ASSEMBLY

Assembly Opportunities

Join Intel, a great place to work.

Intel, the world's leading manufacturer of semiconductor memory components and microcomputer components and systems, is expanding operations at our modern, new facilities in Aloha and Hillsboro. Our growth has created the following assembly opportunities:

Prototype Assemblers/Aloha

Reading schematics and/or following verbal instructions, you will do point to point wiring of single sided PC boards and equipment chassis as well as do rework, touch-up, and inspection. You will also do some minor metal work. Requires a minimum of 3 years of experience in electronics fabrication with some drafting experience plus a familiarity with all electronic symbols, blueprints, schematics, and wirelists. You will use all common electronic hand assembly tools.

Wave Solder Operator/Hillsboro

Working the Swing Shift, you will perform various routine operations to maintain and control our wave solder machine. This will include adjusting the flux density and heating controls to assure that they meet specifications, assuring that the solder temperature and level are within specifications, cleaning the machine, and monitoring the equipment and process to assure that the quality of the printed circuit boards remain at a high level. Requires 6 months of experience as a wave solder operator

Test Operator & Bench Trouble Shooter Trainer/Hillsboro

You will train all of our test operators and bench trouble shooters, rewrite training manuals and test procedures, maintain all ECO's as well as test procedures on the floor, and interface with test engineering to insure proper release of new test programs. Requires good communications skills, both written and verbal, plus a background in test, training, and production.

Trainees/Hillsboro

Working the Swing Shift, you will assemble printed circuit boards. This will include verifying the value of components by color codes and verifying the correct components by part number. You will work with small parts therefore good visual acuity and manual dexterity are required. Experience in a manufacturing environment desirable.

Please apply in person to Intel Corporation, Dept. 40BK, 3585 S.W. 198th Avenue, Aloha, Oregon 97005. An equal opportunity employer m/f/h.
