OPULENCE IN AFRICA is featured at "break through" prices on Air Afrique's new 14-day safari to Senegal and the Ivory Coast. For only $799, including air fare, you stay at posh hostels like Abidjan's Hotel Ivoire (above) and visit all the marvels of modern and traditional West Africa.

African tours priced to sell

Proving that the exotic no longer has to be expensive, Air Afrique has packaged a 14-day odyssey to the West African lands of Senegal and the Ivory Coast for the "break-through" price of just $799, including air fare, luxury hotel accommodations, meals and sightseeing. Africa can now fully compete with Europe as a top-value, low-cost, tour destination.
 The adventure begins in the great port city of Dakar, first stop on Air Afrique's DC-8 service from New York. The city is the capital of the Senegalese, a stately and handsome people.
 Deluxe hotel rooms with baths are provided either in the resort Hotel N'Gor Beach Village or the new Teranga Hotel. The city's cultural attractions include the Ifan Museum, the Soumbedonne Handicraft Village, and the the Dynamique

Museum, with its excellent collection of modern African works.
 Optional excursions visit Gore'e Island, once a slave station, but now a monument to Africa's tumultuous history; the fishing village of Cayar; Senegal's upland bush country, and ancient trading villages.
 After a week in Dakar with plenty of free time for big game fishing, skin diving, shopping or exploring, the tour moves by air to the thriving modern city of Abidjan, capital of the Ivory Coast.
 Dramatically situated on tropical lagoons, Abidjan's soaring skyline contrasts vividly with its lush green surroundings. Commanding that skyline is the tower of the Ivore, among the world's most impressive hotels. Accommodations are provided here or in the nearby Relais de Cocody.

Tour members have a week of adventure in the Ivory Coast Republic, either on their own or as part of the many optional excursions available. These include visits to the Banco Forest wood carving center, Grand Bassam with its famous African Art School; Assinie with its lagoons and plantations, and the Kingdom of the Agni peoples. Nightlife at its best includes casinos and night clubs featuring exciting floor shows.
 The "West African Adventure" tour, which offers the convenience and informality of small groups, has 25 Saturday departures scheduled from New York through next December. Good weather abounds practically year round.
 For further information and brochures, write Air Afrique, 683 Fifth Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10022.
