wash., Nov. 23.—(Special.)—Mayor Kiggins, who was defeated in the city primaries this month by N. E. Allen, today denied a report that he would enter the race as an independent candidate for the election December 2. Mr. Allen won the republican nomination for mayor by more than 800 plurality.

Mayor Kiggins' statement follows:

To the Public: It has been rumored that I am to be a sticker candidate for mayor at the December 2 election. I wish to deny this, as there is absolutely no truth in the matter. I was fairly beaten in the primary election for the nomination and I am willing to abide by the decision of the voters at that time and support the ticket at the general election.

The republican ticket is unopposed, no democrats having filed for city offices.

RANCHERS OPEN ROUTE

Right of Way for County Road Being Cleared by Farmers.

HAINES, Or., Nov. 23.—(Special.)—Having been successful in obtaining from the county court an appropriation to grade and gravel what is known as the Haines-Rock creek market road for a distance of three miles, a score of ranchers with adjoining property this week are engaged in moving fences and ditches to broaden the road. This work is part of the agreement made by the landowners with the county judge and county commissioners.

The contract for grading and graveling has been awarded the Johnson Construction company of Portland and an effort will be made to complete the work before winter weather begins.

STATE CONFAB PLANNED

Development of Washington to Be Subject of Session.

TACOMA, Wash., Nov. 23.—(Special)—The annual meeting of the Washington state chamber of commerce, to be held in Tacoma December 5, will be a preparation for a conference of the first importance to the development of the state, which will follow December 6, it was announced today by N. B. Coffman of Chehalis, president of the state chamber. President Coffman gave an outline of the plans for the two days of intensive study of state needs at the meeting of the Tacoma chamber of commerce trustees.

Invitations are being sent to 3000 of the most earnest and best informed leaders of all communities of the state.
