

Careers for the 1980s

It is no secret that the United States is headed into a recession and that young people can look forward to "Twin evils" -- inflation and unemployment. Now, more than ever before, young people should prepare for "inflation proof careers." According to a study by the Black Collegian, inflation proof careers include: Bank officers and managers, data processing, engineering and physical sciences, life and biological sciences, medical, and accounting.

Dr. Kalpana H. Rajder, a medical doctor, waits for her next patient at the Reynolds Medical Clinic.

Rita Redeau is a trainee with the Oregon State Highway Department. Above she works at the Union Avenue construction site.

If you're looking for a career in the food industry, look to your friendly neighbors at Safeway.

Call Safeway Employment Department...657-6400 or apply at the nearest State Employment Office.

SAFEWAY

SAFEWAY STORES, INCORPORATED
"An Equal Opportunity Employer"