

Ruby Dee and Al Freeman, Jr. co-star in the Public Broadcasting Service television adaptation of the off-Broadway hit "To Be Young, Gifted and Black." The play, which tells the story of the late playwright Lorraine Hansberry, marks the premiere of the NET Playhouse Biography series, Thursday, January 20 at 8:30 p.m. over KOAP-TV, channel 10, Portland.

Lorraine Hansberry play featured on TV

"To Be Young, Gifted and Black" -- the "wonderfully moving" story of the late playwright Lorraine Hansberry, as told in her own words -- is transformed into a motion picture for the season's pre-emptive, Thursday, January 20 at 8:30 p.m. over KOAP-TV, channel 10, Portland and KOAC-TV, channel 7, Corvallis.

Ruby Dee, Al Freeman Jr.,

Claudia McNeil, and Barbara Barrie co-star in this adaptation of off-Broadway's 1969 hit.

"To Be Young, Gifted and Black" is a complex, free-flowing creation by Robert Nemiroff, Miss Hansberry's husband. Woven together from the late playwright's diaries and letters, and from portions of her plays, it relates her experience growing up as a black artist in America, and the realization that her life is to be ended prematurely.

"To Be Young, Gifted and Black" marks the return of "NET Playhouse Biography" following an acclaimed 15-week run on the nation's non-commercial television stations last spring.

Lorraine Hansberry was 34 years old when she died of cancer in 1965. Her most famous work, "A Raisin in the Sun," had made her the youngest American and the first black playwright to win the New York Drama Critics Circle Award (Best Play, 1959). The play later became a major motion picture and Miss Hansberry won the Cannes Film Award for the screenplay.
