The primary purpose of the Senior Adult Service Center is to employ retired senior citizens to assist those senior citizens who cannot help themselves. This process is accomplished through the four major components of the Center. Transportation services provide mobility in two 12-passenger buses, and one Red Cross loaner vehicle. By appointment, seniors can go to and from shopping centers, banks, laundromats, visitations, beauty or barber shop, etc., within the Model neighborhood, but medical and dental appointments are available to any point in the Portland metropolitan area. Handyman services provide minor household repairs, such as opening stuck windows, repairing broken windows, fixing leaky faucets, repairing broken steps, repairing broken door latches, and various other miscellaneous chores for senior homeowners. Telephone Reassurance provides daily moral support through telephone calls (Monday through Friday) to senior adults to see if they are up and around, and if any other services are needed. Outreach services provides companionship, minor household assistance, personal care, shopping, advocacy, etc., on a weekly basis to seniors who are handicapped, and/or living alone.

Since the inception of the program in June of 1971, 1900-2300 senior citizens have been served per year. During a typical month, the Transportation Department transports an average of 1296 riders (round trip). As one recipient of the Transportation services said, "This is not only a mode of transportation, this is a means of protection, since I have been attacked twice."

The Handyman Department makes a total of 75 home repairs per month. Telephone Reassurers phone 120 senior citizens per month, completing an average of 2396 phone calls during that time. The Outreach Department makes 835 visits on a monthly basis, to 296 seniors.

In addition to those output measures, the Center has continuously provided emergency assistance in terms of homeowner's property taxes, medical aid, and clerical assistance to the elderly. The Center informs approximately 1130 seniors of opportunities and information pertinent to them through its monthly newsletter, The Star. In order to provide another means of keeping the senior citizen abreast of total services that are available to them, the Senior Adult Service Center holds a monthly Meeting-Potluck that brings together an average of 80-100 elderly Model neighborhood residents to make their input through questions and/or criticism. They also have fellowship at the Center by making quilts, knitting, etc., while singing and eating.

Based upon the records of the Center, a minimum of 2500 elderly residents of the Model neighborhood are in desperate need of the Center's services.

The impact of this program is multifold - first, for those 1900 to 2300 elderly seniors who cannot afford to pay for these services, the Senior Adult Service Center is a lifeline. In a society which is making progress toward reducing economic poverty (defined in money terms, as opposed to cultural, moral, spiritual poverty), one strategy for bolstering the incomes of the poor is to improve the availability and quality of public and private services. Such services enable the underprivileged to gain information and skills that help them to use their incomes more efficiently. Such services are also necessary to assure ready access to the basic amenities of life. Secondly, this program employs a total of 34 persons, 30 of whom are retired senior citizens. There are 25 part-time employees who work 20 hours per week for $2.00 per hour. This increases or augments their marginal income within the guidelines of Social Security, while allowing them the economic opportunity to upgrade the quality of their own lives. The average age of the staff is 64 years, and they function both efficiently and effectively.

The Senior Adult Service Center, which is directed by Joil Southwell, is located at 3904 N.E. Union Avenue. It is one of several programs administered and funded by the Commission on Aging and Model Cities respectively. For more information on their services, telephone 288-8338.

COMMUNITY CALENDAR

The Reading Tree, a summer reading program for children, will begin operation this summer on Monday, June 17th, from 10:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. at Irving Park. Volunteers are needed. For more information, telephone 287-2966.

Classes offered by the PSU Educational Center include: Human Development, Survey of Black Philosophers, Kung Fu, Survey of Current Afro-American Poets, Games and Activities for Building Basic Arithmetic Skills, Community Education, Mathematics, Introduction to Engineering, and GED classes. Registration begins June 17th and fees vary from $1.00 to $6.00 per course.

A summer school program for youngsters in grades two through five will be offered by The Hall (St. Helen's - Dagwell Hall). Classes include language arts, the fundamentals of mathematics, nature study, and arts and crafts. The program runs from June 24th through August 1st. Mrs. Jack Cahney is directing the program. For further information and registration, contact the school at 245-2271.

Festivals in Oregon are features of summer tours presented by the Portland YWCA. July 4-7 the Oregon Shakespearean Festival Tour will offer the opportunity to see four plays with a choice of hotel or Southern Oregon College Dormitory lodging. Dorothy Neeland and Jane Smith Cook will escort.

