

Sports Talk

By Ron Sykes
Sports Editor

In a bold, but not surprising move, Mayor Ivancie seized control of the important and controversial police department and with that move, demoted Commissioner Charles Jordan to the head of the Parks Bureau. Ivancie will now become the quarterback and Jordan the water boy, which further shows us how closely politics and sports are related.

In the sport world, it's o.k. for Blacks to play minor roles and the trouble never starts until you're placed in a leadership position. Commissioner Jordan was leading a major department, and he is a Black man and in these times the two never go hand-in-hand. I respect Commissioner Jordan for being a man, however, the same cannot be said for our Mayor.

Mayor Ivancie could very well take a few lessons from University of Oregon Coach Rich Brooks, who is a man.

When coach Brooks' program came under fire, and as his players were charged with violations; instead of panicking and succumbing to pressure put on by the press and outside pressure groups to dismiss certain players, Coach Brooks stood erect in the pocket, never yielded, told his players that he was behind them and had the utmost confidence in them. And believe me that does mean something. Ivancie never backed his quarterback and that means something.

Speaking at Jefferson High School commencement exercises Monday night, Commissioner Jordan said, "I wish I could tell you that you'll be judged strictly on your merits, but I can't. I wish I could tell you," he said, "that you won't be judged by the color of your skin, but I can't." I wish I could tell my readers that Jordan didn't lose the Police Department for the above reasons but I can't.

Cleo-Lillian Social Club is rapidly becoming the billiard capitol of the Rose City. Last Sunday's doubles tournament attracted the top male players in the City. Eighteen teams began play Saturday at 5:00 p.m., and the winners were crowned

Monday morning at 1:30 A.M. Chile Baines and Sandy took top honors by eliminating Ted Hampton and Ray, 2-0 in the finals. Chile Baines showed up with probably the finest female player in the City.

There were many action packed match-ups but the best came off in the fourth round when Kenny Mitchell and Willie Jordan took on the eventual winners. Mitchell thrilled the audience with three spectacular shots, but the pair of Chili and Sandy were too much.

Jordan lost his shooting eye after the second round putting a tremendous load on the shoulders of Mitchell. After defeating Mitchell and Jordan, the champs completely blizzed the rest of the field.

Andre Petett, sophomore at Jesuit High School, won last week's Junior Rose Festival Tennis Tournament. Petett, the first Black ever to win the tourney, is also the first Black student to play on the prestigious Jesuit varsity tennis squad.

Andre captured the 15-16 boys title. He is the son of Marion and Freddy Petett.

NBA Draft:

OSU's Steve Johnson is expected to go anywhere between the 4th and 5th selection in the first round. Teammates Mark Radford and Ray Blume will be early second round picks.

Crucial remark of the week: "When it was recently announced that University of Illinois would be barred from all post season play for two years, it is reported the Buckeyes and Wolverines said it was the first time that they realized that the Illini had been eligible all these years." Nasty!

Keith Jackson, the ABC-TV commentator says academics should come before sports. "If the Ivy League wanted to compete on a major level," he said, "It would dominate college sports in less than 10 years. The reason? Those schools have solid academic bases and the alumni support to do it."

CITY OF PORTLAND REQUEST FOR PROPOSALS

Bids due 5:00 P.M. June 17

The City of Portland, Bureau of Planning, invites proposals from consultants for data collection and analysis in conjunction with a Commercial District/Air Quality Project. The Project will test whether auto trips, and consequently air pollutants, can be reduced by providing convenience goods and services in existing neighborhood commercial districts.

For this phase of the Project, the consultant will develop information on the needs of neighborhood residents and merchants in five preselected target areas in Portland. The consultant is requested to perform the following two tasks:

1) Design and administer a "needs survey" for each of the five target areas, obtaining specific information about the neighborhood residents, the business district, and the store clientele, and

2) Analyze the specific factors in each target area which will contribute to increased use of each neighborhood commercial district by pedestrians, bicyclists, and one-stop shoppers.

Completion of these tasks will provide the City of Portland with the information necessary for finishing its part of the Commercial District/Air Quality Project.

No bid exceeding $22,500 will be considered. The consultant is expected to begin work on or before July 1, 1981, and to complete the work within three months.

The consultant must be able to demonstrate compliance with the Equal Employment Opportunity Affirmative Action employer requirements of Chapter 3.100 of the Portland City Code. Details on certification requirements can be obtained from the Contract Compliance Division, Room 209 City Hall, 1220 SW 5th Avenue, Portland, (503) 248-4696.

This agreement is also subject to the regulations of the U.S. Department of Transportation relative to non-discrimination in Federally-assisted programs (Title 49, Code of Federal Regulations, Part 21).

Proposals may be judged solely on the written material submitted. Therefore, each proposal should be submitted on the most favorable technical and monetary terms that can be afforded to the City.
