

If you enjoy the private club feeling of exclusivity and excellent food, this is the restaurant for you.

The setting is enough to make the most insignificant of us feel as if we were a corporate Chairman. Soft and simply stated paneling reminds us of our importance and the lack of extreme opulence our purpose for the evening. If we are to dine here we would expect excellence on all levels. We will not be disappointed.

The Polish Princess should in time become a Queen. She is mannered and royal, with an air of quiet dignity awaiting just a bit more maturity and time.

The service is excellent if not understated since its appearance is timely but elusive.

The food compliments the service and the setting. It is elegant without being pushy while maintaining eye appeal and balanced taste. This restaurant suggests you try your own personal favorite. I don't believe you will be disappointed.

The menu is varied enough to satisfy the most picky person and leave room for those of us who just enjoy good dining and excellent food.

POT STICKER AND SIZZLING RICE

My favorite restaurant for lunch and close to my favorite for dinner. This restaurant is unique among restaurants in Portland because of the quality of the food and the lack of even a little preteniousness.

The service is average, but with the flow of people who enter and the rush at lunch it may be attributed more to numbers than to lack of desire to serve.

However, the service here takes a very distant second to the delicious food one may enjoy for a very moderate price.

The Pot Sticker is a restaurant that specializes in Chinese cuisine from the Northern provinces of China. The food preparation in these areas, in my estimation, is the rival of the french haute cuisine with the edge going to the Chinese.

Food is every etable item prepared for human consumption, but Cuisine is texture, taste and romance. The mysteries of a dish enhance its character. The subtle hints of various herbs, spices, vinegars and wines that are never quite touchable nor always identifiable surround these Northern Chinese dishes in an air of elegancy no building can surpass or replace.
