FAMOUS VIOLINIST IS CHIEF OF TRIBE IN NEW ZEALAND

Toscha Seidel Tells of Initiation Into Maoris as Result of Playing Selections at Native Ceremony.

Toscha Seidel played the violin to the vast gathering of Maoris. His playing held the natives spellbound and immediately he was finished the six chiefs withdrew. Presently they returned and adorned him with elaborate robes and paraphernalia. Then they crowned him king of the Maori tribe of Otaki for playing the violin.

Seidel's coast tour, which ends with his Portland engagement, has been a success. He was in Vancouver, B. C., a large audience rose to its feet and cheered him for more than five minutes. Dispatches to the News & Courier from Portland said it had been impossible for him to refuse, because the enthusiasm had been so great.

FARMERS DISTRUST PRESENT RESERVE BOARD GOVERNOR

Commissioner Bigelow Announced that he would have the municipal shops prepared for the cost of the reserve board.

Geographical Objection Prevents Appointment of New York in Favor With Producers.

BY MARK SULLIVAN. (Copyright by New York Evening Post.) WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 4.—(Special)—Every additional aspect of the progressive or radical movement reinforces the proof of how the fundamental concern is with currency and banking and how deeply it reaches into the subject.

The federal reserve board, which is the head, essentially, of the country's banking system, is a subject of inquiry and discussion having largely the nature of criticism through the various parts of the west where the new political group arose, to a greater degree than is realized in the other parts of the country where the board and the existing system and its methods and personnel are taken for granted. It would be a fair guess that the long delay on the part of President Harding in filling the vacancy in the office of governor of the board has been caused by this condition in the west.

Opposition Causes Worry. The vacancy has existed since August. In the east the banking and business community has demanded that the office of governor be filled by a man of the board, W. P. G. Harding, who is a democrat originally appointed by President Wilson, be reappointed, in order to establish precedents of non-partisanship and continuity of personnel and policy. President Harding probably has not been troubled by the fact that W. P. G. Harding is a democrat, but he has been troubled by the fact that his own party in the west was strongly and most vocally opposed to him.

The opposition was based generally on the allegation that Governor Harding reflected the thought of bankers and business men, and especially on the fact that Governor Harding had carried out the policy of post-war deflation, on which the western farmers put the blame for many of their troubles.