August 16-18 the Peter Britt Music and Arts Festival Tour will include tickets for an evening orchestral concert featuring pianist Tana Bawden and the Sunday morning concert of Bach music with the Peter Britt Chorale. Both concerts are in the Britt Gardens of historic Jacksonville. The tour group will also attend the Shakespearean Festival play Twelfth Night in neighboring Ashland. Escorts are Bea and Perry Jones.

The Labor Day Rogue River trip participants will attend the matinee of Two Gentlemen of Verona in the Angus Bower Theatre in Ashland, and will tour the Oregon Caves enroute to the Redwood Country and have two nights at the secluded Tu Tu Lodge on the Rogue River. There will be a choice of the White Water boat trip to Paradise or the Mail Boat ride to Agness.

An Iberian tour to Portugal and Spain will be offered September 16-30. Open to both men and women of all ages, immediate registration is advised. For information about these and other YWCA tours, visit the YWCA, 1111 S.W. Tenth Avenue, or call 223-6281.

The 16th Annual Pacific Northwest Conference of the Fellowship of Reconciliation will be held July 4th at Seabeck on Washington's Hood Canal. The theme is "The Development of a Non-Violent Culture". For more information call Eric Robinson at 281-8588.

BOOST students and their families are invited to a free picnic Saturday, June 15th, in the Park Blocks at SW Park and Jefferson Streets beginning at noon.

An afternoon of food and fun is planned. BOOST staff members and high school and college counselors will be on hand to explain the special financial aid and educational programs available for BOOST students throughout the state.

BOOST (Bettering Oregon's Opportunity for Saving Talent) is a program operated by the Oregon State System of Higher Education to assist students who need financial and other special help in order to finish high school or to obtain a college or vocational education. More than 300 persons have been invited to the picnic.

The John R. Leach YMCA at 6036 S.E. Foster Road will begin its summer series of swimming lessons on June 10, 1974. The YMCA swimming program offers lessons to children and adults of all ages. During the day there are classes for children from 6 months to 5 years, while youth classes for beginning, intermediate and advanced swimmers occur all day during the week and on Saturday.

There are many classes open for the children and the summer is a good time to have them learn to swim or improve their swimming for summer fun. For further information about the John R. Leach YMCA swimming program, phone 775-4396, or visit the Y in person. The branch is open Monday through Saturday from 9:00 a.m. to 10:00 p.m. So Y not learn to swim?

GET-A-JOB is a half-hour television series on KPTV that is designed to help unemployed people get a job. It is targeted for the young minority group member who needs to know where to go to look for employment, but appeals to nearly anyone seeking a job.

The program format includes interviews with employees, with host Jim Boozer asking about entry level positions, skills required, and the kinds of people employers are seeking.

Employers who are interested in assisting this series are asked to contact Paul Wathen, GET-A-JOB producer.

A new tennis club, called the El Rey Tennis Club, is organizing in Oregon City. The club seeks 100 members in order to begin building facilities. Cost of membership will be kept low. The facilities will include indoor and outdoor tennis courts, handball and racket ball courts, a restaurant and lounge, a tennis pro and tennis shop and a recreation room. Call 656-1116 or 655-9283 for information.

"Robert Patrick's Cheep Theatrics" will be presented in the Wilson Center for the Performing Arts at the Downtown YWCA, 1111 S.W. 10th Avenue, at 8 p.m. Mad Dogs and an Englishman will do "The Actor and the Invader", "I Came to New York to Write", and "The Richest Girl in the World Finds Happiness".

A workshop in Navajo weaving techniques will be held at the Portland Art Museum on June 21st and 22nd, concurrent with the opening of "The Navajo Blanket", an exhibition of 60 blankets organized and circulated by the Los Angeles County Museum of Art. Nina Toledo, a Navajo weaver from Gallup, New Mexico, who worked with Noel Bennett, author of "Working with the Wool", a book on the process of weaving a Navajo blanket, will teach the two-day workshop.

The class will meet from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. each day and will include complete instructions on warping and weaving a Navajo loom. Each participant will warp his or her own loom and begin weaving. The looms are transportable and can easily be taken away for continued work.

Looms and warping materials will be provided and hand-made tools can be purchased.

The registration fee, including a loom and warp yarn, is $35. Participants who wish to use their own loom should confer with Paula Reiss, Curatorial Apprentice at the museum who is organizing the workshop. The class is limited to 15 people, and registration, including a $10 deposit, must be made at the museum by June 14th. For more information, contact Polly Ilo Eyerly at 226-2811.

Some people believe that sprinkling wine on the table cloth brings good luck—these are not likely to be the people who have to wash the cloth.
