I AM AMERICA

by Frank Philebar

From the beginning of my time in '76 when the Red Coats carried Big Sticks, I've seen Bloodshed for Freedom, I've felt the pulse of my Heart, I've seen Indians feed us.

I know the Stars and the Stripes were to fly high. Oh! but had we all to cry?

I am the Constitution, I am the Buffalo, I am a Great Nation and no one will overthrow.

I've seen the personality split, and I took all of the licks. I am Abe Lincoln, I am a slave - But I do know (I've been saved), I've seen the Kaiser come and go - and Hitler tried to overthrow.

Oh for the price of Freedom we have to pay - and a Quarantine around the Pigs Bay.

I am Jack, I am Bobby - I am the Peach March on the Lobby.

I am L.A. - and I am Watts, I struggle hard, for what I got.

I have a dream, I am Martin Luther King. Overcome - Peace and Honor is my theme.

I am the President, I am ashamed - This GREAT COUNTRY is not to Blame. I am low, but not down and I will get back off the ground.

I am Beautiful, and I am Strong - I am the farmer and the farm.

I am the Tall and the towering Trees of the West, and in the Winter I look my Best.

I am Broad and I am Bold, but one thing for sure - I can't be sold.

I can be seen from Ocean to Ocean, and the Desert to the Sea.

My neighbors to the North look at me and say - THAT'S AMERICA and she's DAMN PROUD OF HER SELF...

COMMUNITY CALENDAR

A series of workshops offering ideas in Christmas gift and decorations is scheduled by the downtown YWCA.

Ideas in food gifts and recipes to share will be given in Gifts from the Kitchen, scheduled December 2nd from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m. Instructor Diane Muyskens will show how to make and wrap beautiful and easy gifts of jellies, breads and cakes.

A Mother-Child Holiday Workshop is offered December 7th for mothers and their children, three years of age or older. Workshop I is scheduled from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. and Workshop II from 1 to 3 p.m. Instructors will show how to make simple holiday gifts and decorations from egg cartons, paper rolls, pine cones and other around-the-home supplies.

Workshops are open to the public as well as YWCA members. Registration is now open at the downtown YWCA, 1111 S.W. 10th, for all workshops.

Jeannie Hoffman, talented pianist, and David Friesen, accomplished bass player, will join the Portland State University Choir under the direction of Dr. David Wilson in a Christmas program on December 6th at Portland State University's Smith Memorial Center ballroom, at 7:30 p.m.

The Portland State choir, largest choir of its kind in the area, will perform compositions by both guest artists as well as traditional Christmas songs presented in an exciting jazz motif.

The proceeds from the program, "Christmas and All That Jazz", will be used to establish a Portland State University Music Scholarship fund.

Dennis Payne, Executive Director of the Martin Luther King Scholarship Fund, announced that applications for Scholarship Assistance are available for Winter Term 1975. December 2, 1974 is the deadline applications should be returned to the Scholarship Office.

The applications will be available at the following locations:

- Portland Metropolitan Community Agencies.
- High Schools (Portland Public).
- Colleges and Universities (State of Oregon).

If there are any questions, contact the Scholarship Office at 229-4475.

Native Sweet Potato Makes Tempting Casserole

Sweet Potatoes are one of several truly native American vegetables, along with corn, pumpkins, squash and new varieties of beans and peas. These crops supplemented the familiar foods the colonists brought with them from England. As with corn, the Indians were cultivating sweet potatoes long before the arrival of the first settlers, and later taught them the value of this versatile crop.

Yam is another name for the sweet potato, especially in some parts of the South, where it is a staple food. Actually the two vegetables belong to different plant families. However, they are so hard to tell apart that yams and sweet potatoes are interchangeable in any recipe.

Candied yams, a favorite fall and winter side-dish, has numerous variations. In New England, where this recipe is a traditional Thanksgiving favorite, maple syrup is often used as a glaze. Elsewhere, honey, brown sugar and/or fruit juices are preferred.

Pilgrim's Yammunion is a unique version of the classic candied sweet potato your family is sure to love. Bananas are combined with the yams in this jiffy casserole which is glazed with a mixture of orange juice, orange juice, orange juice, orange juice. Pour over yams and bananas. Cover and bake corn syrup and Blue Bonnet Margarine at 375°F. for 30 minutes. Remove from oven. Carefully pour off some of margarine mixture into a cup. Pour over yams and bananas to taste. Sprinkle with coconut. Bake uncovered for about 10 minutes, or until coconut is browned. Serve hot. Makes 6 servings.

PILGRIM'S YAMMUNION

2 cans (17-ounces each) yams, drained and cut into 1/2-inch slices
2 medium ripe bananas, sliced
1/3 cup Blue Bonnet Margarine
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/3 cup light corn syrup
2 tablespoons orange juice
1/2 cup flaked coconut

Alternate layers of yams and banana slices in a 1-quart casserole ending with a layer of yams.

Melt Blue Bonnet Margarine. Stir in salt, corn syrup and orange juice. Pour over yams and bananas. Cover and bake at 375°F. for 30 minutes. Remove from oven. Carefully pour off some of margarine mixture into a cup. Pour over yams and bananas to taste. Sprinkle with coconut. Bake uncovered for about 10 minutes, or until coconut is browned. Serve hot. Makes 6 servings.

"O give thanks unto the Lord... for he is good!" Thanksgiving is time to count your blessings... think about the good in your life. Come, lift up your heart in church.
