Beaver tickets available free

Bill Cutler, Manager of the Portland Beavers, has made available to the Bureau of Parks and Recreation and to the Summer '72 Youth Committee, 7,000 free admissions to the Saturday, July 22nd game with the Salt Lake Angels.

Beginning Monday, July 17th, tickets will be available without charge to those 18 years of age and under. The Summer '72 Youth Committee has arranged ten ticket pick-up points where tickets may be obtained. It is the hope of the Summer '72 Youth Committee, the Department of Parks and Recreation, and the Portland Beavers that each of these tickets can be used, and toward that end the Summer '72 Committee will be able to provide necessary transportation.

Those wishing admission should pick up a ticket and sign up for travel arrangements at the same time. The ticket should be filled out and deposited in the receptacles inside the stadium to become eligible in the drawings for numerous door prizes.

The contact points where you may pick up your tickets are:

Nkrumah has Ghana grave

Ghana's first President, Kwame Nkrumah, was buried at his home town of Nkroful, 204 miles southwest of Accra. The body of Mr. Nkrumah, President for nine years until his overthrow in a military coup in February, 1966, was returned to Ghana from Guinea. He died in April at the age of 62, in a clinic in Bucharest, Rumania.

The return of his body followed lengthy negotiations between Ghana's military rulers and the Guinean Government of Sekou Toure. After his overthrow, Mr. Nkrumah was appointed to Co-President of Guinea.

Mr. Nkrumah's body lay in state for 10 hours in Accra while thousands of weeping Ghanaians filed past. The body was flown to Nkroful by helicopter.
