

There must be a God somewhere

"Activities which have taken place in Birmingham over the past five days, to my mind, mark the nonviolent movement's coming of age. This is the first time in the history of our struggle that we have been able, literally, to fill the jails."
—Martin Luther King, May 8, 1963

There are some things in Life worth remembering always

The Hopes and Dream Live On...

In Memory of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.
from Portland Bottling Company

Bottlers of:

