TIM BURR - NICE AND MELLOW ***

One of the hardest things for an entertainer to do is to perform alone and unaccompanied. It puts the performer in a very defensive position. Trying to relate to the audience, remembering a repertoire of songs and trying to keep yourself motivated at the same time can be a difficult task.

However, Tim Burr, who is currently packing the people in at the Market Place, doesn't have any problem what-so-ever at keeping it all together. Burr's range of performing includes: comedy, audience participation and nice and mellow listening. Although I would prefer the mellow listening, Burr is quite skillful in blending all three phases of his performance into one very smooth performance.

Tim Burr has been unaffected by the wonders of the electronic gadgetry so popular to some, and so vital to their shows. He plays a six string (non-electrical) guitar and sings some of the mellowest music you'll ever want to hear.

He offers his audiences an impressive repertoire of "music". Paul Williams, Nat King Cole, Cole Porter, Henry Mancini, the Ink Spots, James Taylor, Jose Feliciano are but a few of the artists from over 70 that he chooses his material from. Not even mentioning the songs from Broadway musicals and songs from over a half dozen countries that he sings in their native tongue.

Sounds impressive? Well he is. Burr has played your better clubs and hotels from San Diego to the Captain Cook Hotel in Anchorage, Alaska. Tim has just signed to do a two month gig in Spokane, Washington, so you'd better get by quick! The atmosphere at the Market Place is intimate, Tim is there - so you know the music is good. Add a heated Cognac, sitting by the fireplace - only adds to the evening.

Best Man was Curtis Henderson. Groom's Men were Gilbert Perry, Leon Smith, Ralph Slider, Ronald Slider, James Slider, Reggie Stevenson, LaMar Slider, Robert Castons and Ron Paden. Andre and Lisa Slider were ring bearer and flower girl. The reception was held at Laurelhurst Club.

Children explore Tyron Creek

Parents and children have an opportunity to hike the trails of Tyron Creek State Park in a Portland Community College special event Saturday, September 17th.

Ruth Evans will guide and talk about other trails in the area.

Participants will hike the trails between Portland and Lake Oswego just off Terwilliger Boulevard. In addition to the walk through the trees, flowers, creeks and beautiful scenery a stop is planned at the nature center.

Those wishing to do so may meet at the Cascade Center snackbar at 10:00 a.m. to carpool to the site. Reservations for the event should be made through community services at Cascade.

Cost is $2 per person or $5.50 for a family of four or more.

PCC offers relaxation class

Portland Community College gives a special event called "Introduction to Relaxation" at the Meier and Frank ninth floor downtown classroom Thursday, September 15th at noon.

Mary Shaver will present a series of precise techniques directed toward the alleviation of the mental and physical tensions of each participant.

Shaver said relaxation techniques can be applied in attacking timidity, insomnia, nervousness, compulsive habits and elimination of fears.

The techniques to be demonstrated are practical and easily mastered, Shaver said.

Reservations for the $1.50 class should be made through the PCC Southeast Center.
