

Penninsula Park in North Portland is an important site for community festivals, Little League ballgames, swimming and other activities of the Black community.

You can grab a hamburger that's more than a hamburger, in fact it's enough for a whole meal.

The hamburger itself is juicy and has the taste and texture of real beef, a rarity now-a-days in light of Big Macs and Whoppers assault on the fast food market.

The live music at Chuck's has to be commented on cautiously. It runs from jazz to classical, rock to country western. On any given day you may find who knows what, fortunately for me, I've always been able to enjoy my meal and the sounds coming from the back room.
