

OBSERVATIONS

FROM THE SIDELINES
By Kathryn Hall Begle

A new arrival in town is Miss Morgan Elizabeth Jones. She is petite, adorable and young with measurements like "under 10 lbs.," and about 19" tall. Morgan is the first-born child of Cherie and Nick Jones and she arrived on June 18. Mother and father are ecstatic. Father assisted with her delivery and will admit that mother did her part for the occasion. Place of birthing was at a modern family-style maternity hospital in Forest Grove.

Kathleen Gaskins of New York City returned to Portland for a visit with her parents, Hattie and Harold Gaskins. She will be here for a fortnight and will go back to the east to "Capezio," a Greenwich Village boutique where she is buyer and manager of the dance-costume department. Kathleen is perfecting her own design of leotards to market soon.

The Gaskins were guests this past Sunday at a 25th wedding anniversary party when Gerald and Marlene Fuller marked the time of their marriage vows exchanged those silver years ago. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fuller of San Francisco came up for the festivities as did Lloyd Gaskins from the Bay area.

Meanwhile up in Seattle, Leonard and Emma Gayton, on the same day as the Fullers, were celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary. The party, held for them by their four children, Thomas, Peter, Leonard Jr., and Marilyn, was attended by numerous friends and well wishers. Among the out-of-town guests was Nellie Allen Beaty, a native Portlander now living in El Cerrito.

Mrs. Beaty stopped in Portland to visit with friends on her way to Seattle and was entertained here by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Metellus, and by Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Gaskin.

Carla D. Gary, combing business and pleasure, is here for the summer months to work at the office of Rose City Rate Payers as a law clerk while she visits family and friends in her off hours.

Carla is enrolled in the law school of the University of Iowa in Iowa City. She is changing careers at this period of her young life and feels she has always had a taste for the practice of law. She especially wants to be a trial lawyer. This summer internship with the National Lawyers Guild provides Carla with close contact with a case being prepared against some practices by the big power companies. The position requires her to be on hand at many sessions of the Oregon State Legislature and its proceedings pertaining to nuclear power and other energy sources.

Carla, a University of Oregon graduate, has worked for several years in the academic atmosphere and last year returned to Eugene to acquire a teaching certificate for this state. Carla is the daughter of Bobbi Gary and Frederick Gary.

Barbara Ann Bradford Lawson of Pensacola, Florida brought her young son Christopher to visit a family gathering that can boast of five living generations. Marie Reard Smith, a long time civic and inter-racial worker of this City, is the 82 year old matriach of this family. Mrs. Smith's daughter, Rosadelle Smith Parker, a retired social worker of the Oregon State Childrens Services Division, is next eldest in line.

Rosadelle's daughter, Marie Parker Bradford Wood of this City, is mother to Barbara Ann Bradford Lawson of Pensacola, and there you have it. Five generations.

MICHAEL JORDAN

The newly elected prime minister of the Portland Royal Rosarians, Thomas A. McDonald, promptly appointed Royal Rosarian Michael G. Jordan to be the royal Chaplain for the year of 1981 and 1982. The Rosarians are a year-around working group promoting the Portland Rose Festival and the City of Portland.

Rock Creek Country Club was the setting for the inaugural NBA Players Golf Classic last Friday and Saturday. Many basketball stars and a few local celebrities lent fun and glamour to fund raising for the benefit of the hearing and Speech League.

Participating in the tournament were Steve Johnson, Mychal Thompson, Billy Ray Bates, Lionel Hollins, Otis Birdsong and Maurice Lucas and many, many others.

Maurice, and his wife Rita, are the parents of a new baby boy, now about six weeks old. He is Maurice Durand Lucas II, naturally. Rita Lucas and Maurice have taken occupancy of a house (they love Portland) here for the summer.

Rita will have her hands full with their son and with classwork on the campus of Lewis and Clark College where she is enrolled in law school. Rita already has an advanced degree in Public Business Administration from Harvard, but wants to be an attorney too.

After the tournament was over Maurice headed for Hawaii to fulfill an engagement made for him by Nike Athletic Shoes whose products he promotes.

In Hawaii for a ten day vacation is Peter Gayton, eligible bachelor in Portland town, who is well known in radio advertising circles. Peter expects to concentrate his attention on the beauties of Maui.

Ronald and Lynn Morrison came up from Los Angeles to visit Ron's parents, Earl and Maggie Morrison, for a few days and they persuaded Earl to return with them to the Angel City. Earl reports a great visit with old and new friends there but scurried back home to attend to his roses.

Tall, beautiful, size 8 Carol Jones, married to Steve Jones, is popping around the country showing off 85 beautiful garments. Her wardrobe is made up of samples of the fall and winter line of couturier Albert Nipon for whom she is a traveling representative. She shows these garments to exclusive shops such as Helens-of-course and similar. On the southern "swing" she will model and be commentator at in-store showings in Atlanta and on over to the east coast where Neiman Marcus is established before returning to her home in Portland and husband Steve.

Al Goldsby's metal sculpture and his prints are showing to enthusiastic throngs down at the Sandpiper Gallery in Cannon Beach.

Gallery hours are from 1:00 p.m. to 6:00 p.m., through July 6.

REVEALING ROYALTY -- Contemporary American artists Carl Owens, above, and Roy LaGrone unveiled their original paintings of African leaders for the Budweiser "Great Kings of Africa" series during the recent Opportunitiee Center of American Convention in Phoenix. Owen's painting depicts the region of Khama, the Good King of Bechueland (now Botswana) from 1838-1823 while LaGrone's handiwork illustrates the rule of Shema Bolongongo, African King of Peace in the Congo from 1800-1820. The new paintings will join the existing collection of 12 original paintings in the "Great Kings of Africa" series, an educational exhibit which travels around the country.
