

HE MADE A DIFFERENCE.

Portland's black physician, Dr. De Norval Unthank, didn't consider himself a civil rights leader, but his tireless service to the community helped remove many racial barriers.

In 1958 Dr. Unthank was named "Doctor of the Year" by the Oregon Medical Association. He co-founded the Portland Urban League and was named "Citizen of the Year" by the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

On behalf of our community,
KOIN-TV thanks
Dr. Unthank.
