

The March on Washington

He called and they came . . .

they came
on foot
by plane,
by train,
by bus,
and roller skates

Whitney Young, Martin Luther King, Abe Fortas, A. Philip Randolph, President John Kennedy, Walter Reuther, Vice-President Johnson, and Roy Williams discuss needed civil rights legislation.

The Portland Public School District is honored to join in the celebration of the life of Martin Luther King. This city's school system takes this opportunity to reaffirm its dedication to provision of equal opportunity education and to affirmative action employment practices. Dr. King's inspirational leadership is taught in our schools as a vital part of this country's developing heritage.

The Portland Public School Board moved unanimously in 1968 to change the name of Highland Elementary School to Martin Luther King Elementary School out of respect for the memory of Dr. King.
(Photo: Richard J. Brown)

