Nigeria Is 24

Join the Nigeria Student Union in Portland, Oregon, to celebrate our country's 24th Independence Anniversary on Saturday, October 6, 1984 in Portland State University's Smith Center Ballroom. The program will begin promptly at 6:00 p.m. until 11:00 p.m. and include speeches on economic development in Nigeria, culture dances, folk songs, drama and exotic Nigerian favorite dishes. For more information, call Ezissi Ezissi at 244-8116 or Charles Odimgbe at 238-4556.

AUDITIONS

Auditions will be held Tuesday, October 9, 1984, at Matt Dishman Community Center (77 N.E. Knott) beginning at 6 p.m. for RAPP GROUPS, BREAKDANCE GROUPS AND POPLOCK GROUPS INTERESTED IN PERFORMING ON November 2, 1984 at the "Throwdown 84" which will be held at the Starry Night (N.W. 6th and Burnside).

Throwdown will be an all age dance and show and will feature three R&B funk bands, three rapp groups, three breakdance groups and three poplock groups. Auditions will be held one day only — October 9, 1984.

If you have a group interested in performing, call Joe (Bean) Keller at 283-2486 Monday through Friday between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. or 232-9871 eve or weekends, or Matt Dishman, 282-1460 to schedule an audition.

Only three groups in each category will be chosen to perform. Groups only.

Album Hits Local Market

Under the direction of Guitarist, Vocalist and all-around sport Jan Cent the Esquire (an 8-piece R&B Band) has completed and released a new album under the title "Whatcha Got?" The Esquires began in 1979 and since then have continued to strive for excellence in not only performance but recording as well. Their newly released album "Whatcha Got" is on sale now in local record stores.

Sandra Simmons will be making her theatrical debut in "Tintypes" (the new revue about America's past). Although she has been singing professionally for several years, including recent appearances with Calvin Walker Band and Quarterflash, she had been studying music and dance in Los Angeles and is currently continuing her theater education in Portland. "Tintypes" will be opening on Oct. 19th and will run every Friday and Saturday at 8 p.m. through November 18 with a Sunday matinee beginning at 2 p.m. at the East Side Performance Center (S.E. 14th and Stark).
