

FORD INACCESSIBLE TO FAVOR SEEKERS

Veritable Chinese Wall Is Built by Secretary.

GREAT MAN DEMOCRATIC

Manufacturer Is Generous and Affable Once Fortune Once Gains Access.

BY S. S. MARQUIS, D. D.

CHAPTER VIII.

Once you get to Mr. Ford you will find him of all men most affable and democratic. He is apt to have upon you the impression that he stands ready to do anything for you, give you anything, even to the hall of his kingdom.

Note Sent in Code.

The fate of the individual, joyfully and unsuspectingly bearing that note, hung on the spelling of that word. If the note read, "Please see this man," it meant he was to be favorably handled.

Secretary Only Approach.

Hardly a week passes that someone does not come to me from a distance with the request that I be kind enough to assist him in obtaining an interview with Mr. Ford.

Criticism Is Ignored.

Men of great wealth and limited education often fail to appreciate the fact that they are in danger of overestimating the worth of their judgment on matters outside the industrial world in which they live.

PUBLIC TIRED OF ADVICE

Persistent Attempts to Entice Nation Into Overseas Broils Irritate People.

BY ARTHUR GEARS HENNING.

The resentment of M. Clemenceau's animadversions upon the foreign policy of the United States expressed by some senators and other public men is indicative of a "state of mind" that is becoming more and more pronounced as more and more prominent Europeans appear among us.

Society Is Avoided.

Whenever he goes the crowds press upon him as if he were a king out for an airing and thrust their petitions not into his hands but into his ears.

Outsider as Critic Unwelcome.

The point seems to be that when Mr. Wilson and the American League of Nations advocates tell us how stultified ourselves by rejecting the programme he brought back from Paris, it's of no great moment, being all in the family, but when an outsider accuses us of moral obliquity we get hot under the collar.

Lady Astor's Stare Recalled.

One of the earliest European emissaries to tell us what we ought to do and ought not to do was our ex-compatriot, Lady Astor. She was inclined to be very much ashamed of her native land for not joining the League of Nations, according to press reports of her speeches.

separated from the Southern Pacific. Commissioner Potter observed during the examination of Mr. Shaughnessy, "and that this proceeding is to determine whether a union between the two is desirable.

Now, do you think if this independent Central Pacific had been set up, with its own traffic arrangement and perhaps with some new lines to make necessary connections, the interests of your state would require its fusion with the Southern Pacific? "I can't quite assume that state of affairs," Mr. Shaughnessy responded, "because the present arrangement is giving our state good service and access to all markets.

My view is that the divorce of the Southern Pacific from the Central Pacific would result in a diversion of Southern Pacific traffic to lines outside of our state and a consequent reduction in our payrolls and business."
