US Bank displays Oregon history

The Bicentennial Express, a 45-foot highway semi-trailer, will visit 72 locations in Oregon starting March 12th, carrying the story of the advance of humanity in Oregon with an exhibit provided by the Oregon Historical Society.

The free exhibit is funded and sponsored by the United States National Bank of Oregon, in cooperation with the historical society, the American Revolution Bicentennial Commission of Oregon, and the Oregon Trucking Associations, which will provide the trailer plus free transport of the trailer from one location to another.

The exhibit will be divided into five sections: Ancient Oregon, Indians of the Oregon country, westward expansion, early enterprise, and Oregon today. Artifacts on display will range from the Fort Rock sandal, approximately 9,000 years old and the earliest known remnant of mankind in Oregon, to computer output microfilm, latest "state of the art" development in business and financial reporting, which compresses 224 pages of computer printout into a single 4x6 inch film card without going through the printing process.

Among the many other items will be articles of Indian clothing and tools, belongings from the cabin of Captain Robert Gray, Captain Meriwether Lewis' branding iron, pioneer tools and equipment used in early Oregon business and professions, and the recently-completed Oregon quilt, which illustrates thirty scenes from Oregon history and geography.

First appearance of the Express will be at the U.S. Bank Plaza at S.W. Sixth Avenue and Oak Street in Portland March 12th to 14th.

Other Portland appearances will be at the Lloyd Center April 2nd to 4th, Washington Square April 23rd to 25th, Gateway May 14th to 16th, Jantzen Beach June 5th to 6th, Eastport Plaza November 5th to 7th, and concluding at the bank plaza November 12th to 14th.

Though this is not a guided exhibit, two attendants will accompany the van, with one or both persons on duty at all times.

Senator Bayh advocates recognition of MPLA

Senator Birch Bayh (D-Indiana) has said that the United States should establish direct diplomatic contacts with the Popular Movement for the Liberation in Angola.

"I believe the time has come for a reversal of American policy and a new diplomatic initiative by the United States," Bayh said in a statement released by his presidential campaign office.

The full text of Senator Bayh's statement follows:

Since last November, I have repeatedly expressed my disagreement with United States policy toward Angola. I have been deeply troubled by the Ford Administration's decision to supply covert aid to factions in Angola and to increase the level of suffering in a complex domestic struggle when no vital U.S. interests were at stake. Events of recent weeks have heightened my concern, and I believe the time has come for a reversal of American policy and a new diplomatic initiative by the United States.

Soviet and Cuban backed forces of the Popular Movement for the Liberation of Angola (MPLA) have dispersed forces of the National Front (FNLA) in northern Angola and are rapidly moving against UNITA positions in the South. It is clear that the Popular Movement has become the dominant faction in Angola for the foreseeable future and that if the FNLA and UNITA are to continue the struggle, it will be on the level of guerilla warfare and terrorism.

Here in the United States, Secretary of State Kissinger has now called for this country to openly provide aid to UNITA and the National Front in order that they may keep fighting. Obsessed with the theory that we must counter every show of force by the U.S.S.R. with force of our own, the Secretary of State is unwilling to recognize that a guerilla war will be long and bloody and cost thousands of African lives, that it will inevitably draw pro-western states such as Zambia and Zaire more deeply into the conflict, that it will further ally the United States with South Africa in the eyes of Black Africans, and that it will, in all probability, increase the dependency of the MPLA on the Soviet Union and Cuba.

While I am very critical of the Jackson hit on bussing

In a heated message to Senator Henry M. (Scoop) Jackson of the state of Washington who is running hard for the Democratic nomination for the Presidency, Dr. Carlton B. Goodlett, president of the National Newspaper Publishers Association - the Black Press of America - warned him on his anti-bussing stand.

Dr. Goodlett's message reflects the feeling expressed by Black editors and publishers during their Mid-winter Workshop in the Virgin Islands last week. His wire to Senator Jackson follows:

"We want you to know that the mood of Black editors and publishers at the National Newspaper Publishers Association's Mid-Winter Workshop was one of indignation over Presidential candidates catering to the whims and emotions of majority segments of the American public, while neglecting the basic needs of Black and poor America.

"We believe your proposed anti-bussing legislature falls in that category. We find it regressive, reactionary and reflects a myopic perception of what the real issues of the 1976 Presidential election should be. No Democrat can win the Presidency without Black support.

"For this reason, the Black Press will be vigilantly monitoring you and the other candidates and reporting to our people which one of you can best provide the honest, dedicated and effective leadership for all America and, above all, who has commitment to help those in greatest need."

irresponsible and adventurist behavior of the U.S.S.R. and Cuba in Angola, I believe the policy that President Ford and Secretary Kissinger have proposed moves in exactly the wrong direction. Rather than supplying equipment to prolong the conflict, I believe that now is the proper time to try to establish direct diplomatic contacts with the MPLA.

Although there is undoubtedly strong animosity toward the United States on the part of the MPLA, I think there is a good possibility that the representatives of the Popular Movement would enter into talks.

The MPLA is a fiercely nationalistic movement. I do not believe it wants Angola to become a Soviet satellite or to be thought of as one by other African nations.

Contacts with the United States would provide the Popular Movement with an opportunity to demonstrate its independence of the U.S.S.R., something we must encourage. Further, they might pave the way for negotiations with the other Angolan factions, and for peaceful relationships with Zaire and the moderate government in neighboring Zaire.

There is, of course, no guarantee that contacts can be established or that they will bear fruit if made. I submit, however, that this approach has a far greater chance of success than that proposed by the Ford Administration, and that it will make the Soviet Union much more uncomfortable than our financing and promoting a guerilla war. Moreover, an attempt to make contact with the MPLA can cost us nothing. I urge the President and Secretary of State to take action now, before it is too late.
