

Religion in the News

In a unique program sponsored by Emanuel Hospital, ministers are trained for the chaplaincy. Left to right are Reverend M. Roderick Anderson, Reverend Horace O. Duke, Jr., Reverend James Coleman and Reverend Rozel Gilmore, all experienced in the ministry but exploring the field of hospital chaplaincy during a year-long educational program.

Reverend John Jackson was elected to a second term as president of the Albina Ministerial Alliance.

Father Gordon Dickey left St. Andrews to study at Washington University in Washington D.C.

Soul Purpose

By Chuck Singleton

"... As Light," "And He will bring forth your righteousness as light." Psalm 37:6.

Somehow the word "Holy" has been misconstrued. If it refers to God, it's pertinent. To an object, it's religious; but when it comes to man, we seem to lose sight of that word.

It was God who told all Christians, "be ye holy, even as I am holy (I Peter 1:16)." Yet when a man endeavors to undertake (with God's power) such a venture, he is labeled "super Christian" or Reverend.

Many times we have equated holiness with certain denominations when actually you'll probably find just as many of that denomination in hell as anyone else.

When one is holy, he is

"set aside" for God's purposes. He lives a clean life in relationship to God (John 1). No man is without sin (1 John 1:10), but when he does sin, he confesses it, and God his close friend and companion, forgives him. God gives him the power to be holy and to live holy, there's nothing he can do to deserve it, but God gives it to him.

So that holiness is a state of faith in Christ and the power of God's Spirit living in a man. That makes holiness available to any man whether he be Catholic, Methodist, Baptist or Reptile (sic), God loves all men. All men are sinners, but they can be clean in God's eyes if they but trust Him and allow Him the authority to transform them.

What about price?

At Vann's no gimmicks are used. We refuse to insult your intelligence. We know the buying public can recognize quality. We make certain the families we serve have a wide variety to choose from. They select the price category that is best suited to them.
