

Black men are treated...like God!

by Sara Slack

Copenhagen, Denmark—Black American wives and sweethearts shouldn't think of letting their Black men come here without them—that is if they don't want them hopelessly spoiled, beyond repair—for the rest of their natural lives. And, it only takes a few hours.

Ladies, if your man even suggests to you that he's thinking about heading this way for a few days' rest, quickly, pack your bags and be ready to accompany him on his SAS flight. A woman certainly would be out of her cotton picking to let her man land here alone.

Scandinavians—Danes in particular—are addicted to rolling out their royal red carpets for Black Americans who come here, especially men.

Having traveled around the world four times numerous stops, this reporter has found few other vacation havens—in predominantly Caucasian countries—where Black men are treated more godlike.

Why? It's easy to pinpoint! Danish people especially women, consider Black men extremely attractive physically and are quite vocal in their expressions of sheer admiration. Then too, there are less than two hundred Blacks living here. Most are men.

The Danish Danes are absolutely color blind. If you catch them staring at you it's easy to see that it's done with warmth and often a desire to meet and know you. In addition to Danish, this social welfare state is an English-speaking nation.

If a Dane sees you more than once and wants to meet you, he will politely approach you and introduce his family and himself to you. They're very family minded people. One moves, all move.

At private parties here, seeing American Black men dancing their funky chicken or slow dragging with pretty, blue-eyed blondes doesn't even rate a second look or a bat of the eye. The Danes love to dance and are superb dancers.

The reverse is also true. American Black women fascinate many of these ancestors of the daring Danish Vikings.

Typical of male hospitality is tall, soft spoken and charming Kurt Nielsen of the Danmarks Turistrad. While escorting you on an extensive tour of his country, he places emphasis on the smallest details that add to your comfort and make you feel right at home.

The Danes are among the world's finest cooks and gourmets. While dining with Nielsen, if by a rare chance something doesn't quite suit your fancy, he becomes agonized and shows a pained expression until you taste something else and eat up with delight. If you are not overwhelmingly pleased with your meal here, the chef will have a heart attack and consider shooting himself right after handing in his resignation. That's how proud these Danes are of their unparalleled, superbly prepared food.

You will love the people in this once-upon-a-time fabled Denmark. First, they are so refreshing because they are not hypocrites or hung up over sex like so many Americans are. They know and realize that sex is here to stay, has a place and keep it in its place.

Here any schoolboy can wander down famed Pedestrian Street, ogle frank and honest sex posters and art-facts and, keep going. In fact, if you watch most children, you'll see that soon, very soon, they become bored looking at sex displays and soon skip off to become hypnotized by plastic whales skittering around in water while spouting steam.

There are sex shows here too—all legal. And they too are kept in their place, in one part of town. One thing for sure, if you vacation here you can never be bored or lonely. There's always something to do and always friends with whom you can do it. Part I...Do Take A Vacation!... You'll Live Longer!
