Portland schools seek advisors

Portland Public Schools seek persons to fill 16 seats on two area citizen advisory committees beginning next July 1

The Portland Board of Education this week launched its annual appeal for nominations from individuals and local school advisory committees to fill five two-year adult vacancies and from high school student councils to fill three one-year student vacancies on each of the 12-member panels.

Persons have two options in seeking nomination to an adult vacancy in the area they wish to represent: They may gather signatures of at least 30 adult residents of the area or seek nomination from a local school advisory committee in the area.

Certificates of nomination for adults may be obtained from local schools, area offices or the school district's Public Information Department, 501 N. Dixon St.

partment, 501 N. Dixon St.

Adult applicants must be at least 18 years old, just reside in the area they wish to represent or must have a child attending a school within the area they wish to represent.

Deadline for submission of nominations for the student vacancies is 5 p.m., April 2. The deadline for submission of the adult nomination petitions or local committee nominations is 5 p.m. April 11. Nomination materials, including biographical information, must be filed with the Public Information Department.

A five-member city-wide citizens review panel, appointed this month by the school board, will spend April and May compiling a list of qualified candidates from among the adult petitions and local committee nominations before making recommendations to the school board.

Blueberry Crunch Cake

Here's a dandy item to make ahead, all ready to meet the breakfast rush. The usual doughnut and coffee routine stops those hunger pangs for the moment but leaves you feeling starved again two hours later. Blueberry Crunch Coffee Cake contains extra protein of eggs and yogurt and a big plus in vitamins and minerals, too! Definitely a "better breakfast" item!

- BLUEBERRY CRUNCH COFFEE CAKE
8 to 10 servings
1/2 cup all-purpose flour
1/4 cup firmly packed brown sugar
1/4 cup firm butter
1 package (20 oz.) yellow pudding-type cake mix
5 eggs
1 carton (8 oz.) plain yogurt
2 cups fresh or frozen (thawed) blueberries

Quickly put together from a cake mix, the addition of yogurt, eggs and blueberries results in a special moistness and a unique flavor which takes it out of the realm of ordinary coffee cake.

In small bowl combine flour, sugar and butter until crumbly. Set aside. In large mixing bowl, combine cake mix, eggs and yogurt. Beat at medium speed for 3 minutes. Gently fold in berries. Pour into well-greased 13 X 9 X 2-inch pan. Sprinkle top with butter/sugar/flour mixture. Bake in preheated 350° F. oven for 35 to 40 minutes, or until cake springs back when touched lightly with a finger. Cool about 10 minutes before serving.

If you can keep it hidden after school and safe from midnight crackers you just might have enough left for tomorrow's breakfast, too.

Prices good Wed., March 12 thru Tues., March 18 at Safeway in Portland.
