Midget Hammers Champion All Over Ring and Joe Comes Back With Same Stuff.

OLYMPIA QUINTET IS NAMED

(By Chicago Tribune Leased Wire.) MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, New York, Dec. 22.—Joe Lynch retained his bantamweight championship by receiving the decision over Midget Smith at the end of 15 rounds here tonight. The decision was received with boos and bores which continued for several minutes after the verdict.

Smith had all the better of the early rounds, in the opinion of ringside sharps, and held his own in a furious finish. Newspaper critics gave Lynch but one round and five were about even. The rest were easily Smith's. The champion did most of the leading after the ninth round, but Midget's hitting was much the more effective.

However, the majority of the fans present evidently did not concur in the opinion of the judges. Although Lynch carried the fight to the tiny Harlem bantam, he received many a hard blow while tearing in. In his opinion Smith was satisfied with the decision, at the least a draw verdict was due. It would not have injured either man, and, as it happened, the Washington high school team, was yesterday elected to captain the 1923 eleven. Lassiter is the lightest player on the 1923 Washington team. Although this was his first year as a regular, he had down one of the wing positions as a veteran.

Warren Lassiter to Pilot 1923 Washington High Eleven. Warren Lassiter, star end of the Washington high school team, was yesterday elected to captain the 1923 eleven. Lassiter is the lightest player on the 1923 Washington team. Although this was his first year as a regular, he had down one of the wing positions as a veteran.

Coach Skadan Picks High School Basketball Team. OLYMPIA, Wash., Dec. 22.—(Special.)—Coach Skadan of Olympia high school today announced his squad for the basketball season. Members of the squad, many of whom played last year, are Ole Berntson, Joe Koster, Ed Anderson, Mike McGuire, McKinley, Van Vliet, Erievend, Palmer, Richardson, White, Langum, Munro, Saeger, A. L. Heston, F. Dittmar, Chamberlain, Winters, Foster, Deming, Kelley, Taylor, Henry, Hinkle and Gallagher.

STAR END CHOSEN CAPTAIN Warren Lassiter to Pilot 1923 Washington High Eleven. Warren Lassiter, star end of the Washington high school team, was yesterday elected to captain the 1923 eleven. Lassiter is the lightest player on the 1923 Washington team. Although this was his first year as a regular, he had down one of the wing positions as a veteran.

COACH WELCH RESIGNS JOB Connection With State College Football Team Ended. PULLMAN, Wash., Dec. 22.—Gustavus A. Welch, since 1915 coach of the Washington State college football team, resigned today and his resignation has been accepted, according to an announcement by the college athletic council.

Swimming Splashes. J. Von Schelle of Belgium won the 100-yard swimming championship of Britain at Bolton recently, covering the distance in 1:12.50. He is a swimmer of international possibilities. A boy of 18, Ballie captured the British title in 1:12.50 and this in spite of a poor stroke. He swims a powerful, wide, muscular stroke. But after the British championship test one of England's foremost experts expressed the belief that the light youth will do the hundred in 1:12 seconds or better, if he learns to relax. At Ballie's age it is not so easy to overcome faults.
