

“What I Learned About Chrysler Corporation Engineering Could Change Your Mind About The Car You Buy.”

Neil Armstrong

“Long ago I learned that all engineering is a matter of designing machines to solve problems. In the Apollo Program I acquired a respect for the ability of Chrysler Corporation engineering to help solve the incredible problems of space travel.

“Now I’ve seen what they’ve done for cars, and I’m convinced Chrysler Corporation has engineered some of the most inventive problem-solvers on the road.

“As an engineer I find their cars exciting, innovative approaches to the needs we all have today.

“I think you will too.”
