AN OPEN LETTER TO OREGON'S 1984 HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES

... AND THEIR FRIENDS

This spring many of you will receive the high school diploma that you have waited for so long. Congratulations! We're proud of you.

But before you begin the excitement and activities of graduation week and the summer ahead, please take just a moment to think about some people -- some who may have been your friends, brothers or sisters -- who didn't make it to this important day. Or maybe some who made it to graduation but have been stopped short of further achievement because of the heartbreaking tragedy of a traffic accident.

The month of May has long been the starting line for a race with death and injury on our highways for young people. Graduation has traditionally been the starting gun. As June, July and August come and go, the highest monthly totals of the year occur. We hope that you can set a new, less tragic mark for future graduating classes.

You see, traffic accidents are a particular problem for people your age. The life expectancy of every age group in the U.S. has increased during the past 75 years except one -- teenagers whose death rate is higher today than 20 years ago mainly due to auto crashes. About 9,000 American teens are killed every year in traffic accidents. But, let's bring that a little closer to home...of the 518 persons who died on Oregon highways in 1982, 89 of those were age 15 through 19; 6,794 in that age group were injured.

You and your friends need not become one of those statistics. The formula for survival is so simple:

- * Obey all traffic laws and drive within the posted speed -- a traffic violation is just an accident that didn't happen.
- * Buckle up your seat belt every trip and make sure all passengers do the same -- sure, seat belts may be uncomfortable at times, not macho and wrinkle your clothes; but the alternative may be two weeks in the hospital or crutches for six months, a seriously maimed friend facing years of plastic surgery or, even worse, death.
- * Avoid drinking and driving -- use the "designated driver concept" and make a deal that someone in your group won't drink and will drive the others.
- * Drive defensively -- most accidents are caused by driver error and are preventable.

As you celebrate this great time in your lives, please keep in mind the survival formula recommended by the Oregon Highway Users Conference and Western Insurance Information Service. We're many businesses and associations who work together for safe, efficient highway transportation. But, we are also parents, brothers, sisters, friends and neighbors of yours who care about you and want you around for a while.

Have a great graduation and vacation! And please - BE CAREFUL OUT THERE; TAKE CARE OF ONE ANOTHER.
