

TRIBUTE TO LINCOLN IS PAID BY TIGER

Remainder of Life Pledged to Mankind.

THOUSANDS AT TRAIN

Big Welcome Is Tendered by Springfield Despite Inclement Weather.

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., Nov. 30.—George Clemenceau bared his aged head at the tomb of Abraham Lincoln today and paid tribute to him as "one of the greatest men that ever lived."

"After the very appropriate and moving words I have heard I hardly dare say more," he said. "Don't believe I came here to try to consecrate such a memory."

Quoting from Lincoln's Gettysburg speech, he said he hoped, in the words of Lincoln, rather to be consecrated, that what remained to him of his life might be devoted to the service of mankind.

"I came in souvenir of the valiant men who fell on the fields of France for the same cause for which he was murdered, that we are going to try to go in the path of freedom he opened," Clemenceau continued.

"Here I am a private citizen, not more than any other who has tried to do his duty, hoping to be not like Lincoln, but to be as near like him as I can."

Wealth Placed by Tiger. "Let us say no more, here before one of the greatest men that ever lived, all my heart goes out to America and the great man she produced."

Before he spoke, bareheaded in the cold mist beneath the leaden skies that overhung Oakridge cemetery, the Tiger entered the marble hall beneath the tall, plain Lincoln shaft, and laid a wreath on the sarcophagus beneath which the martyred Lincoln lay.

Tribute Paid Yank Soldier. "This is my tribute to the American soldier," Clemenceau said, placing his hand on the wreath. Mr. Sherman then announced that it was to be laid on the grave of Otis Scott Humphrey, son of the late Federal Judge J. Otis Humphrey, who died last night of pneumonia.

Pen of Wood Presented. She presented a pen made from wood from the floor of Lincoln's old home, and showed him among other things the sofa on which Lincoln courted his wife.

Then she showed him a photograph of the hotel in which Lincoln and his wife lived for a time after their marriage, explaining that they paid only $4 a week for room and board for two.

Before he left, he wrote his name in the guest book and shook hands with Mrs. Brown, thanking her cordially for acting as his guide. Then the procession drove slowly to Oakridge cemetery, where the Tiger was escorted into the Lincoln relic room and was shown about by Herbert W. Fay, custodian, and one of the greatest authorities on Lincoln.

POPE AIDS U. S. HOLIDAY

PONTIFF ADDRESSES AMERICAN STUDENTS.

For First Time in History Head of Church Joins in National Thanksgiving Festival.

ROME, Nov. 30.—(By the Associated Press.)—For the first time in the history of the Catholic church the pope joined in an American national festival when he insisted this afternoon upon receiving the students of the American college and addressed them on the topic of "Thanksgiving Day."

The students, numbering 180, were accompanied to the audience chamber by Cardinal Bilelet, their protector, and by the rector and vice-rector of the college.

In his address the pope said: "National thanksgiving! It is a noble idea on the part of your people—choosing the day for prayer. Men who lack prayer lack one of the essentials of life. Your country must indeed be blessed by Almighty God."

In accepting an offering of 1200 lire from the students and their supporters, he thanked them "for the help you have given me for the suffering Russians, mown down by pestilence, famine and misery."

The pope said that, through the American students, he wished to congratulate the entire American people and express his gratitude for the generosity they had shown on every occasion of need.

TURKEYS GLUT MARKET

Prices Drop to 30 Cents and City Is Swarmed by Peddlers With Surplus Stocks of Fowl.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Nov. 30.—(Special.)—For the first time in five years San Francisco ate Thanksgiving turkey at pre-war cost.

The wholesale market for dressed turkeys became demoralized Wednesday following Tuesday's sharp break in prices. The express brought more than 150 additional tons of holiday birds to San Francisco in the morning, while eight carloads of Oregon fowl put in an appearance. Then the market went to pieces. Dealers sold at any figure within reason, and reported that no fixed range of quotations existed. Fancy birds were bought by the trade at now as 35 cents a pound and mixed lots were moved at around 30 cents.

It is estimated that between 500 and 600 tons of dressed turkeys have arrived here since the beginning of the week, while San Francisco's requirements for the Thanksgiving feast amount to approximately 400 tons.

Peddlers appeared in the streets Wednesday offering to the consumer at reasonable prices large quantities of birds bought at bargain prices from discouraged wholesalers, and it is reported that commission merchants themselves sent out wagon loads to be retailed in the residential districts.

Turkey raisers and wholesale distributors who bought for cash, paying as high as 43 cents a pound, lost thousands of dollars in the sharp break.

Reductions of 5 to 50 cents a bottle are announced.
