

PATRICK F. DONALDSON

Emanuel hires security man

Patrick F. Donaldson is the new director of security at Emanuel Hospital. As director of security, Donaldson will be responsible for developing and implementing policies and procedures regarding security and loss prevention for the hospital. In establishing these policies and procedures, he will work with hospital personnel and existing community and law enforcement agencies.

A graduate of Portland State University, Donaldson received his bachelor of science degree in administration of justice. Presently, he is working on his master's degree in public administration.

Prior to joining the Emanuel staff, the new director of security was employed by the Washington County Interagency Burglary Investigation Team as a burglary prevention specialist. He has also held positions with the Columbia Region Association of Governments, the Multnomah County Board of Commissioners and the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Donaldson has served as chairman of the Committee of Building Security, Crime Prevention Association of Oregon; the Committee on Building Security, State of Oregon Structural Codes Advisory Board, and the Washington County Committee on Building Security.

He is a member of the Multnomah County Women's Correction Task Force, the National Police Community Relations Officers Association, the National Crime Prevention Association, the Crime Prevention Association of Oregon (executive board member), the Metropolitan Crime Prevention Consortium, the American Society of Planning Officials, the American Society of Industrial Security, the National School Security Directors Association and the Metropolitan Planners Association.

Donaldson is also an instructor of Crime Prevention at Portland State University, Portland Community College and the State of Oregon Board of Police Standards and Training.

Question: How does a worker earn his rights for Unemployment Insurance benefits in Oregon?

Answer: A worker filing a claim for Unemployment Insurance benefits in Oregon is not necessarily paid benefits. Unemployment Insurance is not a welfare program based on need. A worker earns his right to benefits by:

(1) Having wages and weeks of work in covered employment in a base year sufficient to qualify - must work 18 weeks and earn an average of $20 per week and earn at least $700 during the base year.

(2) Meeting the eligibility requirements of being ready, able and willing to accept suitable work.

(3) Registering for work in the Oregon Job Service office.

(4) Actively seeking and unable to find suitable work.

(5) Must have earned wages equal to six times his weekly benefit amount in employment (covered or not covered) for service performed subsequent to the beginning of a preceding benefit year if benefits were paid to him in such preceding benefit year.
