VA payments tax exempt

Recipients of benefits from the Veterans Administration are reminded that these payments generally are exempt from taxation and need not be reported on federal income tax returns.

Major tax-exempt VA benefits include compensation, pension and educational assistance, including subsistence payments to vocational rehabilitation trainees, Mrs. Donna M. Arndt, director of the Portland VA regional office, explained.

Also exempt are grants to military service-disabled veterans for specially adapted homes and automobiles and clothing allowances paid to service-disabled veterans whose prosthetic devices result in undue wear and tear on clothing.

Interest accrued on government life insurance dividends left on deposit or credit with the VA is not exempt and must be reported on federal income tax returns, Mrs. Arndt added.

Dividends and proceeds from government life insurance policies are exempt from federal income tax, but the proceeds are subject to federal estate tax, the VA director also noted.

Methodists host conference

Between six and ten thousand people will converge on the Memorial Coliseum for the world-wide General Conference of the United Methodist Church. This will be the first time that the United Methodists have held their General Conference in Portland. Only on two other occasions has the Conference ever been held on the West Coast, those Conferences being held in San Francisco and Los Angeles.

The General Conference is the highest legislative body of the United Methodist Church. Delegates from the United States will be augmented from overseas countries representing European, Africa, and Asian nations.

Although the voting delegates number under just 1,000 persons, already there are registered in the official hotels and motels some nearly 3,000 delegates, spouses and staff persons. Nearly 100 Bishops, active and retired will be in attendance at this quadrennial meeting.

The official host of the General Conference is Bishop Jack M. Tuell, resident Bishop of the Portland Area which encompasses the Oregon-Idaho Annual Conference.

Legislative and plenary sessions of the General Conference will be held at the Coliseum beginning at 3:00 p.m. April 27th with a massive Communion Service for delegates and all visitors and continuing through May 8th.

A reception honoring the Bishops and the Judicial Council of the church will be open to the public on Monday evening, April 26th beginning at 8:00 p.m. in the ballroom at the Hilton Hotel.

TA class set

"Learning To Live," an eight week course designed for personal growth through transactional analysis, will be offered at the Sanctuary of Our Sorrowful Mother, N.E. Sandy and 85th, starting March 28th, from 7:00 to 8:30 p.m.

Classes are based on an award winning film series to help improve relationships with spouses, children, parents, friends, employees and God. The Course is based on the idea that man and woman cannot only create things; they create themselves through increased awareness, understanding, self-direction and prayer. Life is after all a Do-It-Yourself-Project.

Classes are conducted by Reverend Gordon Dickey MSW, a clinical member of the Oregon and American Associations of Marriage and Family Counselors. Topics include; personality states, games people play, strokes, time structures, feelings, acquiring life scripts and changing life scripts.

Reservations can be made by calling 774-6548.
