

Vessels of all sizes, shapes and forms are moored in Yaquina Bay at Newport. This bay, with its famed bridge, is home to fishing fleets and charter boats for sportsmen.

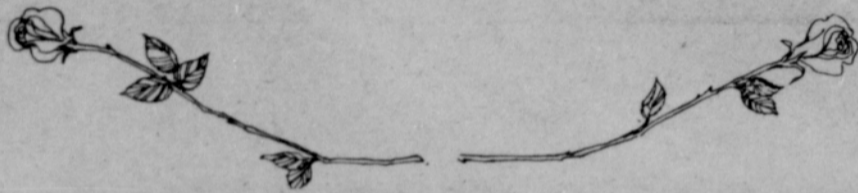

Seagulls add to the allure of the sea, such as these birds congregating on a Tillamook County beach.

Sea lions cluster around Sea Lion Point where they live the year around. The giant bulls, which weigh up to 2,000 pounds, select harems of from ten to twenty cows.

During sunny weather the Sea lions can be seen sunning themselves on the rocks and swimming in the surf.
