ROBERT CRAY

Robert Cray movin' up

Robert Cray is rising to the top faster than his Portland audience had expected. Robert Cray plays a classy brand of contemporary blues and has received international recognition. His tour included a well-received performance at Montreux Jazz Festival in Switzerland. Cray will be performing Friday and Saturday, November 2 and 3 at the Key Largo. Show time is 9:00 p.m.

Catch Street Music Band

Moving on the road to success, this band proves it can be done. The Street Music Band is becoming one of the strongest and most dominate bands coming out of the Portland area. Being a crossover top 40 band along with providing fine Jazz, the band has been recognized by many. You can have a chance to hear the Street Music Band on November 2nd along with many other artistic groups at the ThrowDown '84 to be held at the Starry Night.

Live Music is what you will find just about every night at the all-new Royal Esquire Club located on N.E. 17th and Alberta. On Saturday, November 3rd, the Arkansas Club will be having a dance there and will feature the Street Music Band. Every Sunday from 5:00 til 9:00, there is an open Jazz Jam Session.

All musicians and music lovers are invited to attend. No cover charge. Cocktails will be served.

Motown Review Returns

Two of Motown's legends return to Portland for two shows. The Temptations and the Four Tops will be performing on stage together at the Starry Night on Friday, November 30th. Showtimes are 7:00 p.m. and 11:00 p.m. and tickets are $20. Read next week's Portland Observer for details.
